Drummond & Brown received the following today over their private wire from W. G. McCormick & Co., Chicago: The wheat market has been active and very weak. All advices agree the condition of winter wheat is nearly perfect in every state and that with present favorable weather the spring wheat will go into the ground in the most favorable manner. Everything points to the largest crop of wheat that this country has ever raised, and to sustain an advance it is necessary to have constant strong advices from abroad. These failed to materialize. This morning, on the contrary, cables quoted foreign markets depressed and wheat and flour almost unsaleable. The result has been heavy selling by the longs and energetic pounding by the bears, who have once more acquired a little nerve. Having made a little money during the past few days, these bears are likely to be heard from in the market during the coming week. Receipts in the Northwest were very large, as indeed they were not half so large as they have been recently. The close of the market is at bottom prices with every indication of a lower opening on Monday. Primes reported that the favorable weather of the last ten days had practically completed the planting of oats, which have gone into the ground under the most favorable conditions. He also reported that soring work was well advanced and that the ground was rapidly being gotten into shape for corn planting. The result of these conditions was a general unloading of both corn and oats, which broke rapidly being gotten into shape for corn planting. TORONTO.

The following despatch was received by John J.
Dixon& Co., Canada Life Assurance Building, over their private wire from Henry Allen & Co. of New York: To-day's stock market was helped along by an unexpectedly large increase in the bank reserve of over two and a half million in dollars. An increase of over five millions in toons, however, afforded an interesting topic.
This large increase, coming at a time when Walliss street's money requirements are on the increase, is rather mystifying. Bankers declare, though, that to-day's statement shows a very much improved condition of things. Receipts of currency are unexpectedly large, and the fact that they have overcome the gold shipments is encouraging everybody in looking for a continunance of the boom next week and commission
