

[15s. sent by Mail]

ENGLISH NIGGERS.

her earliest and most flattering visitors, or that the intimacy that was so eagerly sought and the attentions that were so profusely bestowed, were gently but decidedly refused; for Mr. Leslie could not forgive, nor even sweet, gentle Mrs. Leslie, quite forget, charitable as she was disposed to be in her proud and perfect happiness, the slight and insult offered to "the governess."

ENGLISH NIGGERS.
[Sam Slick in one of his Chapters of the Attache, thus speaks of the wretched condition of the English Manufacturer, and the manner in which he is imposed upon by designing demagogues.]

Now as to the manufacturing slave, let's look at the poor devil, for I pity him, and I despise and hate his double-faced but heartily radical, villainous, low-bred tyrant, of a master, and do a rattlesnake. Oh! he is different from all the serfdoms in England— all other serfdoms are well off—most too well off, anyhow—for they are pampered. But these poor devils! oh! their lot is a hard one—worse from the Corn laws, as their Radical employers tell 'em—not because they have not universal suffrage, as demagogues teel 'em—not because there are Bishops who wear lawn sleeves instead of cotton ones, or the Dissenters tell 'em—but because there is a law of God violated in their case. The hawk, the shark, and the tiger, the bird, the fish, and the beast, even the reason' brute, man, each and each, nurture, and protect, those they spawn, hatch, or breed. It's a law of God, written in the rocks. (Col. 3:23)

...written in the works of God. They have in instinct, and find it in reason, and necessity and affection, are its roots and foundation. The manufacturer obeys no instinct —won't listen to no reason—don't see no necessity—and hasn't got no affections. He balls together the poor and gives them artificial powers—adapts them for all other pursuits—works them to their utmost—takes all the profits of their labour, and when is too rich and too proud to progress, or when bad legislation has raised him beyond the reach of the law, he is then sold to the auctioneer of the State, and is sold to the lowest bidder.

...and their country, to provide for

But that and all neither, he first sots them aginst the House of God and his Ministers, the only Church too, in the whole world, that is the Church of the Poor—the Church of England, the first duty of which, is to pay.

the for the instruction of the poor at the expense of the rich,) and then he sets them to the farmer, who at last has to feed and provide for them in the day of trouble — What a horrid system! he first starves their bodies, and then he poisons their minds—he him them body and soul. Guess, I needn't tell you what this gony is?—he is a Liberal, he is rich, and hates those who are poor—he is proud, and hates those of inferior station. His ideas are beyond his rank: his education and breeding is to

With that of the aristocracy. He ain't satisfied with his superiors, he is dissatisfied with theirs because he can't come it. He is ashamed to own this, the real motive, he therefore, lies in principle to his aid. He is then,

"Then comes to his aid, for figures of speech, the bread of the poor—the starv'n man's loaf, the widow's mite, the orphan's lowers wages. If he lowers wages he reduces his annual outlay, the poor is made poorer, but the unfortunate wretch is too ignorant to know this, he is made richer himself.

And he is wide awake. It won't do to all this, so he ups with his speakin' from and hails principle agin to convoy him. is an Anti Corn Law leaguer on princi-he is agin agricultural monopoly. The ective system, the landed genry. He is friend of the poor. What a super-superior man he is!—he first cheats and then mocks the poor, and just ups and asks the blessings of God on his enterprise, by the aid of fanati-cious, and seditious strollin' preachers. Did you ever hear the like of that?

THE COMIC BLACKSTONE.
OF TITLE BY ALIENATION Alienation is the transfer of property from,

to another, process in which the law rights; "For it is hard," says Coke, "if lawyers do not get a chance of catching sister while it is being passed away from shell to the other."

and if it is found to imitate the signature of A. Rowland & Son, it would seem the dealers in spurious Macassar cannot use their property. A felon may however, excuse anything he pleases, because if he shall purchase the crown will grab, at his hands upon.) to the claim of the sovereign, who may on the instant whatever may have been lost by the alien, &c.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page is bound into a dark, possibly black or dark brown, binding material. There is no text or other markings on the page.

_____

Original issues in Poor Condition Best copy available