final examination for Call to the Bar, but not in connection with the final examination for admission as Solicitor. In order to be entitled to present themselves for an examination for Honors candidates must obtain at least three-fourths of the whole number of marks obtainable on the papers, and one-third the marks obtainable on the paper on each subject, at the Pass examination. In order to be passed with Honors, candidates must obtain at least three-fourths of the aggregate marks obtainable on the papers in both the Pass and Honor examinations, and at least one-half of the aggregate marks obtainable on the papers in each subject on both examinations.

The scholarships offered at the Law School examinations are the following: Of the candidates passed with Honors at each of the intermediate examinations the first shall be entitled to a scholarship of $100, the second to a scholarship of $60, and the next five to a scholarship of $40 each, and each scholar shall receive a diploma certifying to the fact. The medals offered at the final examinations of the Law School are the following: Of the persons called with Honors the first three shall be entitled to medals on the following conditions: The First: If he has passed both intermediate examinations with Honors, to a gold medal, otherwise to a silver medal. The Second: If he has passed both intermediate examinations with Honors, to a silver medal, otherwise to a bronze medal. The Third: If he has passed both intermediate examinations with Honors, to a bronze medal. The diploma of each medallist shall certify to his being such medallist. The latest edition of the Curriculum contains all the Rules of the Law Society which are of importance to students, together with the necessary forms, as well as the Statutes respecting Barristers and Solicitors, the Matriculation Curriculum, and all other necessary information. Students can obtain copies on application to the Secretary of the Law Society or the Principal of the Law School.

Book Reviews.

THE LIVING AGE, for all its fifty-three years of life, was never fresher, more vigorous or more valuable than now. Timely and able articles on the leading questions of the day, papers of interest and value, biographical, historical and scientific, are always to be found within its pages. The following partial contents of recent issues will give a slight idea of its world-wide scope and variety: "Some Changes in Social Life during the Queen's Reign," by Sir Algernon West; "The Apotheosis of the Novel under Queen Victoria," by Herbert Paul; "'The Integrity of the Ottoman Empire' as a Diplomatic Formula," by Wemyss Reid and J. Guinness Rogers. "Among the Liars" is the title given to an account of a visit paid to Crete a couple of years ago, and is of interest at this time when the name has become so familiar. "Russia on the Bosphorus" is of more than ordinary interest, emanating, as it does, from the pen of an English naval officer, Capt. J. W. Gambier, R.N. Some good short stories and equally good poetry, etc., vindicate the claim of its publishers that The Living Age is a reflection of the world's best thought and literature. Published at $6.00 a year by THE LIVING AGE CO., Boston.
