counsel or attorney, or of want of form in the pleadings, unless where he stands on the defensive, and the attack on his client is notoriously injurious. He ought not to mislead nor impose on the court, if in his power, nor prolong the cause, nor enhance the costs, though at the expense of his adversary; nor appeal from a decision, unless he is persuaded in his conscience, and advised by his counsel, that (what may sometimes happen through the fallibility, of all human judicature) the determination is erroneous of all human judicature) the determination is erroneous in point of substantial justice. In all other cases as soon as judgment is given, or the decree pronounced, he should persuade his client to ac-quiesce; nay, if while the suit is depending, he receives conviction that his client's demand or defence is ill-founded he should advise him to dono the encirculation. founded, he should advise him to drop the suit and agree with his adversary; and if such adversary be poor, on has been injured by having his just right withheld or impeached, to make him ample reparation. Should the decision be in favour of his client, but appear to be hard though just sentence, he ought not to encourage him to take the utmost advantage of the rigor or power of the law, while equity or poverty call for compassion or abatement. In criminal cases he should act with spirit and resolution against hardened and daring offenders and resolution against informations not to injure nor oppress, and much more so not to add insult to severity. Process of law is often slow, in order to preserve the unwary or unskilful from being surprised, and to afford the fairer opportunity of bringing truth to light, but delays should never be indulged in where a decision can be speedily obtained without derogating from justice. In giving advice on mortgages or purchases, or in any mone transactions, an attorney should discourage every undu-advantage of the ignorant, unwary, or necessitous. When When the debtor is insolvent, the attorney should promote equality in payment. Where a debtor is unfortunate, the attorney should dispose the creditors to show favor and compassion. Where the debtor shows himself to have been a designing villain, the attorney should shun all sary connection and communication with him. In settlements and other family transactione, secresy is more especially requisite. Great attention should be had in disposing of estates by wills, so that no creditor may remain for any length of time unsatisfied, and that peace and harmony may be preserved among the children and relatives of the testator. Care should be taken at all times, and especially when the testator's faculties are in any wise impaired, to procure witnesses of undoubted reputation to the execution of the will. There are other matters within the scope of an attor-

the community; the ornament and not the bane of society; the proceeds arising from these improvident sales in a great the faithful guardians of the laws of their country, and best supporters of our courts of justice. That there are many excellent attorneys I am able to testify, but that there are others of a very different stamp, I am reluc-tratk beam discussed and the inhabitants tantly bound to admit. It will always be my care, however, to support the upright, and uproot the bad, and thus ving from the proceeds of these reserved lands a revenue at all we live into salutary operation.

TO THE HONOURABLE H. SHERWOOD, M.P.P., MAYOR OF TORONTO.

Sir,-I lose no time in offering to you my respectful apology, for my want of vigilance, before venturing upon the communication I lately took the liberty of making,

PARISH OF GRIMSBY.

Rev. Geo. R. F. Grout, Incumbent. Divine Service is regularly performed in St. Andrew's Church, Grimsby, at 11 o'clock, A.M., and, during this summer, an evening corrife to be the state. service has been held, which has been very well attended In the adjoining Townships of Clinton and Saltfleet, the evening service of the Church has been performed alternately, at 3, p.M., where respectable and well conducted congregations attend. During the past year an organ of sufficient power for the Church, and of a remarkably sweet tone, has been erected, which adds most effectively to the proper performance of that beautiful part of the service of the sanctuary, "singing and making melody in the heart to the Lord In the month of June, the Lord Bishop administered the holy rite of Confirmation in this parish, agreeably to the Apostolic practice; for, to use the words of the judi-cious Hooker, "the ancient custom of the Church was, after they had baptized, to add thereunto imposition of hands, with effectual prayer for the illumination of God's most holy spirit, to confirm and perfect that which the grace of the same spirit had already begun in baptism." On this occasion sixty-two persons gladly availed them-selves of the privilege of Confirmation, as of "an ordi-nance Apostolic, always profitable in God's Church." After the "imposition of hands," the Bishop delivered a most excellent and impressive discourse to the candi-detter. He then proceeded to the consecution of the 7 16 0

He then proceeded to the consecration of the burial-ground; and, at the conclusion of that ceremony, was pleased to offer some pertinent and affecting remarks in regard to the respect which ought to be paid to those places solemnly set apart for the burial of the dead, and to the care which ought to be exercised towards having them properly enclosed and kept in decent order. 5 0 0
