WORSE THAN EVER!

The failures in New York last month amounted to $4,700,000 liabilities. The number of failures are larger than any month this year. So says the Herald this morning. New York and Montreal can beat the world in failures. They are the two Head-Centres for Mercantile Agency men.

Will subscribers to the Misreporting Agencies deny that they expect a good rate on their money, which surcly means a false one?

To the Editor TRUE WITNESS. Sunday, the 7th inst., will be long remembered in Erinsville. The inhabitants of, this parish had the unusual happiness of witnessing the very in-teresting ceremony of the ordination of a priest. teresting ceremony of the ordination of a priest. His Lordship Bishop O'Brien conferred the order of priesthood on a young gentleman named T. F. Fitzpatrick, and the order of Deaconship on two young men of Kingston, named G. A. Cicolari and Thos. Kelly. The occasion drew together a con-siderable number of parishioners. Among the priests present were the Very Rev. Vicar-General Farrelly, of Belleville; the Rev. Dr. Chisholm, of Perth; the Rev. Thos. Davis, of Hungerford; the Rev. P. Twohy, of Kingston, who acted as Master of Cere-Twohy, of Kingston, who acted as Master of Cere-monies, and Father Donahoe, the worthy Parish priest of Erinsville.

It was at the carnest request of the parish priest that His Lordship consented to perform the cere-mony in this place. The people of the parish are in no small degree indebted to their pastor for the opportunity of being present at a ceremony to them so unusual.

The Diocese of Kingston has had to mourn the loss by death of several older and worthy priests. It is however consoling and a matter of congratulation, that rising and promising young men are filling the places made vacant by death.

After Mass the Rev. Dr. Chisholm preached a sermon, of more than three quarters of an hour's duration, which was well delivered and listened to with marked attention. It was pronounced by His Lordship, and by the priests and others as very in-structive, and in all respects excellent.

It is not my purpose to give a report of his eloquent sermon. I shall give but a bare outline. He took for his text the words, "Thou art a priest forever according to the order of Melchiseder.--Ps. 109 : V. 4.

He began by saying that the interesting cere-mony witnessed by the andience, conveyed to the minds of all present, that the young men receiving orders had given up all worldly pursuits and had dedicated themselves to the service of God in His Church for the salvation of souls. He then pointed out the necessity of the priesthood.

Christ adopted the system of oral teaching as the means of instructing people in the knowledge of his Gospel. He selected twelve apostles whom he commissioned to teach all nations. It was not by reading a book which each individual might in-terpret as he pleased that a knowledge of religion was to be obtained, for Christ himself taugh orally, his apostles taught orally. In adopting the system of oral instruction, he adopted the simplest, the easiest and the most efficacious means adapted to the capacity of all classes. It was through this system that nations were converted to Christianity. It is the system which has been in use in all ages of the Church. It is the system which has been adopted at all times, in all places, in imparting secular and religious knowledge. Even at this day when so many can read, and when books are so plentifully multiplied, oral teaching is considered the easiest and most efficacious means of imparting and receiving instruction. The Medical student and the student at law, for instance, although they can read books, are instructed in their professions by the oral teachings of their respective professions. This proves that the Catholic system of imparting a knowledge of religion is the only true and efficacious one.

As Christ's Gospel was to be preached at all times to all future generations, it was necessary that at all times men should be chosen to continue the work first intrusted to the apostles. Hence the meaning of the ceremony of this day. Speaking of the Sacrifice of the Mass, and of the power of forgiving sins, he said they were two of the most important functions which give an exalted idea of the Priesthood. In offering the Sacrifice of the Mass, the priest performs for himself and his fellow-men the most sublime act of his Maker. In exercising the power of forgiving sins he reconciles the repentant sinner to his God, and restores him to his friendship. Well might Catholics say in the words of the scripture-they give glory to God that gave such power to men.

The pious and zealous priest who performs the various duties of the sacred office gains the good will and affection of his people. It is no wonde

BRIDGET'S ASYLUM BAZAAR, QUERC.—Owing, no doubt to the unfavorable condition of the weather, the attendauce at the bazaar in the Music Hall, in aid of the St. Bridget's Asylum, has not been very large. We are convinced that those who do not visit the fancy fair will miss the inspection of a most attractive collection and costly and beautiful atticles. The ladies who have contributed to the tables must have labored very industriously to pro- duce so many valuable articles as meet the cys in every direction. Fancy Turkish chairs, handsomely worked ottomans and footstools, sofa cushions and other woolwork, are certainly most dazzling. A beautiful set of vestments, worked by the Sisters of Charity, are to be given as a present to the Revd. Father for whom the largest number of votrs will be cast. Two well-executed statues of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph, and a small pigeon-hole table, are to be raffled, as well as many other of the most valuable articles. The shooting gallery proves a great source of amusement to many visitors, and the young people also seem to take a vast amount of interest in the Post Office.
