The
Cleveland

AMERICA'S BEST BICYCLE:

"The Lozier makes but one quality of cycle, and that is intended to be superlative. I never before saw in any workshop such constant scrutiny of both methods and work produced as that given to matters in the Lozier shops. The result is, of course, high-class work, and also, of course, very high-cost production. The gauge limit is small all through the departments of the Lozier, and only those thoroughly familiar with the production of interchangeable work know the enormous cost increase which is entailed by a seemingly slight and unimportant decrease of the limit of variation" ❖ ❖ ❖ ❖ ❖ ❖ ❖
