AFTER a summer holiday of two months the different Sunday-schools of the Church will reopen on the first Sunday in September.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, Britannia, has been served during the summer by the city clergy, acting for the incumbent, Rev. W. H. Green, of Hintonburg. The summer visitors turn out in goodly numbers.

MEMBERS of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Ottawa are already discussing the coming Canadian convention to be held in Montreal, October 8 to 11. No doubt a large delegation from Ottawa will be present.

REV. RURAL DEAN POLLARD and Mrs. Pollard spent the month of August at Murray Bay, Que. Rev. J. F. Gorman and Mrs. Gorman have been recruiting at Old Orchard Beach, and are both much improved in health.

THE congregations of the city are still small, owing to the absence of so many people from town and the extreme heat. Each Sunday now shows an improvement. During July and August in some of the churches the sermon is omitted at Evensong.

DURING the past six weeks a Sunday service has been given to summer residents at Kingsmere by the Rev. Mr. Troop (of St. Martin's, Montreal), who has been spending his holidays at this lovely little lake of the mountains. He has generally had a congregation of fifty.

THE Sisters' school at the corner of Kent and McLaren streets will reopen on the 8th September. Fraulein Jahn will continue to be associated with the Sisters as teacher in this school, and one of the teachers lately sent from England will take charge of the infants' class.

THE Ven. Archdeacon Lauder and the Rev. Rural Dean Bogert, of St. Alban's, are two of the clerical delegates to the General Synod from the Diocese of Ottawa. It is not improbable that both will, at the close of the Synod, continue their journey to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Bogert has been chosen as special correspondent of the Church Times.

PARLIAMENT having opened, we have amongst our congregations many new faces in addition to some of our old friends. The final settling down of the members of the Cabinet and other government officials as citizens of Ottawa will be more welcome, owing to the fact that amongst them are many loyal and staunch members of the Church.

ST. MARGARET'S CHURCH, Janeville, which up to the present time has been attached to the parish of New Edinburgh, has recently, with several outstations, been raised to the dignity of a separate mission. The Bishop has appointed to take charge the Rev. W. Y. Daykin, LL.B., at one time archdeacon of the Church in South Africa, and late of the Mat-tawa Mission.

DURING the recent convention of the Independent Order of Foresters, held in Ottawa, we had with us many clergy of the Church, who seemed to take an active part in the proceedings of the convention. Amongst them were the Ven. Archdeacon Davis, of London, and the Rev. W. B. Carey, Rural Dean of Frontenac, and Chaplain to His Grace the Archbishop of Ontario.

THE congregation of Christ Church deeply mourn the death, after a long illness, of John Hunton, their senior churchwarden, and a lay
