THE TORONTO WORLD

ONE CENT MORNING PAPER.

No. 35 YONGE STREET, Toronto.

DOOMED BEFORE THE BATTLE.

It is quite evident that the Government is preparing to sidetrack the prohibitionists. Nor will the task be a difficult one. The object the Government now has in view seems to be to secure the defeat of the plebiscite in Quebec, and if possible in one or two of the western provinces. But a majority against prohibition in Quebec will give the Government the excuse it wants to drop the question altogether. Can Ontario dictate to the people of Quebec whether or not they shall use wine, beer and cider? Certainly not. The watchword of the Government when this school question was to the front was that Manitoba must not be coerced. Manitoba must be allowed to decide for itself what system of education is best fitted for its people. The Laurier Government was returned to power for the very purpose of preventing Quebec from coercing Manitoba to adopt an educational system which was distasteful to the latter. Will Quebec now submit to the dictation of Ontario in regard to a purely domestic matter, such as the drinking of alcoholic beverages? Never. The attempt would lead to physical defiance of the law, to open rebellion. Prohibition with Quebec opposed to it, is an impossibility in Canada. The Government realizes this fact, and Sir Wilfrid has instructed his lieutenants in Quebec to secure the defeat of the plebiscite in that province and thereby afford him a loophole of escape. Hon. Mr. Tarte is fighting prohibition through his paper, La Patrie, while Hon. Sir Henri Joly, Minister of Inland Revenue, delivered an address last Sunday, in which he pointed out that the adoption of prohibition involved compensation for the interests affected, which would mean anywhere from twenty-five to fifty million dollars, and in addition an army of officials would be necessary to enforce the law. As a matter of fact it would be impossible to prevent smuggling or to enforce the law. It is safe to say that the attitude of these two Ministers will effectively settle the fate of the plebiscite in Quebec. It will be defeated. We accept that as a foregone conclusion.

Nor are we so certain that the prohibitionists will meet with the success they anticipate in Ontario. There has been a wonderful shaking up of public opinion during the past two or three weeks. People who are not led astray by fanaticism, even though many of them would like to see prohibition, have come to the conclusion that prohibition is impossible and that the temperance party are merely beating the wind. Besides, it has become evident to everyone who brings his common sense to bear on the situation, that the politicians are playing with the issue and hoodwinking the temperance people. The prohibitionists themselves have no faith in the success of their movement. Their time is principally consumed in defending themselves and excusing their proposed legislation. An air of insincerity and hollowness characterizes the whole movement. There is nothing substantial in the agitation. No wonder thinking men have come to regard prohibition as little short of a farce. They realize now, as they never did before, that prohibition would ruin the country. It would put a stop to immigration and make Canada the laughing stock of the world. The common sense of Ontario is opposed to such a hare-brained issue as prohibition has now come to be regarded. Our readers may not be surprised if even Ontario rejects prohibition, as an impossible and absurd panacea for the cure of the evils of intemperance. At any rate Quebec will vote against it, and that alone will settle its fate for the Dominion.

PROHIBITION WOULD DESTROY THE COUNTRY.

With prohibition in Canada there would follow, practically, a total cessation of immigration, and the proper development of this country would be impossible. The average Englishman, Scotchman, Irishman, German would not thank us for the offer of absolutely untaxed residence in a country where he would be deprived of what he considers as a right, the use of his liquor, in moderation. Then, again, it is a moral certainty that thousands upon thousands of Canada's present and best residents would become disgusted with what they would rightly consider as the fanaticism of their country in enacting prohibition, and fearful of a further curtailment of their liberty and taxation beyond endurance, would pull up stakes and cross the border.

By the way, what a tremendous handle Uncle Sam's immigration agents abroad would make of Canada's prohibition policy!

Are the people of this country ready for wholesale martyrdom for a cause which, apart from the considerations above set forth, is utterly at variance with Christ's personal example and St. Paul's admonition as given in the Bible?

A TRAITOR NEWSPAPER.

Mail Editorial yesterday: A Montreal writer, writing to The New York Sun, declares that, according to his observation, the policy pursued by the Ottawa Government and the unhappy transactions of The World, that is connected with the Administration in the estimation of the people of Canada. In reply, it is asserted that The New York Sun is a paper that has advocated the annexation of the Dominion to the United States. The reply is a good shot. It might be added that when The Toronto Globe was campaigning for unrestricted reciprocity or commercial annexation, The Sun managed the New York end of the contest. For this reason, Sun's opinions on Canadian matters are not valuable, although the views which a correspondent may express in the columns of the paper with respect to anything except the fact may not be far astray.

We do not know of ever reading more harefaced statements or more abject shamelessness. If The Globe was in collusion with The Sun to promote commercial annexation, The Mail was, in the same deal, only in a pronounced way. The most disgraceful conspiracy that was ever organized against the existence of Canada was under way at that time, and The New York Sun, The Mail and people connected with both were in it. It is a wonder if The Sun allows this statement to pass unchallenged. The names of the newspapers and pensioners on an annexation fund raised in the States and distributed from New York are known, and will come out some of these days. The Globe can best clear itself by telling what it knows of the Mail and annexation. The Mail is trying to steal away from its part, but there is no forgiveness for the traitor-to-party and traitor to country.

THE LIBERTY OF THE PRESS.

A correspondent writing from Burk's Falls, calls attention to the arrest of the editors of The Beacon, a paper published in that place, for criticizing the action of Judge McCurdy in imposing a nominal sentence on a lad found guilty of larceny and housebreaking. The article which forms the basis of the criminal action instituted by Judge McCurdy appears in the correspondent's letter in another column. If the learned judge is wise he will drop the proceedings he has taken against the editors. The article in question is clear in the public interest, or at least the editors in writing it considered it so. No paper in Toronto would hesitate to write what the editor of The Beacon has written. We think the latter is fully justified, in the public interest, in expressing the views contained in the article. The Attorney-General ought to investigate the facts referred to by our correspondent, and if they turn out to be as represented by him, Judge McCurdy should be politely requested to drop his action.

In Favor of Workmen.

Mr. D. J. O'Donoghue of the Department of Agriculture, who has just returned from the Labor Congress at Winnipeg, reports a decided and growing improvement in the intellectual tone of the workmen. As the standard of living among the workmen is being improved, and as the different labor questions, and based on reason, is a far better means of attaining their ends than the violent demonstrations, etc., so popular a few years ago.

Cupid is usually pictured as a mischievous, playful little fellow, always smiling and laughing, with just a trace of mischief in his eyes. This is the ideal. In reality, Cupid in these days is a malicious, malicious chap. He is beginning to learn that life is not all a summer holiday. He is fast learning that sick men and unhealthy women are no good to him. He has no right to tamper with love or matrimony. It is best for themselves and best for the human race that they should not. It is not a hard matter for men and women to preserve their health if they wish. It is far from impossible for them to restore it after it has been lost. That being the case, the modern Cupid is right in looking with disfavor upon matrimonial matches between sick men and unhealthy women. His health in a woman is generally the result of some weakness or disorder of the distinctly feminine organism that is slowly sapping her vitality. At first, a little pain and slight indispositions which seem to her quite unimportant. They grow steadily worse until her life is all the time from burning and dragging sensations, and occasionally has to take to her bed. Finally, she is completely unable to get up and motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing remedy for ailments of this kind. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in maternity and makes them well and strong. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest druggist will recommend a substitute. "Since I have had a baby girl," writes Mrs. W. M. Malcom, of Knoxville, Tenn., "I feel that I have had a new life. My health is better than it was for years. My child will be one year of age on the 28th inst. and she has not been sick a day. Has not had so much as the colic."

EDITORS IN JAIL.

A County Court Judge Objects to Newspaper Criticism and Invokes the Criminal Law.
Editor World: I am sending you per mail a copy of The Burke's Falls Beacon, and would like to know whether there is anything criminally libelous in the editorial marked? It appears Judge McCurdy has considered it such and has had the editors arrested and taken to Parry Sound for hearing before a magistrate, notwithstanding the fact that there are plenty of magistrates here, and I understand he refuses to give bail. Knowing, as one of the readers of The World, that I would draw your attention to it, I think it is a matter for the Press Association to deal with, even though the editors may not be members, because it affects the liberty of the press, and there is no reason why the actions of Judges should not be criticized as well as any other citizen. The general public think it very harsh treatment, I do not think they have means to engage a good solicitor to defend them and I do not suppose they could get one to take the case here on account of Judge McCurdy being, as I understand, the plaintiff. British Fair Play.

Below is the article referred to:

Burke's Falls Beacon, Sept. 9.
Young George Bibby, the 12 or 13-year-old thief and housebreaker, returned to town on Tuesday from Parry Sound, whither he had been committed a short time ago on a charge of housebreaking with intent to steal. How this juvenile freeloader regains his liberty is not well understood by the monarchs of the law here, but surely there must have been a woful disposition of justice in the disposal of his case at Parry Sound. It is not a secret that Judge Mahaffy of Bracebridge has become a proberbal "terror to evildoers" by the severity of his sentences to criminals of all descriptions, and it is not a secret that Judge Curry, who has just been elevated to a similar jurisdiction at Parry Sound, is a deacon of gaining notoriety as a more lenient dispenser of justice. Be this as it may, and with all due respect to the two gentlemen named, the evidence adduced at Bibby's trial here before Justices Sharpe and Burk called for our humble opinion, for a term of one or more years in some house or school of correction. Had young Bibby been the pest and nuisance in the same community which Judge McCurdy honors by residing in, the chances are that the culprit would have not two or three years' incarceration. As the matter now stands, other juvenile offenders, companions of the young scamp named, will see an easy escape to liberty after an arrest and imprisonment that has only the merits of making them notorious, and as a result sneak thieving and housebreaking will in all likelihood be carried on with impunity in our community.

THE GAS EXPLODED.

Accident to Mrs. Graham, Wife of the Manager of Molsons Bank.
Mrs. S. R. Graham, wife of the manager of the Molsons Bank at Toronto Junction, whilst opening a gas oven at 9.30 last night, was met with a sudden rush of gas, which exploded in her face and knocked her to the floor. Her husband heard her fall and rushed to her assistance, when it was found that her hair was on fire and her face very much burned. Dr. Perfect was summoned, and after viewing the disfigurement, expressed the opinion that it would be permanent.

The Mimico Fatality.

Dr. Orlando B. Orr yesterday opened the inquest upon the remains of Harry Douglas, who met his death on the railway at Mimico Saturday night. The following jury was impaneled: George Warburton (foreman), G. Gormley, Walter Burgess, Bruce Shaver, Russell Warner, George Stell, P. Torvitt, Phil Brown, A. Book, J. Giles, C. Vint and J. Harrison. After viewing the remains, an adjournment was made until Wednesday evening, when the inquest will be resumed at 7.30 o'clock at Nurse's Hotel, Humbler Bay. The remains were interred yesterday afternoon at Humbler Cemetery.

Editor World: We notice in your issue of this morning, under the heading of "Mimico Fatality," a statement made of the death of an old man named Cui-verhouse, who you state was in our employ.
