While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor, in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1918, says: "that the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is serlously underestimated in many of our

Be Carefyl What You Wash Your Hair With

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces, You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance chat is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair cries quickly and evenly, and is soft fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advt.

TORONTO, July 22.-Vera De La velle, sweetheart of Frank McCullough who was hanged for the murder of who was hanged for the murder of Acting Detective Williams, surrendered herself to the police this afternoon. It is stated that Vera never left town since she escaped from the jail while awaiting sentence for acting as an accessory after the fact in McCullough's case.

The plans for the surrender were agreed upon today by Mr. Horkins, Miss Lavelle's counsel, and the police. Arrangements are under way to have the girl tried tomorrow by Judge Coatsworth.

Coatsworth.

The Lavelle girl was taken into custody at 2:35 this afternoon on Beverley street, a few feet south of College street, by Detective Walter McConnell. The arrest had a theatrical taste to it similar to the explois in which Mc-Cullough revelled. Miss Lavelle simply surrendered herself by a prearranged plan between herself and counsel, W.

Although her counsel claims that Miss Lavelle surrendered herself because she feared arrest, the girl seems to have had little respect for the police since her escape from custody while she was being held for aiding and abetting in the escape of McCullogh. On one occasion, three weeks ago, she stood under the windows of the police court and the morality department, quite calmily conversing to friends. She was observed, but with the approach of police officers, jumped into a waiting automobile and escaped.
