Rain Hurt Some, Saturday came close to, if it did not pass, the attendance of the correspond-ing day of a year ago at the Canadian National Exhibition. It was commercial travelers' day, and tho the weather was not favorable, over 70,000 pass-1 er was not favorable, over 70,000 pass-1 ed thru the gates during the day. It was estimated that there were 60,000 people on the grounds in the evening, of whom 25,000 were in the grand stand fort.

Mr. Kent in his introductory remarks referred to the 25,000 or 30,000 commer-cial travelers on the road as being great publicity promoters for the exhi-bition.

Sir James said he took a special in-Sir James said he cook a special in-terest in commercial travelers because he had lived many years in a country town, and had observed their methods and results. much development along these lines. Landscape gardening as an aid to character building, is equally as im-portant as vegetable gardening. No-where can its influence be greater than among factory and shop workers. Health and cheerfulness are the two most important essentials of sustained effort. These are the fruits of out-door work. Children are instinctively interested in nature. The impulse to plant things and see them grow is in every child. All that is needed is to awaken this impulse and encourage ac-tual work out of doors. Given this, their health will be improved, they will learn the lesson of industry, and cul-tivate that comes from individual ef-fort.
