TO DEFEND BUCHAREST AGAINST GERMAN RUSH

Roumanians Place Capital in Condition for Resistance, Teuton Newspapers Report-Civilians Withdraw.

Berlin. Nov. 30, via Sayville.—The Roumanian defensive positions in the mountain district east of the Alt River are now more and more under the increasing pressure of General von Falkenhayn's advancing army, says the Overseas News Agency. After the victory near Tigveni on Nov. 26, the fate of the long-defended position at Curtea de Argas was doomed and there the monument of the late King Carol of Roumania fell into the possession of General von Falkenhayn.

DRIVING FORCE NEEDED

Times Questions Whether Jellicon Will Measure Up to Needs.

London, Nov. 30.—Gratification and hopeful expectation generally are expressed in the London morning papers at the naval changs, altho not without certain quaif cations. It is universally admitted that the new appointments will be popular, but there is a disposition rather to hope than to be confident that the arrangement will work well.

The Times, for instance, while disavowing an intention to suggest that the appointments, because popular, are not necessarily sound, says: "Comment must necessarily be re-strained if it is not to be mere ignorant onthusiasm. The changes cannot possibly be tested except by the result. We do not doubt that the decision, which perhaps is more serious than thy taken in the war, has been as Bucharest is declared to be changing into a war camp. Half the population already has left the Roumanian capital, according to reports published by the Swiss newspaper, the Berne Bund, and acommodation in the trolley cars already is limited.

which call for his removal. The Daily News finds his retention of the post of first lord disquieting, while The Mail makes an addition to its many recent attacks. It has nothing to say about Admiral Jellicoe and Sir David Beatty, except: "This is no real change at all."

It demands the complete reconstruction of the admiralty board.

On the other, hand, The Morning Post and Daily Telegraph pay tribute to Mr. Balfour, the former saying that special acknowledgment is due his administration, and also his courage and strong sense in choosing the right time to make changes.

The Daily Telegraph admires his "virtuous decision" not to interfere with the technical matters of the admiralty, whereby, it says, he has gained in a rare degree the confidence of the great service over which he presides.

the old defences into a new system of trenches as at Verdun and every other sector of northern France.

Owing to the necessarily strict censorship that the allies are maintaining concerning the developments on the Roumanian western-front, data are lackbase a forecast of the future. It is seen from the energetic action being taken by the Russians in the Carpathians that they are begin-fing the first operations designed to assist the Roumanians. Brusiloff is sufficiently able as an officer to contend with the best men that Germany can bring against the allies. As in the case of Italy and the Trentino, and the Germans and Verdun, the allies are likely to have in preparation an adequate reply to the enemy.

Altho he is satisfied that the Roumanian army is still absolutely intact, Major-Gen. F. B. Maurice. British director of military operations, recognizes that any further advance by the Germans would bring them a considerable success. A step forward from where the Germans are now would give them oil belts. Russia is moving and the Roumanian army is intact, and these factors are encouraging. Even the Germans claim that they have taken only 1200 men and a few guns. Thus no more than the Roumanian rear guard has been captured. The Roumanians had been occupying a dangerous salient, with one army hammering from the north and another coming up from the Danube, and their safe extrication is no mean feat of arms. Gen. Maurice also notes that the German official communiques have been falsely announced ing that the allied successes at Salonica have only obtained a partial objective, while as a matter of fact the alles have won the positions desired.

Whether from the necessity of pausing to bring up additional supplies of munitions or to wait until the weather becomes less stormy, the allies halted their advance in the region north of Monastir on Wednesday, according to yesterday's Serbian official communication. Fierce local actions are proceeding in the Grunishte region, east of the Cerna.

Brusiloff has again begun to play upon Hungarian nerves by his offensive in the Carpathians, looking down upon Transylvania. In the wooded Carpathians the Russians have captured Rukada Height, about seven miles southwest of Wakarka, and they are making progress in a battle for the heights east of Kirlibaba. They have in this action brought Kirlibaba under their rifle fire. In this operation the Slavs are endeavoring to seize the railway from Kirlibaba to Maramoras Szget. They have also begun the laurnching of heavy attacks on the Zlota Lipa River, in Galicia, in order to hammer the Turks stationed in that region by the foe. The Germans claim that the Turks have repulsed these attacks, but the Russians say that in the region of Korynitza they captured a salient position of the enemy, projecting deeply of Korynitza they captured a salient position of the enemy, projecting deeply into their front,

As his preparations for further offensive blows proceed towards maturity As his preparations for further offensive blows proceed towards maturity the despatches of Sir Douglas Halg become more laconic. Last night he had nothing to report except artillery duels along the front. The German artillery fire, he added, was particularly heavy between the Somme and the Ancre Rivers. The French record that in response to their energetic bombarament, the Germans shelled their front south of the Somme, between Berny and Chaulnes Wood. The French trench-guns exploded a German munitions depot in the Massiges region, in Champagne. Three French camouflets, exploded north of Four de Paris, in the Argonne, shattered a German mine work. The weather recently has been too vile for fighting.

Owing to wintry conditions on the Trentino front the operations have been practically at a standstill for some time. It was from this sector that the Austrians removed men to fight the Roumanians when they saw that winter fighting would be impossible. The withdrawal of men will be felt badly in a few months if Roumania can only hold a line of trenches. In the region of the Carso Plateau the disagreeable weather has prevented fighting, but as the winter is not so severe as it is in the Alps, action will be posposed by the control of the Carso Plateau the disagreeable weather has prevented fighting, but as the winter is not so severe as it is in the Alps, action will be posposed by the carso Plateau the disagreeable weather has prevented fighting.

COMMISSIONERS' ACTION APPROVED BY COUNCIL

Warm Discussion Ends in Adoption of Report on Old Mill Bridge.

Practically the whole of yesterday afternoon was given up to the discussion of the county commissioners' report, especially that portion dealing with the submission and letting of the contract for the "old mill" bridge, and the question of ownership once the structure was built. The charge was made that the commissioners, while in possession of the solicitor's opinion that the expenditure of the money voted would be illegal and practically a gift to the city, went ahead and built the bridge, incurring in all a debt of about $37,000, of which R. Home Smith was under bonds to pay $12,000.

The county solicitor came in for a lot of rather severe criticism, one section of council openly expressing their disapproval of his action in the matter, while the others sought to attach some blame to the commissioners.

Subsequently it was brought out thru Reeve Silverthorn that the reason the solicitor had declared the action of the commissioners illegal was due to the fact that the county council had not put thruthe special bylaw empowering the building of the bridge in question in time.

Theore Griffith of York Township, Geo. B. Padget of Markham and Warden Knowles, the three county commissioners, each gave the fullest information regarding the transaction, and declared that, while technically objection might be taken to the building of the bridge, and constituted a dividing line between the Townships of York and Etobicoke. Later on the submission of the county and township, and costing approximately $37,000 will be paid for by the county, less $12,000 which R. Home Smith 'is giving, leaving the net amount for which the county is liable about $25,000. Mr. Smith was present in the council chamber yesterday, and stated that he was willing and waiting to pay over the amount stated. Reeves Griffith and Padget and the warden were warmly complimented on the happy solution of the matter.

Grain Company, with a circulation of $5,000.

The big free trade meeting was held here tonight in the building belonging to the Grain Growers' Grain Company and in the very same room in which the company shareholders assembled for their annual meeting.

Taiff Reduction.

It might lead one to believe that the farmers' co-operative companies were getting behind a demand for free trade but it is understood, that tonight's meeting was called by the free trade league upon its own responsibility. The leading men in the Grain Growers Grain Company favor a radical tariff reduction, but they by no means are committed to anything like out and out free trade. Indeed, the company is about to engage in a big scale in the lumber industry, and before long it will be in the milling business. It was even intimated by President Crewas even intimated by rar this morning that was even intimated by President Crerar this morning that the new merger might in the not distant future claim is to eliminate the middle man.

Hostile to Beth.

A great many of the prominent Conservatives and have no predelection for Sir Wilfrid Laurier or the Liberal party. Many others are disgruntled Liberals, and it is by no means certain therefore that the gollapse of the Conservative party in the west means the return of the Liberal party to power. Beyond any question the majority of the grain growrers are openly hostile to both the old political parties in federal affairs.
