Mrs. Goodman told her husband, Albert, about it, and after she had put the child in a basket, he had buried it in the backyard. She was so excited she kept the fact secret, thinking nobody would know. There had been no medical attendance, but there had been no noise or sound of a baby crying.

"BIG SHIP" POLICY

New York Press Comments on Britain's Disinclination to Build Leviathans.

New York, Jan. 17.—Reports from London to the effect that the council of imperial defence views with disfavor have aroused considerable attention in the press of the United States. The New York Times attributes the change in the British attitude to consideration of the expense involved. The Evening Sun recalls the fact that it was splendid vessels such as the Queen Elizabeth, the Malaya and the Barham that decided the mastery of the seas and forced the German fleet to take cover, and kept open the channels of world's commerce. It adds: "If Britain discards the big-ship policy it will be despite, not because of, the experience of the war. A more reasonable explanation of her attitude."

The Sun continues. "is found in the enormous cost of the modern super-dreadnought. Their finances are just beginning to recover from the effects of the war. Taxes are high, the pound sterling is depressed. The nation faces an enormous debt. The prospect of laying out 9,000,000 pounds sterling for each new capital ship is staggering, to say just at present may be short, British insight into naval matters remains clear. At the outset of the morning's session Mr. Gompers was asked by the Sanic Domingan delegation to answer a question whether a telegram protesting against the occupation and demanding an immediate evacuation of the island had been sent in accordance with the resolution approved by the Labor congress last Friday.

Mr. Gompers' reply that he desired o modify the text of the convention's telegram, inasmuch as the States government already had de-clared itself in favor of evacuation, started a heated argument in which the Latin-American policy of the United States was bitterly criticized by the Dominican, Salvadorean and Mexican delegates.
