RARE COPY OF BIBLE OWNED IN SAINT JOHN

"Breches" Version of 1608 Owned by K. J. MacRae

IN FAMILY SINCE TIME OF ITS ISSUE

Owner Knows of Only Four Other Copies in Existence

One of the oldest books and most interesting books in Canada, in all probability, is the "Breches Bible," now the property of Kenneth J. MacRae of Saint John. This volume, which was published in 1608, has been in the MacRae family from the date of issue, the Bible having been handed down to each generation by its predecessor. Mr. MacRae said yesterday that he knew of five copies in existence.

It was recently stated in The Times-Star that John Wright of First street, this city, has in his possession a copy of the King James Bible printed in 1684, presumably at Oxford. Considerable old volumes referred to, and J. Murdoch's "Pilgrim's Progress" of 1682, and James A. Hoy's "Life of John Bunyan" of 1682, and S. C. Young's book of 1684, there must be many other old publications in the Province, but few are as old as the Bible of Messrs. MacRae and Wright. The publicity which has been given has resulted in general interest being aroused among many who possess old volumes and much dust has been rubbed off recently to determine the age of some of them as many families keep old books in attics and store-rooms.

MR. MACRAE'S BIBLE

The "Breches Bible," also known as the Geneva Bible, was first printed in 1560, with a preface by John Calvin, the French Protestant leader, who carried on his reform work in Switzerland, the soil of France not being favorable to his activities during those strenuous times. Religious persecutions were rampant. It owed its name to a mistranslation or printer's error in the seventh of the third chapter of the Book of Genesis, in which the last word was breches, in place of aprons, the word used in the King James version.

Verse 7 in the volume Mr. MacRae has, reads as follows: "And Adam and Eve in Eden: And the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves breches."

BEQUEATHED BY FATHER

Mr. MacRae's Bible was bequeathed to him by his father, late Rev. Dr. MacRae, long an outstanding figure in the Presbyterian church, and for years minister of St. Stephen's (now Knox) church of Saint John.

Of the other copies, one is in the British museum, one in a museum in Rome, another owned in Victoria, B. C., and the fourth in a private family in the southern states. "The Breches Bible," because of its age and rarity, is of much value. Mr. MacRae's copy is in fine state of preservation.

SATURDAY MARKET HAS GOOD SUPPLY

Prices a Little Lower When Changes From Last Week Noted

There was a good supply of edibles in the City Market this morning, and what changes there were in prices were slightly lower. There was a plentiful supply of rhubarb at five cents a pound, or somewhat from last week. Strawberries were a shade lower at 40 cents a quart. Other prices, which were practically unchanged, are as follows: Radishes, 10 cents a bunch; cucumbers, 20 to 25 cents; carrots, 25 cents a large bunch; Bermuda onions, 10 cents a pound; string beans, 30 cents a quart; sweet potatoes, two pounds for 25 cents; green onions, 10 cents a bunch; tomatoes, 35 to 40 cents a pound; lettuce, 10 cents; iceberg variety, 25 to 30 cents a head; California celery, 20 to 25 cents a head; cauliflower, 10 cents a head.

DAIRY GOODS

Prices were unchanged in dairy products, extra in eggs selling at 28 cents a dozen and fresh at 25 cents. Dairy butter brought from 35 to 40 cents a pound and the creamery 45 cents. Maple sugar was still being offered at 45 cents a pound.

There was a good supply of spring lamb, but the most of it was small. It sold at from $2 to $3 for the fore and hind quarters. Beef was 14 to 25 cents a pound, but pork was scarce at from 20 to 25 cents. There was plenty of veal at from 10 to 25 cents. There were no spring chickens offered this morning, but freshly killed fowl sold at from 40 to 50 cents a pound.

PLEASING EVENTS AT CLUB CLOSING

Presentations Made at Meeting of Bluebird Organization of St. David's

The Bluebird Club of St. David's Church met last night for the season's closing meeting at the home of Mrs. Hugh Miller, 68 Queen street. Miss Edith Walder, president, was in the chair. Encouraging reports were received and plans for a social event in July were made. At the close of the meeting Miss Phyllis McGowan played the Lohengrin wedding march, while Mrs. James Haulton and Miss George Barker brought in a table laden with lovely gifts in linen and china for Miss Edith Miller, who is to be married during the summer.

The club had planned on an old-fashioned surprise party at the home of Mrs. Malcolm McGowan during the winter, but owing to the illness of several officers this was postponed, and they held a double function, when Mrs. Miller, on behalf of the club, presented to Mrs. McGowan a beautiful silver sandwich tray. Both ladies replied in happy speeches.

The enjoyable evening closed with the serving of refreshments by the club.

The auxiliary of Fairmont Lodge, L. O. B. A., East Saint John, met last night at the home of Mrs. L. McFarlane. Mrs. Charles Pitman, the president, presided. As Hiram Sees It

CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. Y. — "I play golf here and it's my fine to see folks that's gettin' better an' needs exercise travellin' over the green hillsides—even if they ain't much good as playin'." You don't hev to wear golf socks an' things like that unless you think that's part of the game. What I'd like to play is an obstacle golf—if I could hev as nice a lookin' nurse as I see me as a fat-headed feller here in the park this mornin'." I guess he must be bothered some in his head—fer I never seen a feller look so sulky with a nice gal at his elbow 'er her best to git him woke up. Well, sir—you see all sorts here. When I was paradin' around this mornin' along comes a sou-faced feller in his bare head an' a pair of heavy walkin' boots—an' glasses an' a cane—an' a thin suit of clothes—lookin' as if he was workin' out somethin' in algebra or geometry—instid of takin' in the fine May mornin'. I don't know what the doctors kin do to him—but I'll bet a good laugh 'er put more ginger into him than a hypodermic. I'd like to turn Judge Ritchie loose on him fer about half an hour with some old-time Saint John county election yams. This is a bird sanctuary all right—but some of us 'ud be a little hard to classify—yes, sir."

HIRAM.

TO PROSECUTE WOOD PIRATES OF TAYLOR'S ISL.

Property Owners Lose Patience and Are Offering Reward

Owners of timber land and other property on Taylor's Island, so-called, in the Manawagonish road district, have decided that patience shall no longer be virtue with them, and they have decided to declare war on persons who have been denuding part of the land of wood, large and small, and in other ways trespassing on the island. Today appears an advertisement offering $100 reward to anyone giving information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the thieves and trespassers. The owners of the property assert that last year a good serviceable dwelling, situated in a clearing of about twenty acres, was set on fire and burned to the ground by persons who are under suspicion.

The owners of the wood lots say that men have cut fire wood and timber on the land during the last few years and have taken teams to the island and hauled the wood away.

WILL RESORT TO LAW

One of the owners of the property said: "It seems strange that there are men who will deliberately go on property, other than their own, and maliciously cut down and with their teams of horses, haul valuable timber to the shore, and use it for purposes of their own in defiance of the law, knowing full well, if they are caught, that a severe sentence of many years awaits them."

"While these depredations have been going on for several years, the proprietors have not prosecuted, hoping that the suspected parties would cease to carry on such trespassing and destruction, but it is now the intention to have every one caught cutting or destroying trees or bushes on the property given to the authorities and have the law take its course."

Taylor's Island is in reality not an island at all now, as a high beach stretches from Saint's Rest to it. Until recently a good road led across the beach, but now it is somewhat out of repair. The place is only about four miles from Saint John.
