

CHAMPIONS OF LAST YEAR ALL OUT OF N.B. TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK

A Glance at the Names and Speculation on the Results.

Not one of last year's champions is entered this season for the annual tournament of the New Brunswick Tennis Association. In some cases the champions have left the province and are therefore not eligible to play, but even allowing for this, it is remarkable that not one player who figured among the winners last season should appear this year. This will mean an entirely new collection of representatives for the province in the annual inter-provincial meet with the Nova Scotia champions.

The tournament will be staged this year at Sackville, commencing on Monday and continuing through the week. In view of the smaller number of entries than in former years it is hoped to get the meet finished early and to be ready in plenty of time for the journey to Sydney where the Maritime title will be decided. It is the opinion in tennis circles that the teams turning out for the provincial event are not up to the strength of former years and will prove a disappointment for their opponents from the sister province when they meet.

Like Hudson in Singles.
George W. Hudson of Rothesay, is figured as one of the best chances for the singles title, although there are others in his own club who are capable of giving him a good run for his money. Young Jack Frith of Rothesay, is also mentioned as a championship possibility along with Jack Thomson, Dick Starr and others of the same club. In addition to these there will be H. M. and W. T. Wood, the brothers who have often been upsetting the aspirants for the title, and Webster, a newcomer who played such a fine game last year.

Hazen Short, title holder last year, is not entered this season although he is the holder of the premier place in the Rothesay list of players.

The three teams expected to be among the headlines in the doubles are Hudson and Thomson of Rothesay, Starr of Rothesay, and Kirk of Westville, and the runners-up, among the favorites, are the Haddys of Rothesay, and the runners-up, Hudson and Fitzgerald. Of these only one player is entered, George Hudson.

Neither Mrs. Rabbitt of Fredericton, nor George Harley, formerly of St. John and Moncton, has sent in name for the tournament. Last year they won the mixed doubles title. This event is probably one of the most uncertain of the lot scheduled, any one of six or eight teams having a good chance for the championship.

The ladies' doubles entries total only seven, a smaller number than has been provided for some years in the provincial championship match. Mrs. MacLaren and Miss Barbara Jack, who won the title last year, are not in any of the events this time. One of the teams which will be worth watching when championship play commences is being made up of a young couple from Rothesay, Miss Alice Tilley and Miss Margaret Tilley. Both have been playing a fine game this year and they are expected to give the older entrants at least a good fight for place.

The ladies' singles schedule is a little better filled out, thirteen players having entered in thirteen events. The title holder of last year, Mrs. Rabbitt, has not entered and a new champion will result in this class also.

Junior.
A new feature this year and one which promises to be a popular one is the junior tournament. Entries were received for only one event, men's singles, or boys' singles, and are five in number, as follows—J. David Schofield, Walter Foster, J. R. Frith, Gordon Ford, Hutton Taylor.

The tournament will commence at 10 o'clock on Monday morning and although the majority of players are not expected to arrive in Sackville until about 12:30, when the earliest train from St. John and vicinity will reach there. Accommodation has been provided for all the players at the Sackville College, close to the grounds. The ladies will occupy one section of the building and the men will be housed in another. Meals will be provided and the whole will be offered at a very reasonable sum to the players.

Three Lands Claim Van Alen Residence

America, England and France Reported to Be Eying $25,000,000 Estate.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 4.—Which of four cities was the legal residence of James J. Van Alen has become a question to two American States and three countries, America, France and England. Whether Mr. Van Alen's legal residence was in New York, Newport, London or Paris is the issue, it died in a London hospital about three weeks ago, and was the possessor of an estate estimated to be worth up to $25,000,000. The inheritance taxes will amount to a large sum. Therefore, officials in each of the four cities are reported to be watching with close interest developments in the settlement of the estate.

The question is whether Mr. Van Alen claimed any city as his legal residence at the time of his death. It is believed here that he did not, and therefore Newport considers that it has the clearest claim, because he was last a legal resident of this city, so far as known.

A quarter of a century ago Mr. Van Alen took up Newport as his home and maintained his legal residence here. Soon after the passage of the prohibition amendment, however, he went to France, renouncing his right of citizenship and stating at the time that this country had ceased to be a free country.

So far as is known, however, he did not take up a legal residence anywhere after that, spending his time between Paris and London, but it has been learned that an effort is being made to have him will probate in New York.

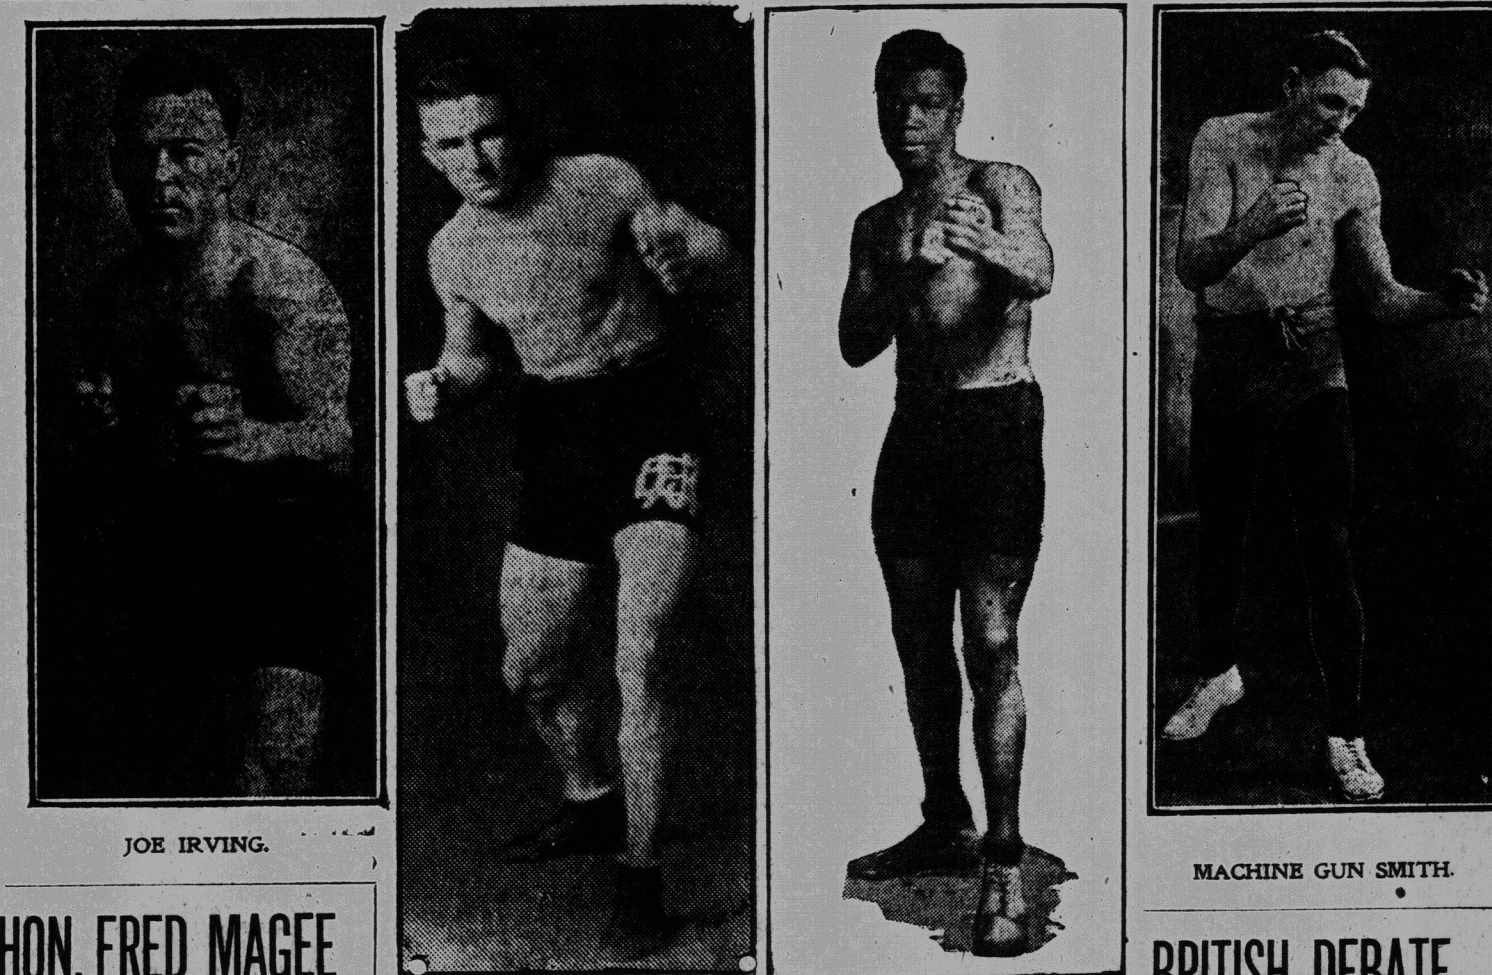

When James J. Van Alen quit America for the second time, blaming prohibition, he sold his home in East Fifty-fifth street, adjoining the Astor home, and announced that he was through with this country for good. Nothing has been heard here of attempts to probate his will in this State.

EVERLYN NESBIT FINED $50.
Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—Everlyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, who now sings, dances and chats nightly with amusement seekers, in a store charged, was fined $50 by Vice-Chancellor Robert H. Ingersoll, who adjudged her guilty of contempt of court in connection with a charge made against her several months ago.

Miss Nesbit was charged with having appeared at the cabaret in which she was a partner, after an injunction had been issued as a result of a quarrel between two cabaret proprietors as to who had the legal right to Miss Nesbit's professional services.

Mixed Doubles—H. W. Hickman and Miss Black, T. H. Hutton and Miss Alice M. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKel, John H. Thomson and Miss Margaret Tilley, J. O. S. Murray and Miss Barbara Jack, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hickman, Dick Starr and Miss Althea Hansen, C. F. Inches and partner, W. K. Kirkpatrick, E. B. Palmer, E. R. Richard, W. T. Wood, H. E. Bigelow, H. M. Wood, Joseph Wood, Lorne Stamp, David Schofield, Walter Foster, J. H. Thomson, J. R. Frith, George W. Hudson, James McInerney, A. L.

READY FOR BATTLES AT ARENA MONDAY NIGHT

HON. FRED MAGEE IS FIRST GUN

Maritime Trap Shoot Winner—Lieut. Kirby Sussex Victor.

Port Elgin, N. B., Aug. 3.—Under perfect weather conditions, the last events of the Maritime Trapping Tournament closed here today. The morning events, five twenty target races, were productive of some fine shooting. Hon. Fred Magee, Port Elgin, duplicated his first day's shooting, carrying off first place with ninety-five points in the afternoon.

The interest in the bouts has spread throughout the Maritime Provinces. Work was received in St. John last night that many boxing fans would arrive from Halifax to cheer for "Nedder" Healey in his fight to retain the welterweight championship of the Maritime Provinces.

It is recognized that Healey is facing the stiffest battle of his career, for Gordon Paris, the local aspirant for his crown, is training hard and is reported to be in first class condition. With the additional purse which has been offered Paris in the arena to see the bouts, he is expected to be a real contender.

A telegram received last night stated that Healey's weight is 143 pounds. Paris' weight is 142 pounds.

In addition to the main bout will be eight three-minute rounds between Joe Irving and Machine Gun Smith, and with the rivalry existing between these two well known boxers this bout should be as fast and interesting as the main bout. Both of the men are doing hard roadwork each day and will be in the pink of condition when they step into the ring at the Arena Monday night.

John L. Sullivan, Jr. and Jack Keefe are also training hard for their six two-minute round bout. Both of these local boys are clever boxers and are eager to win so that they may take the next step upward in the classes on the schedule arranged by the Arena management for future bouts.

It is admitted that the Arena is the best available place in the Maritime Provinces for boxing exhibitions. The ring has been lowered and will allow those in the arena to see the bouts from any seat in the ring. Ring-side seats are going rapidly and all indications are that a record crowd will be on hand Monday night to see the bouts. The first preliminary will start at 6:30 o'clock.

There are ideal places for parking cars in the vicinity of the Arena.

The chairman, R. A. McAvity, the chair was taken by J. N. Flood. Other members of the commission present were A. M. Rowan, James Lewis, W. L. Harding and Mayor Fisher.

The engineer presented a recommendation for the purchase of fifty poles, phase watt hour meters, ranging in size from 50 to 200 amperes, at a total estimated cost of $2,387.52, and 500 twenty-five foot western cedar poles at a cost of $3,075.

The recommendations were adopted subject to authorization of the expenditure by the Common Council.

BRITISH DEBATE AFRICAN SLAVERY

Curzon Says No Documents Regarding Abyssinian Conditions.

London, Aug. 3.—Earl Beauchamp initiated a debate in the House of Lords on the question of Abyssinian slavery, and asked the Government to produce any information in its possession for the benefit of the League of Nations before which the question will come up in September.

Earl Beauchamp quoted from various reports which have already been made public in the press, including the Christian Science Monitor.

Marquess Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, replying, stated that no documents of any kind regarding Abyssinian slavery was in the possession of the Foreign Office, and said the reports alluded to were four years old or more.

It was a fact that what is known as domestic slavery existed as the British Government had discontinued this such service who came under British control. Lord Curzon claimed the system of police ports had ended slavery, and explained the great difficulty of actual intervention in Abyssinia itself.

He said that the powers under treaties or by the League of Nations, for no body contemplated armed excursions whether by the powers under treaties or by the League of Nations, for no body contemplated armed excursions whether by the powers under treaties or by the League of Nations.

Lord Curzon pointed out that last year Cecil Harmsworth, in the House of Commons, admitted the Government had received reports of a widespread and growing slave trade, yet now, Marquess Curzon said the position was better than it was four years ago.

Regarding the report that the present regent of Abyssinia would welcome and co-operate with the League's inquiry, Marquess Curzon said the British representative in Addis Ababa had been called upon to render specific reports on the slavery question, though it is unlikely that any information will be forthcoming for use in time for the League's September meeting.

PLAN UNIVERSITY CHAIR FOR BLIND FRENCH PAINTER
On returning from a lecture tour in America Julien Lemorand, the painter of the Cross of the Legion of Honor at the request of the Minister of Fine Arts, was being imported to found a chair for him at the University of Paris. Lemorand, who enjoyed a high reputation as a painter, returned from the World War blind. His friends discovered that he had oratorical gifts of no mean order, and combining with them his considerable knowledge of the history and development of art, he began lecturing.

Suggestions have been made to the ministry for a chair of esthetics or moral philosophy so that a hero of France, who sacrificed both his art and his eyes, may become a teacher to artistic France with the mandate of official approval and support.

BUTTERFLIES NOW CONFIRM DARWIN'S 'SEXUAL SELECTION'

The investigations of Professor E. B. Poulton, according to members of the Eugenics Education Society, go far toward confirming the Darwin hypothesis of sexual selection. Professor Poulton lectured before the society in the rooms of the Royal Academy, taking for his subject "Recent Discoveries Supporting Charles Darwin's Theory of Sexual Selection." He said in part:

"Several male butterflies have been discovered with scent patches, or pockets, which when highly magnified look like a series of stoppered laboratory bottles in a row. The males appear to scrape the scent off with a brush-like organ attached to the abdomen and sprinkle the scent dust on the females. The dust has been described as a sort of aromatic stuff. Male caddis flies in England also have been observed with filaments like of spin, stretching from their heads and attaching to the antennae and antennae. These brightly painted jewels to their females while in the air. These and similar phenomena can only be explained on the Darwin theory of sexual selection."

TOUR PLAYGROUNDS OF CITY WHERE MORE THAN 800 KIDDIES GAMBOL

Dressing Rooms at Rockwood; Club for East End Boys.

The hand-work that is being done on the six supervised playgrounds in this city during the summer holidays is a revelation of aptitude and a proof of efficiency in teaching concerning which all the people should know.

This is the view expressed by the members of the Playgrounds Association and some others who visited all the grounds yesterday afternoon. The arrangements were made by the president, W. K. Haley, and Secretary L. M. Farquharson, and automobiles were in waiting near the Imperial Theatre at half-past two o'clock. Besides the president and secretary, the party included Commissioners Frink and Thornton, Mrs. Haley, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Belding, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson, Mrs. W. C. Good, H. Hamilton, Hendren, Thomas Armstrong, Dr. Peat, Stanley Webb, Carl Fraser, Alexander Wilson and J. L. Armstrong.

The party proceeded first to the Allison playground in the south end and then in turn to the Centennial, East End, Alexandra, King George and Carleton grounds. At each ground the teachers exhibited samples of the work done in knitting, crocheting, plain sewing, millinery, paper and wax-work. The ladies were chiefly interested, but the gentlemen were also amazed when they saw some of the work and were told the ages of the children by whom it was done. For example, on the East End and Carleton grounds sweaters, though dead, had been knitted by girls six years old, and the work was really wonderful; as were samples of other work as well.

The children really regard this work as play, and have to be limited in the time devoted to it, in order to get more active exercise for portions of the day. The visitors also saw the children indulging in free play, and several of the gentlemen could not resist the temptation to try one of the slides themselves.

It was decided to pay another general visit to the grounds before they close, and the visit was expressed that many citizens would take an hour or even half an hour now and then to see the nearest playground and what it is doing. On the Carleton ground the children have a better room for hand work than ever before, for which they are indebted to Commissioner Thornton. It is in the City Hall, and is reached by a side door.

The staffs.
The teachers and assistants of the various playgrounds are as follows: Allison, Miss D. Woodrow, Miss E. Davis and E. Gunn; Centennial, Miss Hawker and P. Robinson; East End, Miss B. Mooney, Miss E. Stanley and D. McLaughlin; Alexandra, Miss C. O'Neill, Miss A. Dever and Mr. Dalton; Carleton, Miss C. Hayes, Miss M. Hamilton and C. L. Coughlan.

Only on the Allison ground has there been any trouble with big boys, and it only occurred once, and even then of boys in the south end have each year shown that they do not really appreciate what has been done and is being done for the children of their portion of the city. The average daily attendance at the six playgrounds last month was nearly nine hundred.

Posse Gets Fugitives
Accused of Murder
"Bad Bill" Monroe, Wanted For Crime on Countess D'Ivry's Estate, Caught.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 4.—"Bad Bill" Monroe and Edward Barrett, both sought for the murder of Andrew Barrett, who was brutally slain in his shack on the estate of the Countess d'Ivry, were captured in New Jersey and are being brought back to Poughkeepsie for trial.

Details of the capture have not been learned, but it is rumored that a posse, starting in the mountains of Sullivan County, where "Bad Bill" had often flown to escape punishment for lesser crimes, followed the trail over the State line.

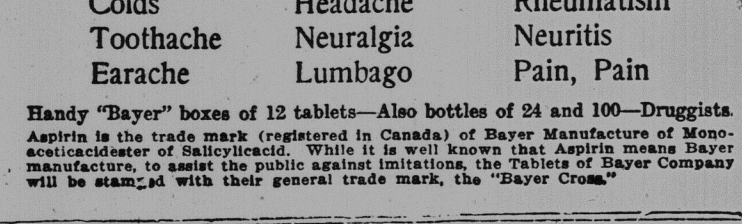

The crime was a particularly atrocious one, inasmuch as relatives of the dead man are supposed to be involved. Monroe is accused of having crept up on Barrett in his cabin and half his head cut away with the blow of an axe. A body was not discovered for days. The crime was first discovered was ascribed to a madman, as Barrett, though dead, had been tied with ropes and spears. Several thousand dollars were missing from the shack.

William Barrett, believed to be a brother of Andrew Barrett, was arrested at Dover Plains by State Troopers. He is being held to give an account of his movements on the day of the murder, as it is known that he was bad feeling between his brother and himself. William knew that his brother kept large sums of money in the shack, and had been tied with ropes and spears. Several thousand dollars were missing from the shack.

Attempt were made to investigate, but the authorities were unable to reach the bottom. Further efforts will be made to dig the well for blood-stained clothing or weapons.
