

RECENT DEATHS

Charles Egerton Burpee.
Charles Egerton Burpee, son of the late Hon. Isaac Burpee, former minister of customs at Ottawa, passed away on Saturday afternoon at his residence, 38 Wellington Row, and in his death the city lost one who had been active in movements for civic betterment and in all the causes for the public welfare. He will be deeply mourned. Mr. Burpee, with his father, was in business in the hardware firm of I. & E. R. Burpee, and after his father's death he united with his cousin, George Burpee, to carry on the business of the firm. He retired several years ago and devoted himself to studies and literary pursuits. In his younger days and until the time of his retirement he was a leader in the social life of the city, was the sure support of every worthy cause and gave liberally to every deserving object which sought his aid. He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. G. Carruthers of Kingston (Ont.), Mrs. Busby and Mrs. G. K. McLeod of St. John, and Mrs. Hansard of Montreal. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved relatives.

The death of Mrs. Charles Staples, occurred on Saturday at her home in Fredericton, after a lingering illness.

Fred McLean, a well known resident of Fredericton died yesterday at his home, aged 77 years.

FOUND DEAD IN BARN.

William Smith of Carleton was found dead yesterday morning about eleven o'clock in J. Macintosh's barn, corner Germain and Watson streets, West St. Mr. Smith had recently been discharged from hospital and had been unable to find work. He was unmarried and very little is known about his immediate relatives, but it is understood that his mother is now living in the United States. Coroner Kenney could not definitely announce the cause of his death last night, but believed that exposure had probably contributed to it. The coroner said that, unless something of a suspicious nature developed no inquest would be held.

The town suffered some damage. Thousands of refugees are arriving here. The Porte has protested to the Allied high commissioners against alleged violations of the neutral zone by the Greek troops.

A LIGHT LUNCH.

New York, June 27.—Eleven pounds of beefsteak and twelve lamb chops are just an appetizer to former Alderman Frank J. Dotzler, who tips the scale at 360 pounds. At a dinner in the Cafe Boulevard he consumed this amount, beating all known records and then, emulating Oliver Twist, asked for more.

VANISHING BOWERY.

New York, June 27.—The Bowery isn't the Bowery any more with the passing of the famous old One-Mile House, a landmark for a century. The house is now being modeled into a restaurant, following the course of the Atlantic Gardens, German Hall, Steve Brodie's, Pat Farley's and others.

WIFE CHEWS CUT PLUG.

Detroit, June 27.—Alonso Sexton finds his wife's habit of chewing tobacco very annoying, he told Judge Cotter. "She chews tobacco your honor," he said. "I give her plenty of money, but she spends it all on cut plug. It's terrible stuff. I gave her seventy cents last week and she spent it all for chewing."

SHORT SKIRTS.

Paris, June 27.—Latest fashions show women's skirts short, well above the ankles. Smart women are plaiting their hair into a number of small tresses, wound lightly around the head in a manner which recalls the mid-Victorian era, and giving the impression of a small head.

POUR INK ON WOMEN'S COATS.

London, June 27.—A new form of depredation has made its appearance in London. A number of women have complained to the police that their coats have been run by ink being poured over them. Men's clothes are also being maliciously cut and damaged.

WHITE SLAVERY IN GERMANY.

Carlsruhe, Baden, June 27.—The number of German women who have disappeared in the last two years, the Friedburg-in-Breisgau emigration office reports, has assumed serious proportions. Within the last ten months, for instance, 376 girls disappeared from the Saxon Republic, with a little more than 4,000,000 population. Relatively higher is the number of missing girls in Hamburg. There can be no doubt that nearly all the missing girls are victims of white slavery.

SHORTER LEGS.

Chicago, June 27.—"We are not going to bell, even if the rest of the world is to lengthen your skirts or shorten your legs, and be decent," Wilbur Glenn Voliva, ruler of Zion City, told the girls of his domain. "You have either got to add twice as much goods to your dresses or burn them up and get new ones."

TRUSTS BEAUTY.

Chicago, June 27.—"What a beautiful ring," said a miss to C. B. Reilly as he stepped into a cabaret with a big diamond on his finger. "Yes, it cost me $1,800," was the proud reply of Reilly. DAMAGES FOR TOO LITTLE HEAT IN FLAT.

Winnipeg, Man., June 27.—A case of wide interest to tenants in apartment blocks was decided here recently when Henry H. Pigott, a tenant, brought suit against W. W. Cross, owner of a local apartment block, for failure of the janitor to provide sufficient steam heat. The plaintiff claimed that his lease entitled him to enough heat to keep his suite at a comfortable temperature. Evidence showed that the janitor was negligent on numerous occasions in this respect, one night the temperature dropped to 43 degrees.

WOMEN WHO LOOK WELL WILL KEEP SHORT SKIRTS.

New York, June 27.—Spring and summer fashions, will be fair so far as fashions go; at least, with respect to skirts, fair to middling. Dressmakers of Fifth Avenue have decided women will continue to wear 'em short as long as they wish, regardless of standards set by English women, who have decided eight inches from the ground is proper, and French women, who have fixed their shotguns as the place for the skirt to fall. "If American women look well in short skirts they will wear them," said one dressmaker.

ROW OVER TURKISH TRIPLETS.

Constantinople, June 27.—Among its arduous duties the Rebel Turkish Parliament has the task of naming triplets. The excited parents wired to Mustafa Kemal asking him to give the babies some names. He delegated the duty to parliament, recommending that the names should be such as always to recall that the babies were born during the struggle for Turkey's independence. Stormy debates are reported to be proceeding.

TO ORGANIZE RAT HUNTS AS A FASHION SPORT.

London, June 27.—Rat hunting, a combination of business and pleasure, is now suggested as a fashionable sport. The Chamber of Agriculture of Cheshire has been asked to support the policy of rat hunts organized among farmers and others. It was suggested that ladies and gentlemen form rat hunts as a means of enjoyment. One farmer told of a woman motoring to his farm with dogs and ferrets and killing 200 rats on his place.

VALE OF THE AGED.

London, June 27.—A surprising record for longevity is maintained by the inhabitants of Llangollen and the well-known vale. Octogenarians are numerous and people who have attained three-score years and ten are not regarded as among the aged inhabitants. Most of the people who have passed ninety spent their youthful days in the hills.

KICK IN THIS KISS.

Cincinnati, June 27.—You can get a genuine "kick"—alcoholic—from a kiss. Leo B. Ford, retiring head of the federal pure food and drug laboratory, has discovered that chemicals put in the toilet waters with which girls anoint their lips give rise to a violent come-back.

LUMINOUS DRESS.

Paris, June 27.—Phosphorescent frocks are the latest in Paris. The first of these luminous robes was seen in the poodle at Auteuil. The dress itself was black, with a design consisting of flowers done in phosphorescent paste. In the sunlight the effect is not particularly unusual, but as the wearer went into the tea-rooms the pattern on the dark background developed a faintly luminous glow which was certainly a novel effect in costume ornamentation.

STEP FORWARD, PLEASE.

Goshen, N. Y., June 27.—Steps in the bald-headed rows are now the only ones available for worshippers at the Presbyterian church. Because of the tendency of the congregation to sit in the back of the church, the rear pews are roped off, and are not given out until all others are gone.

DOLLARS IN SCENTS.

New York, June 27.—Before long the entire perfumery industry of the country will be in the hands of society women who find business a greater lure than the dizzy whirl. The latest is a shop opened on Park avenue by Mrs. Hamilton Pell and Mrs. Isabel St. George Joyce Pallen. They have made
