

WHAT'S NEW AT THE MOVIES

WILHELMINA'S CROWN IN DANGER

Washington, Nov. 15.—Information reaching here from official sources indicates that the situation in Holland is causing grave apprehension and that the presence there of the former German emperor with members of his family and some of his strongest supporters may so inflame the people as to endanger the monarchy.

While it is true, it was pointed out, that the former Kaiser is practically a prisoner in the Von Bentinck Castle, he is not the prisoner of any of his foes. It was suggested that the immediate fate of the ex-Kaiser is of little moment compared with other affairs in Europe, and it is chiefly because of the effect of his presence upon an already disturbed state in the Netherlands that he is the object of concern among Allied statesmen.

Bolshevism apparently has taken root in Holland. Before the war the relations between the Dutch and German courts were very close and it is suggested that the Bolshevists may see in the presence of the former ruler of Germany an excuse to precipitate an uprising against the queen.

London, Nov. 15.—Jonker Colyn, the former minister of war, who has been in London since July, returned to the Daily Express believes, to take charge of the government. The former minister has great influence in Holland and several times has refused the request of the queen to form a new government.

Promise of Busy Times for Port of St. John

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The reconstruction and development committee of the cabinet under the chairmanship of Hon. A. K. McLean conferred today with a representative gathering of prominent exporters and shipping men in regard to tonnage and export conditions and requirements following peace conditions.

The government expects that prompt and satisfactory arrangements can be made for providing tonnage to handle the export business now in slight deficit for both the Atlantic and Pacific trades. Exporters of machinery of all kinds, meats, fish, agricultural products, lumber, etc., are anticipating large orders from the necessities of war-devastated Europe but also for South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and South America which have been cut off more or less during the war from usual sources of outside supplies.

The steamship men declared at today's conference that they were prepared to put their carriers back on regular trade routes so soon as they were released by the admiralty. Some steamships, it is understood, will be immediately released for Canadian use to carry Canadian manufactured products ordered long ago to South Africa, New Zealand and Australia. It is the government's intention to arrange at once for the redelivery to Canadian ports of all the business which, because of war exigencies, has been diverted of late by United States ports. Halifax and St. John will doubtless be exceptionally busy ports from now on.

At today's conference there were representatives from the boards of trade of Halifax, St. John, Montreal and Quebec; from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and from the Elder Dempster Royal Mail and other steamship lines.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society was held last evening in the Knights of Pythias hall, German street. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Henry C. Rankine, president; S. Rutherford Jack, 1st vice-president; Clarence B. Allan, 2nd vice-president; Rev. J. A. MacKelligan, chaplain; Alexander Wilson, historian; John White, treasurer, and J. Bruce McPherson, secretary. C. W. Bell and J. Verne McLean were elected marshals and those elected to the committee of charity were: Dr. P. R. Inches, Francis F. Burpee and Arthur R. Melrose. John White has been a member of the society for more than fifty years, during practically all of which time he has acted as treasurer.

Owing to the absence of several of the jurymen the inquest into the death of George Kimball, which was to have been resumed last evening, was again postponed until next Wednesday evening, November 20.

HOW OTHER PLACES IN THE PROVINCE CELEBRATED

Gagetown, Nov. 15.—Beautiful weather made a perfect background for the celebration of Canada's day of general thanksgiving. Even the sky seemed to share in the gladness, and the night before the whole northern part of the sky was hung with beautiful streamers of northern lights. The day began here, as elsewhere, most fittingly with a service of thanksgiving, which, despite the short notice, was largely attended. The Te Deum, Now Thank We All Our God, Praise to the Holiest in the Height, and the national anthem were among the hymns sung. A short address was given by the rector, Rev. H. T. Buckland, recalling to whom the honor of the great victory was due, and commencing the brave men who laid down their lives in the cause of right. The holy communion was celebrated by the rector at the close of the service.

In the afternoon the Victory Loan flag, showing that Gagetown had gone over the top in the $35,000 objective, arrived. The credit of its winning is due to the energetic canvass of Fred L. Corey and his partner, Frank A. Smith. The arrival of the flag was the signal for an impromptu parade. The flag, streaming aloft from H. B. Bridges' car, which led the procession, was followed by a long line of marchers, Gagetown's women, who have tried to do their bit to make the lot of the fighting man easier, taking the prominent place. Children of all ages, even to little kiddies too small to comprehend all the day meant, kept bravely up to the march. Every one carried one or two Allied flags, and here and there a Red Cross flag appeared, and with the glad faces in the ranks the whole made a pretty as well as impressive sight.

The parade followed the length of Front street, and along the whole of the town, returning to the wharf just as the Champlain arrived. The national anthem was sung, and the ranks disbanded amid cheers and a prolonged and noisy salute from the steamer.

In the evening the ex-kaiser, who had been in hiding all day, was dragged from his lair to a lofty brush heap at the junction of the Mill road and Queen street. Although extremely pale, the once all highest was easily recognized by his spiked helmet and military cloak. His cries for mercy, if any there were, were drowned in the hootings and execrations of the mob as the flames rose around his quaking form. Everyone was determined to make a good job of it, and it was late before the entire crowd disappeared.

St. George, Nov. 14.—The week has been one that long will be remembered in St. George. Very early Monday morning the great news came and almost before daylight the small boy was in the street with his horn and tin pan. The church bells pealed out the joyful tidings at 8 o'clock, and the people soon began to assemble. At 9 p. m. a service of thanksgiving was held on the bandstand, when the following programme was carried out: Remarks by Mayor McGrath; hymn, Lord's Prayer; scripture reading, Rev. Mr. DeWolf; prayer of thanksgiving, Rev. J. Spencer; national anthem, Rev. Mr. DeWolf.

The mayor then read the government proclamation and a telegram from the mayor of Eastport inviting the citizens of St. George down to Eastport to aid in their celebration. The St. George band gave a musical concert until supper time, which was greatly appreciated by the large crowd present. Automobiles from every section of the county adjoining St. George brought loads of people in to see the fun. In the evening the small boys had a big bonfire on the square and it was long after midnight ere the echoes of the horns and joyful shouts died away.

In Apohaqui, Nov. 14.—The news of the signing of the armistice was received here with deep feelings of thankfulness and joy, mingled with a tinge of sadness and sympathy, renewed sorrow for those who have lost their loved ones in the great conflict and sympathy for those who cannot hope for the return for their boys who sleep across the seas. Nevertheless, a spirit of joy prevailed though the celebrations were unassuming. Many of the younger people spent Tuesday in St. John while others visited Sussex and joined in the thanksgiving and hilarity of the world-wide joy.

The mammoth parade so fittingly arranged by the town of Sussex, extended their march to this village and was a pleasing spectacle, composed of 168 gaily decked automobiles with the Sussex fire department and many unique and amusing conveyances, as well as a large number of young lady pedestrians in varied and representative costumes. The owners of automobiles in this place were invited by the neighboring town to participate in the parade. Those who accepted were George B. Jones, M.P.P., W. A. Jones and Harley S. Jones, whose cars were fittingly decorated, that of W. A. Jones representing the Victory Loan and carried the Apohaqui Victory Loan honor flag.

On Monday evening the citizens of the usually quiet village of Berwick, were thoroughly aroused in consequence of the glad news of peace and a large number

Canada Pays Heavy Price For Victory and Peace

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—More than 55,000 Canadian soldiers have laid down their lives in the war, according to official figures. Total casualties received here to November 15 are given at 123,268, an aggregate which will likely be increased owing to the fact that the troops of the dominion were engaged in heavy fighting at Mons up to the last minute of the fighting and reports of the latest casualties are still being received at Ottawa.

The Details.

The official figures follow:
Died in action	85,128
Died of wounds	12,048
Died of disease	8,469
Total known deaths	105,645
Presumed dead	154,861
Missing	849
Wounded	4,462
Prisoners of war	2,860
Total casualties	218,268

The Great Sacrifice.

Newcastle, Nov. 15.—Two more of the 182nd Battalion have made the supreme sacrifice in France before the cessation of hostilities: Pte. Charles Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Butler, of Nordin, aged eighteen, leaving his parents and several brothers and sisters; and Pte. W. P. Tozer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Tozer, of Nelson, aged twenty-two, leaving his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Lorne, of Newcastle; Traven and Marshall, of Nelson; Guy, overseas; Mrs. Wm. McInnis, of Chelmsford; and the Misses Annie and Wilhelmina, at home.

Pte. George H. Calhoun, of Sussex, has died of wounds. In the midst of the peace celebration, Superintendent R. A. Smith announced the death of this young soldier on October 4 of wounds received on the battlefield. Private Calhoun was with the 104th Battalion as quartermaster-sergeant, and was transferred to the engineers while in England. He was home on furlough last spring, returning to England in June. As a soldier he was of the finest type, inspired by the highest sense of duty. Private Calhoun's wife was formerly Miss Vera Jones, daughter of Seth Jones, of Sussex. His father, J. I. Calhoun, and sister, Ruth, both reside in the town, where great sympathy is felt for all of them in their sad loss.

NOT MUCH LIQUOR IN THE WAREHOUSES

Chief Liquor Inspector Wilson has cancelled the liquor license granted temporarily in Minto (N. B.). Rev. Mr. Wilson said that he had taken this action in result of reported abuse. He is also planning curtailing temporary vendorships granted during the influenza epidemics.

Had the large gathering of hoodlums, who raided the bonded warehouse in Nelson street last Monday night, realized that only a very small amount of liquor was stored there, they would undoubtedly have thought twice before making an attempt to break in and loot them in Dorchester. Speaking to a Telegraph reporter Chief Inspector Wilson said that the greater quantity of the liquor seized by the sub-inspectors had been distributed to hospitals and health inspectors during the epidemic, and that only a very small amount was now on hand. A very small amount was now on hand. A very small amount was now on hand.

The navy department's announcement at the time said fifteen lives were lost. The Aquitania continued on her course. Apparently she was not damaged by the collision. Because of the possible presence of U-boats the fleet steamed ahead with the exception of the destroyers, which went to the ship's rescue.

ment is to be greatly commended for its efforts to encourage sheep-raising, but the dog mania should first be done away with. I am a lover of dogs. I have owned more than half a dozen at various times. Some were first and special prize winners. The affection of a dog to its owner is remarkable. Its devotion and companionship is admitted, but the solution of the sheep question can only be reached when every dog in the province off its owner's premises and not under leash or accompanied by its master is put out of harm's way.

THE RECALL

Fred A. Campbell, vice-president of the Local Trades and Labor Council, announced to The Telegraph last night that supplementary names in reference to the recall papers had been secured and since the matter was made known to him by the council clerk, he had collected thirty additional names. He said that by this evening he would easily have the required number—forty-four to each list. They would be given to city hall on Monday.

Captain Neville, general inspector of mess rooms, etc., arrived in the city yesterday and left again for Halifax.

SCHOOL CASE GOES TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Once again the Ottawa separate school troubles will go before the privy council. Notice of appeal from the judgment from the first appellate court a few weeks ago is being served by counsel for the Roman Catholic School Board. Before Justice Clute, the board was successful in their action to recover money from the banks and members of the commission appointed by the Ontario government.

The Ontario government put the schools under the control of a commission but the privy council held the creation of the commission was ultra vires. The board then sued the commission and the banks for the money spent during the time the schools were conducted by the commission and Justice Clute gave judgment in their favor. The appellate court, however, have reversed that judgment on the ground that the commissioners should be indemnified for the money expended even though the commission had been illegally appointed. Appeal to the highest court is now made.
