One of the members of the government was thrown out of the cabinet because he would not agree with separation. One of the first movements of the government was to threaten to go out of Dominion if they did not get what they asked for. In 1886 the finance minister was elected a member of the house. One of his first actions as a member was to sign the following address:

To the lovers of civil and religious liberty in America:

The bearer, Mr. William Duncan, for 30 years a devoted missionary of religion and civilization in British North America, and during the whole of that period well known to the undersigned, is on his way to Washington, deputed by the native christian brethren of Metlakahtla, to confer with the United States authorities on matters affecting their interests and desires.

Like the pilgrim fathers of old, this afficted but prosperous and thrifty flock, seek a refuge from grievous wrongs, and hope to find it under the American flag.

They prefer abandoning the home of their fathers and the precious fruits of their industry, to submitting to violent seizure of their land and the intolerable stings of religious greed and interference. We therefore most respectfully commend Mr. Duncan and his mission to such brothers and friends in our sister country—the land of the free—as may be disposed to use their influence in aid of the oppressed.

Mr. Brown-Is this not the land of the free? The land of the free, I suppose, is across the line. That was the first use the finance minister made of his position as a member of the legislature. Hon. Mr. Davie moved the adjournment of the debate until Monday.

Hon. Mr. Davie introduced the redistribution bill. It was read a first time and he suggested that it be placed on the orders of the day for a second reading on Hon. Mr. Beaven said the members should have more time to consider the bill. It had taken the government several years to consider it. Mr. Semlin said the people of the province should have a short time at least to consider the bill. Hon. Mr. Beaven moved in amendment that the second reading of the bill be considered a week from Monday. The people should be given an opportunity to consider the bill. Hon. Mr. Vernon said the government were in no hurry with the bill. The amendment was in bad taste. It could not be said that the house would be ready to go on with the bill. Mr. Kitchen said if they could place faith in what the last speaker said it would be all right. It was known that the last redistribution bill was rushed through the house. bill before it was discussed in the house Hon. Mr. Beaven's amendment was defeated on the usual division and the mo thon that it be put on the orders of the day for Monday next was carried. The house adjourned at 5:20

Borrowed the Stockings. The story is told that a citizen of East Greenwich who is well provided with the wherewithal for purchasing this world's goods, went into a dry goods store the other day and asked to see some men's stockings. Selecting a pair, he placed them in his overcoalt pocket and walked out with never a syllable to the proprietor about payment. As he was well known to the dealer, the latter said nothing, feeling sure that the temporary absentimindedness of his customer would soon vanish, and he would have a good laugh on him when he received the money. About half an hour later the customer walked in, took the stockings from his pocket, laid them on the counter, and again walked off without leaving behind so much as a fragment of explanation. An investigation brought light the fact that the man wanted purchase a new pair of shoes, and as his own stockings were a little shabby he took this method of borrowing a pair to wear while he went to the shoe store for the article.—Providence Journal.

the slightest trace of poison in the woman's stomach. Coroner Walkem of Nanaimo arrived down at 12:20 to-day and at 2 o'clock opened the inquest in the provincial police court. Herbert Carmichael, the first witness, testified that he was present at the post-mortem made on the body of Mrs. Roberts by Dr. O. M. Jones and received from him and examined with him certain portions of the body. He took the stomach and contents and the whole of the intestines and contents, some of the lungs, part of the brain, some muscular tissue, and some of the blood. He took them to the public laboratory and examined them for any post-mortem indication of poison. There were only two symptoms which would suggest poison and they might of been caused by disease. One was the condition of the liver. It showed flat cells under microscope. The white condition of the skin might have been a symptom of poisoning by arsenic. A careful examination for phosphorus revealed not a trace. The method tried would have revealed 1 part in 200,-000. It was an absolute certainty that there was no phosphorus there. He also tried a general method for any poison and found no trace whatever.

The certificates which I was simply to prevent them from burying any smallpox dead. It stated that deceased had not died of contagious or infectious diseases. A great number of these certificates were simply orders on the city clerk to grant burial permits to the undertakers. By this means he had succeeded in preventing the burial of several Chinese who had died of smallpox. In no case had he mentioned the cause of death. He was very much surprised that Dr. Morrison could so far forget himself as to give a certificate of the cause of death after only looking at the face of the deceased.

Coroner Walkem-Did he forget him self? I do not think so. Dr. Duncan said he did not believe that Mr. Story had understood matters. He explained his trouble in handling making a false certificate. That ended the taking of evidence. Coroner Walkem, in his address to the jury, said the base of the case could be raced to the little family jar at Plumper's Pass. The charges against Mr. Col linson were of a serious nature and should never have been made. He reviewed the manner in which the papers had handled it, particularly those on the Sound. He commented on the action of the Robsons and the figure they cut in the case. He said Dr. Morrison needed attention of the jury as well. He thought the jury would have little trouble in reaching a verdict and deplored the fact making the charges.

The jury returned a verbal report; simply finding that the woman had died frem natural causes, an attempt at censure had evidently failed, for before the jury came in there was a query as to 'he number of votes in the six necessary to get a verdict, and when Foreman Erskine repeated the verdict he said, "that is the only one we can agree on."

Frank McCain, Deputy City Clerk of Tacoma, and Brother Arrested Here. Frank D. McCain, deputy city clerk of Tacoma, was arrested as he was leaving the City of Kingston here yesterday morning, on a charge of forgery. His brother, John McCain, who accompanied him, was also taken into custody on the same charge, and it is presumed that he was an accomplice. The arrests were made by Sergeant Levin and Constable Carson on a dispatch received on Saturday afternoon by acting Chief Walker. The two men fled from Tacoma on Friday night, spent Saturday in Seattle and got away from the latter place on Saturday night. The local officers had been advised that the McCains had gotten out of Washington on Saturday, so on Saturday night Sergeant Levin and Constable Carson watched the Premier, but of course found nothing. On the arrival of the Kingston they were on hand and learned that the men they wanted were aboard and secluded in a stateroom. The officers did not board the ship but simply waited. The McCains came off about 7 o'clock and were immediately arrested. They protested very strongly that it was a case of mistaken identity and gave the names of Doane and James. They were taken to the barracks and locked up sparately. They declined to make any statement. One is a tall man, slightly gray but evidently not over 30 years of age and the other of medium height and probably 25 years of age. They are both well known residents of Tacoma and prominent in the fraternal orders. The Tacoma News of Saturday says this of the crime of Frank McCain: A warrant is out for the arrest of Deputy City Clerk Francis D. McCain on the charge of forgery and embezzlement. It is said that McCain has secured between $1000 and $2000 by means of forged city warrants. Her physician had advised her removal In the mean time City Clerk Smyth and Mayor Huson had begun an investigation and the result was that late yesterday afternoon a warrant was sworn out for the arrest of McCain. It is not fully known how extensive the alleged operations have been. Two forged warrants issued to the Fox Island clay works, each for $438.75 have already come to rants having been sold by McCain.

light. There are supposed to be several other warrants in circulation, the warcently McCain sent down the book of warrants to the office of Controller Slaughter to have some warrants countersigned. In going over them Mr. Slaughter noticed that four warrants were missing and that the stubs had been marked "void." He sent a clerk to Mc-Cain and the latter called upon the controller and said that he had taken the book home the night before to get the warrants in shape and that while his wife was talking he made mistakes in the amounts of the warrants and had examined next for arsenic which is easily destroyed them. Sergeant Walker wired the Tacoma chief yesterday morning that he had his men in custody and a reply stating that the chief would come here on the first boat was received. The McCains will go back to Tacoma
