

THE EVENING GAZETTE

Published every evening (Sundays excepted) at No. 63, WATERLOO STREET, SAINT JOHN, N. B. Editor and Publisher JOHN A. BOWEN.

BETTER TRADE RELATIONS

The editor of the Globe feels very unhappy over the consequences of his unexcused crusade, for the Globe has been heavily both in advertising and circulation since the Globe made its appearance in the newspaper field, and is being ground every day. From a conservative yielding a moderate profit to a loss at the end of the year. And this of itself is enough to fill the soul of the man without a country who edits it with dark and gloomy thoughts.

NOTE AND COMMENT. The ally Telegraph is still harping on the same old story, the Liberal victory won there by reason, honesty and justice. It thinks that Mr. Laurier's speech proved that reciprocity was the principle of truth, honesty and justice. If the Liberal deflection can be justified after such a trial the Gazette has no more to say.

THE PORTLAND DEFLECTION. The Telegraph is still as dumb as an ox in regard to the Portland deflection; the public interests are nothing to it; indeed, unless common sense is very much at a premium, it is not more than its manager can attend to with satisfaction to himself and those who have financial relations with the paper. The St. John's that the Portland matter is too serious to be passed over to be tried out by the press, but says that the Magazine and other organs of the Court have yet to be heard from.

HERE AND THERE

A Bostonian speaks of "the two great infidels, Robert Ingersoll and Robert Bellamy." Eugene Field, the Chicago humorist, has finally abandoned eclectic Buddhism, and is now devoting himself to an investigation of Socialism in its religious aspects.

THE ACQUITTAL OF PRINCESS HENRY is expected to take place at Koll about the middle of next month. The Emperor of Germany will probably go to Kiel to assist in turning the Princess. Her confinement is expected to take place three months hence.
