A WOMAN FOUND BOUND AND GAGGED IN PRINCE WILLIAM STREET OFFICE BY POLICE

Mysterious Occurrence Last Evening—Miss Margaret J. MacLean Found Huddled in Corner in J. A. Pugsley & Co.'s Office—She Was Bound and Gagged But Could Not Explain to Police.

Gagged with a handkerchief, and with her hands tied behind her back, Miss Margaret J. MacLean was found by the police in J. A. Pugsley & Co.'s branch office at 150 Prince William street last night, about 10:45 o'clock, and the matter caused a great deal of excitement. Miss MacLean was the stenographer in the office, which is the engine branch of the St. John Garage Company, and of which G. H. Kaye of 55 lot Row is in charge. Last night's occurrence is a mystery, and will remain such until Miss MacLean is able to give out a statement.

Miss MacLean's home is in Chatham. She boarded at William Straight's residence, 40 Westworth street. Last evening at six o'clock, Mr. Kaye left Miss MacLean in the office, and there was nothing apparently wrong. Miss MacLean did not arrive at her boarding house for her evening meal, however, but nothing was thought about this. In the boarding house there resides Thomas Blanch, who has a telephone, and about 10:45 o'clock last night the telephone rang and was answered by young Mr. Straight, and he received this startling message from Miss MacLean: "Come down to the office quick. I am dying."

Young Mr. Straight hastened to the office on Prince William street, and found the door unlocked, and the place in darkness. He did not enter but hastened to Charlotte street where he found Policemen Thomas Sullivan and Silas Perry, whom he informed of the message he received. The officers, who were followed by about 50 men, hastened to the office. On entering, Policeman Sullivan switched on the electric lights and was startled to find Miss MacLean lying on the floor. She was without hat or jacket and apparently unconscious. Her head was between a roll top desk and the wall, and when the officer pulled her out he and the others present were horrified to find that she had a handkerchief tied over her mouth and knotted behind her head. Her hair was hanging about her face and her nose was bleeding. The blood was on the handkerchief and on the front of her shirtwaist. Her hands were tied behind her back with a stout piece of wrapping cord, and so tightly was the cord wound about her wrists that it had cut into the flesh.

As soon as the unfortunate woman was pulled out from between the desk and the wall, the handkerchief was removed from her mouth, and the cord cut from her wrists she became hysterical, and in a most frightened manner screamed and caught hold of the policeman. Dr. Case, who had been given a hurry call was soon on the scene, but could not get any answers to his questions. The doctor advised that

MAYOR PLEDGES AID TO GET PLAYGROUND

Speaking on Aberdeen School Ground, Last Evening, he Promised to Get Council to Help Project.

The playgrounds at the Aberdeen school presented an animated scene last evening when another open air concert was given by the children who attend the playgrounds. The entertainment eclipsed all previous efforts of the kind, the programme as published in The Standard yesterday being carried out in excellent manner by the children. The attendance at last evening's entertainment was much greater than at those already held, not only showing an increase in the number of children, but a larger representation of adults as well, numbering among the visitors, His Worship Mayor Frink, Magistrate Ritchie and other prominent citizens.

In a brief address Mayor Frink expressed himself as greatly impressed with the beneficial results obtained from the playgrounds movement, and regretted that the work is not carried out on a more extensive scale in St. John, and pledged himself to interest the common council in providing greater facilities for carrying out the work. The council had already adopted the principle of municipal playgrounds, but the matter had been dropped there but his worship hoped to bring the matter to the consideration of the council within the next few months. He understood that a suitable field is available for the purpose, and promised to do what he could to further the movement. Magistrate Ritchie also delivered an address in which he congratulated the children on the success of their entertainment, and expressed his appreciation of the excellent results that have followed the establishment of playgrounds and promised to join in

ST. JOHN RIFLEMEN DID GOOD SHOOTING

Some Important Prizes were Won by Local Men in P. R. A. Meeting in Sussex, this Week.

St. John has been particularly fortunate this year in her representatives at the provincial rifle meet at Sussex, and as a result of the excellent shooting by the St. John marksmen, a number of the most valuable and most coveted trophies came to this city. Among those who from this city captured honors at the meet were Lloyd O. Bentley, of the Thirty-ninth regulars, Geo. W. Hazen and Major Perley. Among the trophies won by the St. John marksmen is the Prince of Wales Cup which was won by Lieut. L. O. Bentley. The cup was presented for competition in 1860 by the Prince of Wales. The cup will be held by Lieut. Bentley for a year, and is valued at about $400. In addition he captured a medal, and won second place in the grand aggregate, winning the P. R. A. silver medal. The McAvity cup offered for competition by Col. McAvity, also comes to this city, having been won by Geo. W. Hazen, who in addition to capturing the cup won honors in the nursery match. The third successful local marksman is Major H. Perley, who won the valuable cup offered by Col. H. H. McLean.
