NOTICES OF THE WISDOM OF THE KING

Rev. James Bennet, ST. JOHN, N. B.

BEAVER, CHINCHILLAS, 66 FVIDENCES of deep and serious thought throughout the volume."-Belfast News "Succeeds well in seizing on the salient points of the words of the Royal Preacher, and in bringing them home to present duty."—Glasgow Datiy Review, Feb 6, 1871. "Characterized by directness of aim, sound sense, and right appreciation of the sacred writer's menning."—The Preachers' Lantern, (London), Feb. 1871.

"The production of a highly cultivated mind.

We have read several works on Ecclesiastes, and well remember the pleasure with which years ago we perused the 'Royal Preacher,' but for fine criticism, comprehensiveness of thought, striking illustration and unostentatious, yet eloquent and forcible style, The Wishom of The King, we think, surpasses them all."

—St. Croix Courier, March 6, 1871.

"The volume is not an unworthy companion of Dr. Buchanan on the same book."—The Houlist (London), April 1871. of Dr. Buchana of messam or milist (London), April 1871.

"A series of charming Essays. . . . Each chapter branches out into innumerable topics of a seeondary and collateral nature, giving to the work a boundless diversity, enriched with stores of ethical as well as of spiritual wisdom, evincing at once acute observation of social life and of human character, and containing the nothest lessons for practical guidance. Our author's style is remarkable for its free, uncon strained flow, almost collequial at times, but invariably signalized by elegance, force, adaptation to the subject, and not seldom by originality of thought in combination with terseness and beauty of expression. . There is about it a freshness, as well as a fullness of practical teaching, rarely to be met with in ordinary Biblical commentaries,"—Londonderry Standard, Feb. 15, 1871.

"This is a bright, breezy book, both interest ng and instructive. We can most conscien the most sprightly, attractive and instructive works of its kind that has fallen under our observation."—Boston Evening Traveller, May THE Subscriber begs to return thanks to all who have patronised him during the past twelve years, and to inform his friends and the public generally that he has opened his new Model BOARDING, SALE AND LIVERY Model BOARDING, SALE AND LIVERY STABLES, in the rear of Mr. Thos. "Bo plain yet so suggestive, so practical yet so profound are these Lectures that while you read them you feel their deep truth and reality; that you are in contact with realities both visible and invisible; that you are in close contact with the beating heart of nature and humanity, and that all their life and hope flow full and free from God alone,"—Fredericton Head Quarters, March 1st, 1871.

"The writer is evidently well acquainted with the literature of his subject, and that acquaint nee reveals itself almost unconsciously in every page. There is no estentation of reading or learning, but there is everywhere the gleaming forth of light which cannot be hid.

The style is simple, intelligible, graceful. It shows at once that Mr. Bennet is a man of literary culture, who can express his thoughts with scholarly chasteness and good taste. We could not open a page without meeting some thought vigorously expressed. The work is eminently fresh and readable."—Pres. Witness, Halifax.

"He reveals in the treatment of his themes strong common sense, a firm grasp of thought, a logical acumen and a cleer insight into human character. Even when dealing with trite ideas he imparts to them as novelty and interest by which they are lifted into an importance they scarcely deserve. The style throughout is lucid, pure, compact, forcible,—and it is his own—the garb of his own thinking. We have met in our perusal of the book with numerous paragraphs of finished and brilliant rhetorio-fine specimens of pulpit oratory. He is never tame nor tiresome. We have not found one slin shod sentence in the volume."—Christian Visitor, (Baptiet) March 6th, 1871.

"We were not prepared to find him writing in such a finished style and issuing such a volume as 'the result of certain preparations made for an evening lecture to his congregation.' If all his pulpit perfermances are equal to these, his people have reason to rejoice in the Providence which guided his steps to them."—Evangelical Witness, May 1st 1871.

"This is a remarkably thoughtful, zolid book Mr. Bennet is evidently at home in Metaphysics and Ethics, and he is a shrewd observer of human nature in its ordinary manifestation; consequently he ranges over the lessons of the Preacher with a power of illustration which shews his mastery of the subject. The style is close and direct, and yet so lucid, that any reader may understand every sentence in the volume. It will, we doubt not, take its place, as it ought to do, among our household expositions of this treatise of observation and Jewish wisdom "The Presbyterian (Philadel phia), May 20, 1871.

phia), May 20, 1871.

"The lessons to be learned are drawn with a master's hand, and are expressed with a combined force and beauty that we have rarely seen surpassed in the production of any author. The ordinary reader will find nothing that is above his comprehension, and yet it would be difficult to find a common place thought or form of expression. A combination of these requisites we deem the highest merit a writer can possess.
"We will be much disappointed if the book do not command a wide circulation. Wherever a sound literature is felt to be a deside atum, The Wisdom of the King has but to be known to be prized as a work that the world will not Journal.

"THE WISDOM OF THE KING is well worth careful reading. Indeed you cannot read much of it at once. There is a constant play of fancy about the thoughts, and often the very words, that is admirably suited to the Scripture book, of which this is an exposition, but which demands such constant attention on the reader's part that he gets tired, for he does not know where it is to end. The style is compact, lucid, often sparkling and epigrammatic, the sentence cut sharply, but with a poetic fullness of original illustration that redeems them from all hard ness,"—Hultiax Monthly Record, (Church of Scot land).

"The Lieutenant Governor has been pleased to accept the resignation of the Honorable Levite Theriault as a Member of the Executive Council of this province.

"James M. Brown, John B. Grant, James Yerxa, Norman Hallett, A. S. Hartt, James W. Ebbett, William M'Kay, Robert Sloot, James K. Pinder, and Thomas M. Vay, Esquires, to be Justices of the Peace for the County of York.

"William M'Keen, Esquire, to be a Coroner for the County of York."

A Perversion.

The Boston Post twists the Tribune's matter of fact paragraph of a few days ago, relative to a disturbance in St. David's Church, into the following shape:

A drunkist entered a St. John, N. B., church, clambered over a pew door, subsided into a slumber, and finally woke up and distracted the attention of the congregation by abruptly warbling Old Hundred in the middle of the pastor's fifteenthly.

An Indian Parallel to the Tichborne Case.

The Tichborne baronetcy case, now the subject of such interest at home, recalls to our mind a somewhat similar case which happened in this part of the world some of the pretended claimant to the Burdwan Gaddi, which at the time created the utmost excitement all over Bengal. The stake then played for was greater by far. for if the Tichborne estates are worth £40.000 per annum, the Burdwan Raj had an annual income of £130,600, besides a vast sum accumulated by the old rajah and his ancestors. The Burdwan Raj had an annual income of £130,600, besides a vast sum accumulated by the old rajah and his ancestors. Nobody could tell what became of him. As may well be supposed, every possible and impossible search was made; as the body was not found the general belief was that the heir apparent to the Burdwan Raj was not found the general belief was that the heir apparent to the Burdwan Raj was at this day the Rajah of Burdwan. Fourten had proved fruitless, adopted a son, who is at this day the Rajah of Burdwan. Fourten had proved fruitless, adopted a son, who is at this day the Rajah of Burdwan. Fourten of the congregation
