

trust, for the administration of the estate or the execution of the trusts. C.R. 202.

85. An assignee of a chose in action may sue in respect thereof without making the assignor a party. C.R. 202.

86. The Court may require any other person to be made a party to an action to which Rules 79 to 84 apply, and may give the conduct of the action to such party as it deems proper; and may make such order as it deems just for placing the plaintiff on the record on the same footing in regard to costs as other persons having a common interest with him in the matter in question. C.R. 202.

87. Where a reference is directed the persons who, but for Rules 79 to 84, would have been necessary parties, shall be served with an office-copy of the judgment (unless the Court or Master dispenses with such service) indorsed with a notice according to Form No. 41, and after such service they shall be bound by the proceedings in the same manner as if they had been originally made parties; and upon notice to the plaintiff they may at their own risk as to costs require notice to be given them to enable them to attend the proceedings under the judgment. Any person so served may apply to the Court to add to, vary, or set aside the judgment within ten days from the date of such service. C.R. 202.

88. In administration proceedings no person other than the executor or administrator shall, unless by leave, be entitled to appear on the claim of any person against the estate of the deceased. C.R. 204.

89. The Court, if it thinks fit, may pronounce a judgment saving the rights of all persons not parties. C.R. 205.

90. Where it appears that a deceased person who was interested in the matters in question has no personal representative, the Court may either proceed in the absence of any person representing his estate or may appoint some person to represent the estate for all the purposes of the action or other proceeding, on such notice as may seem proper, notwithstanding that the estate in question may have a substantial interest in the matters, or that there may be active duties to be performed by the person so appointed, or that he may represent interests adverse to the plaintiff, or that administration of the estate whereof representation is sought is claimed; and the order so made and any orders consequent thereon, shall bind the estate of such deceased person, in the same manner as if a duly appointed personal representative of such person had been a party to the action or proceeding. C.R. 194.
