

Buy An Oliver Plow

OLIVER Plows are made to meet Western Canadian plowing conditions. Oliver sulky and gang plows have landed beams which enable you to work four horses abreast with no horse walking on the plowed ground, and without side strain on the beams. Shares and moldboards are correctly curved; the extra high wheels have adjustable bearings and extra wide tires. These features mean light running, long wear, better work—the right plow to buy.

Oliver tractor-gangs are built in 4, 5, and 6-base sections, enabling you to use a gang with any desired number of bottoms. This construction also makes the Oliver tractor-gang the most flexible of all. It follows the engine steadily and plows evenly.

We call your attention here to only a few of the many important features of Oliver plows. You will find just the plow you need in the Oliver line. See and study the plows for yourself at the I. H. C. local agent's place of business. Get a catalogue from him, or write the nearest branch house.

worked up. Cooler weather and a more urgent feeding need and a brisk demand for oats for shipment to France and Sweden have helped to put oats to new high levels. And with greater armies being put in the field all the time, it appears that there will be no cessation in the demand. Corn alone is a safety valve on oat values and Expert Snow is out with a bullish estimate on the new corn crop. As long as the oats are taken for export in such quantities and there is such a good home demand, higher levels will be inevitable. Good seed oats will be very scarce and should be kept, as the demand will be already insistent.

Barley has steadily come to its own. Note the inspections given above. A steady revival of business conditions in the United States has also helped barley. Nowhere are stocks large or pressing on the market. This grain will likely continue to move slowly upward.

Flax

This grain languished all the month of October with a poor demand. Everyone knew it was away below its real value but no improvement seemed in sight till the recent frosts greatly damaged the Argentine crop. Then a big advance was recorded in three days. The market will now likely hinge upon the conditions from week to week of the Argentine crop. The foreign demand for oil cake has also improved considerably. Farmers should keep flax at home whenever at all possible.

No Falling Off in Students

The total enrolment of students at Manitoba Agricultural College this year shows a decided increase over 1913. In the Home Economics division there are several more young women, there being an increase of about 20 per cent; while in Agriculture the 1st, 2nd and 5th year classes will be larger than in any previous year at the opening date. This increase in attendance indicates very clearly that people in the country are not allowing the unsettled commercial conditions to affect their programme of providing suitable education for their sons and daughters.

Growing Interest in Poultry

In connection with the methods of farming being practised in Manitoba, it is interesting to notice from time to time evidences of greater interest being taken in stockraising, dairying and poultry raising. The Extension Division of the Manitoba Agricultural College announces that 22 seed fairs, being held under the auspices of agricultural societies during the next few weeks, are everyone offering special prizes for dressed poultry and a number have requested that the college supply lecturers, capable of giving instruction in the feeding and dressing of poultry for market.

“Did you ever dress a chicken?”
“No, my girls are all boys. But I understand it costs a heap of money.”
