SAVE YOU MONEY

"Steel Fence Posts are Cheaper and Better Than Wood"

You have used wooden posts for a long while. So did your father before you, and his father before him.

But in spite of this, their reputation never has been very good. They rot and break off. Insects bore into them, and breed crop-destroying pests. They burn easily. It is a big job to erect them. You have to dig a big hole, plant the post in it and then fill the hole up again. Three times as much work as is necessary.

Now then, here is why STEEL TUBE FENCE POSTS are cheaper and better:

They cost less to buy.

Their price per post is lower than good cedar.

The labor cost of erecting them is only one-third that of erecting wooden posts. With a boy to help, you can drive a line of Steel Tube Posts almost as easily as you drive a row of nails. They never rot and they cannot burn. They are cleaner and economize space. No pests can breed in them. Frost cannot lift them, and they never wobble nor sag like the wooden posts.

A few blows with a heavy mallet and they are in to stay, anchored for all time.

Listen, Mr. Farmer, to this piece of advice: "Ask the men who have used them." If they do not confirm what we say you will be out nothing. If they do, then on your next fence building you can save two-thirds of the labor in erecting posts and a considerable proportion of the labor in attaching the fence.

STANDARD FENCING

is made from full Government Standard No. 9 Gauge Wire carefully and thoroughly galvanized. It is woven even, stretches flat, and will outwear and outserve any fence on the market.

The Standard Knot—"The Tie that Binds"

This knot is our recent improvement on the original device which we invented, and which has been largely copied by other manufacturers of farm fencing. The improvement secures a gradual curve that never injures the galvanizing. We guarantee them not to rust.
