A Modern Fable "Glimpses of Thrift-Land"

HIS is the name of a clever, attractive little Souvenir Book just published by the International Harvester Company of America. It is a fascinating story told in rhyme wherein a strange fairy unexpectedly calls on Farmer Brown and entertains him with an astounding tale that beautifully pictures the Land of Wealth and Happiness.

This fairy, Prosperity, or "Prospy," as he calls himself, is such a strangelooking, half-human, half-elf person-age that Farmer Brown stares in open-eyed wonder at his visitor. And Prospy" is a remarkable creature-a big golden-yellow ear of corn constitutes his body which is covered by a green coat and vest of corn husks. He wears a red-clover military cap surmounted by a combination plume of alfalfa and oats. In his right hand he carries a long spear which Farmer Brown notes is a gigantic stalk of bearded wheat.

In his left hand this bold Emissary of Thrift-Land carries a big yellow shield. He has an extra supply of shorter timothy arrows strapped to his back. This make-up, together with his broad, bland smile, makes "Prospy" truly a curiosity to Farmer Brown, as indeed he would be to any-body. "Prospy" plays the role of a titled Son of the Soil, who generously offers to show Farmer Brown the short, straight road to Prosperity.

We can't do justice to the beauty of this little book, "Glimpses of Thrift-Land." Nor does the picture of the outside cover begin to do it justice. Unfortunately the color scheme and numerous illustrations cannot be shown in this publication. In one place "Prospy" says: "Wouldst have a glimpse

Of Thrift-Land fair-The smiling land With promise rare? Take my right hand, Your eyes shall see Less toil and true Prosperity.' But Farmer Brown, sweating and working in the hayfield, is very skeptical at first-doesn't take much stock in such a tale.

"Lead on! Lead on! Said Farmer Brown; If you're no faker From the town, For I would learn What you suggest -I'm almost dying

For a rest." "Prospy" goes on and fulfills

THE FARMER'S ADVOCATE.

"Glimpses of Thrift-Land" and see "Prospy," the little fairy.

If you want to write the Interna-tional Harvester Company of America, they will send you, free, one copy of the booklet, "Glimpses of Thrift-Land." Then you will be able to see "Prospy" in all of his four-colored glory and hear the talk he puts up to Farmer Brown. It is certainly a striking little story, most clevery told in rhyme and picture.

A pretty souvenir in the shape of a monogram tie or stickpin or in lapel button form accompanies each copy of "Glimpses of Thrift-Land," provided you write "Prospy," care International Harvester Company of America, and send the names and address of some one or more persons whom you think might want a Cream Separator, Manure Spreader, Gasoline Engine, Wagon, Feed Grinder, Hay Press, Auto Buggy or Disk Harrow. In writing, our readers should be sure to state whether they want silver, gold or bronze finish. If you prefer a lapel button in gold finish, instead of a stick-pin, you may have it. The Monogram Stickpin, together with "Glimpses of Thrift-Land," are such attractive souvenirs that we are printing a small coupon this month for the benefit of the many who will want them. These presents will undoubtedy go fast, so if you really want one, now is the time to send in the coupon.

Then "Prospy" will be pleased to call on you with his illustrated pic-tures of "Thrift-Land" and the entertaining story of how to get there. You should address him, "Prosperity," should address him, Room ..., care International Harvester Company of America, Chicago, Ill.

Souvenir-Bringing Coupon To "Prospy," care of International Harvester Company of America (Incorporated), Room 230, Harvester Bldg., Chicago, III. Dear Sir:-Will you kindly call on me at once with your "Glimpses of Thrift-Land?" I prefer Monogram Pin to be Doroze. Silver, D gold finish, for name(s) of prospective buyers I enclose.

OUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Miscellaneous.

PAYMENT OF A LEGACY. My father died in June, 1890, leaving one hundred acres of land, which was to become mine at the death of my mother (which occurred in March, 1907), subject to the following legacies :

Three years after my mother's death, $400 to my married sister; four years after my mother's death, $400 to my unmarried sister, and $25 yearly so long as she remain single. My unmarried sister died in August, 1909. Am I liable for her legacy, and what part of yearly income will I have to pay? F. F. Ontario

Ans.-Yes; you will have to pay the legacy to your deceased sister's personal representatives, but not until the time at which it is made payable by the terms of your father's will. The amount of the annuity which you will have to pay will probably be about five-twelfths of $25; that is for the portion of the year elapsed since the anniversary in March, 1909, of your mother's death, assuming, of course, the due payment thereof in previous vears.

DIPHTHERIA

I have a lot of hens, in good condition, apparently, but they have some disease among them; they lose all power of their legs and the comb turns black, and they have great difficulty in breathing. and generally die in less than a day. Could you suggest anything that would prevent the disease? J. G.

Ans .- Symptoms described point to diphtheria, which is so fatal, so infectious, and in most cases so troublesome to treat, that all sick birds should be killed. and their bodies carefully burned. The well birds should be removed to new and comfortable quarters, free from draft, fed on nutritious food, and, for medicine, given one of the roup powders that are mixed in their drink water. The vacated premises should be thoroughly disinfected, and afterwards whitewashed. In the whitewash, four per cent. of carbolic acid should be mixed. If a bird shows sign of the disease, it should at once be killed and buried deeply, or burned. Diphtheria may be detected by white patches which show in the throat, or, sometimes, in rooi of the mouth. Immediate action should at once be taken if the remainder of the birds are considered worth the trouble of saving. A. G. G.

COWS' MILK SMELLS STRONG. I have eight cows on good second-crop clover-and-oat stubble, and all the salt and spring water they want, and their milk smells strong. Please give cause
