Alone, But Well Protected

A group of little girls who came alone from England to Canada, and "Buddy" a dog traveller on the way from Boston to Manila.

To lead a dog's life might not, on occasion, be as bad as the old adage infers: indeed, it might mean to lead a life of luxurious comfort and to be free of many of the trials and troubles that human flesh is heir to. Take "Buddy" for instance. He is a young Airedale who entered this life within the confines of the Boston Kennels, and as long as he remained a member of the colony he received all the care and attention that his canine heart could desire. Being a well-behaved puppy he was allowed to reach the age when those of his specie, no longer feeling the need of a protecting hand, attach themselves to a master and endeavor to protect him from the dangers of the day and night. Time came when his desire for his own man was to be gratified and, his owners having been paid for his priceless soul, he was placed in a crate and sent, "Canadian Pacific all the way," from Boston to Manila.

True, all the joys of travel were not his, but while on the train, his kennel was kept in an airy part of the baggage car, and on some glorious occasions when the train stopped long enough he was given a run in a strange and fascinating city. At Vancouver he was taken aboard the Canadian Pacific "Empress of Asia" for the trip across the Pacific, and he at once won over the hearts of those of the passengers privileged to meet him. In addition to considerable notice from the passengers, "Buddy" received proper attention from the employees of the company, and tacked to the side of his crate were instructions as to feeding, which were religiously followed. Besides stating meal hours "Buddy" informed the world that:

"I am a young and affectionate puppy
"I am a true friend to anyone who is kind to me
"I am lonesome and sensitive but very appreciative of kindness, and I wish kind men to speak to me, to feed me, to give me some water and to take me out of my crate so that I can keep clean.

"I am an Airedale terrier and my name is Buddy
"I certainly thank you for your kindness as I am on a long trip—from Boston to Manila."

Another passenger on the "Empress of Asia," when she last sailed from Victoria, was little Annette Bradshaw, who was making the long trip across the Pacific for the purpose of joining her parents, Adjutant and Mrs. J. Swanson, who are engaged on the missionary work of the Salvation Army at Yokohama. Throughout the voyage Annette was the special charge of Purser John Moir, who has, on more than one previous occasion, seen that little ones were safely delivered to their waiting parents and friends. The little voyager soon made friends with other of the lady passengers, and although she was very glad to see her parents again she found the journey far too short for her liking.

Years ago the idea of sending a child on such a long journey alone would not have been entertained for one moment by its guardians, but youngsters can now travel around the world in perfect safety alone, and many, particularly European settlers, find it very convenient to first make sure of their position and standing after immigration, and then have their children brought to them by, and under the very sure care and protection of, the Canadian Pacific. On her last voyage the "Montcalm" brought six children from the old land to friends on this side. These children represented three families and their ages ranged from nine months to fifteen years. The baby, a little girl, was under the care of her fifteen year old brother, and they were going to friends in Ontario, having lost both parents. Two other children were "Men of the World" at seven and eight years, and were going still further west. The others were placed on landing in the care of a lady going directly to their destination who was very interested in the arrangements being made to safeguard all six, and who gladly accepted the opportunity to help along a good work.
