SUPERSTITION AND GEMS.

Some Points About the Topaz, the Ruby and the Opal.

A Maiden lane jeweler speaking of the trade in jewels said the other day that superstition with reference to them had a serious effect upon the trade. Some people will not buy or wear topaz unless they were born in November, and others cannot be induced to buy rubies unless they were born in July. It doesn't concern many people about rubies, because their price is too high for most persons to wear them. There are not two hundred good rubies of any size worth speaking of in New York, but the topaz is abundant and is not dear.

Then there is the superstitious objection to opals, which are regarded as unlucky all the year around and have no saving natal month to lift their opprobrium. They do not need the superstition to make them objectionable, however, because while they are very beautiful they are also very fragile and should be very cheap. Out in Australia you can go out with a pick and dig a wheelbarrow load in an hour. The cutting and polishing give them some value, but it is something like that bestowed upon cut glass. Still they rank as jewels, and when they are sold it is for a price. If, however, you want to find their value, offer one to your jeweler either for a cash sum or in exchange. You will then learn what they are intrinsically worth—or something near it.

TAKE MY CURE, WHEN CURED YOU PAY ME

The fear that you could not be cured may have deterred you from taking honest treatment, or you may have been one of the unfortunate who have been treated in vain by inexperienced physicians, free treatments, free trial samples, patent medicines, electric belts and other similar devices. Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these malades cure themselves. When I offer you a cure, and am willing to risk my professional reputation in curing you, and have such faith and confidence in my continued success in treating these diseases that I will not need to be paid until you are cured, a fair proposition cannot be offered to the sick and afflicted. This should convince the skeptical that I mean what I say, and do exactly as I advertise, as I am positive of curing you in the shortest possible time, without injurious after-effects. My charges will be as low as possible, for conscientious, skillful and successful services, and my guarantee is simple and true. Not a dollar need be paid until cured. I have 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee of my standing and abilities. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be to your advantage to write to me for my opinion of your case, which I give you free of charge. I want to hear from patients who have been unable to get cured, as I guarantee a positive cure for all chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which I accept for treatment. I not only cure the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach troubles, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in my own laboratory, I select the requirements of each individual case. All medicines for Canadian patients sent from Windsor, Ont. duty and transportation prepaid. I will send a booklet on the subject which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address simply, Dr. S. Spinnery, 206 Woodward Ave., Suite 311 Detroit, Mich.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

The way for a woman to get men to do what she wants them to do is not to want them to do it.

Most men would not notice women at all if they did not have a notion that they were making a big hit with those same girls.

It is not doing work that makes us weary so much as dodging work that we don't do.

When some one comes around with a new religion you will notice that there is always a collection attached to it.

True happiness is a condition of not being miserable.

People who tell their troubles don't have real ones.

A married woman's ideal woman is one who is proud of her husband.

One reason why some people don't get what is coming to them is because they see it coming and dodge.

It is much more satisfactory to have wheels in your pocket than in your head.

With the justice, making people believe is a fine art.

His Kind.

"Tell me where you want to go," said the wizard, speaking low.

"Send me where no noise is heard; Not the chirrup of a bird."

"Where the place is all serene, Simplest ever yet was seen;

"Where no foolish things intrude On the brooding solitude; "Where I'll not be asked to spend; Safe from enemy and friend."

Then the hoary man of age Sent him down to Russell Sage.

Wasn't Curious.

"Why don't you go to work?" asked the lady of the walking delegate for the Handout Consumers' union, who had knocked at her door under the impression that it was the shaft of a pie machine.

"I have been unable to find a job," he replied without the quiver of an eyelash.

"Would you work if you got a chance?"

"Madam, I have no impertinent curiosity. I never tried."

Had Help From a Gun.

"You wouldn't think that puny ninety pound prisoner was one of the strongest men in town?"

"No."

"He held up a 300 pound man last night."

For a successful fisher. Who with the best would rate, A good imagination Beats forty kinds of bait.

Necessary.

"How many people are in the world?" "Those in the tunnels, subways and mines. The rest are on it except those, again, who are in the air."

Enough.

"I hear Jones is the father of twins." "I presume he is tickled to death." "Yes; he is overjoyed because they are not triplets."

Wanted to Know.

"Is this the place to get dog licenses?" "Yes, sir. Want it for yourself or some other dog?" politely inquired the pert clerk.

Hitched.

There was a young fellow named Walter, Who led a girl up to the altar; When the minister said: "Two dollars. You're wed!" She led him away by the halter.

Also Discreet.

"Would you call him a brave man?" "Well, if he has anything to say to a mile he never goes behind his back to say it."

His Vocation.

Kind Lady—What do you do for a living? Truthful Tramp—Eat.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

A queer ceremony is performed every year on the 8th day of September in the Valle Maggia, Italy. The region abounds in vipers. The celebrants form into a weird procession, each person—man, woman and child—carrying a huge figure of a snake stuffed with cotton. As they pass along they weep and lament, believing that by the expiatory ceremony they will render themselves proof against snake bites during the grape gathering.

Joy.

Joy is a prize unthought and is freest, purest in its flow when it comes unsought. No getting into heaven, as a place, will compass it. You must carry it with you, else it is not there. You must have it in you, as the music of a well ordered soul, the fire of a holy purpose, the welling up out of the central depths of eternal springs that hide the waters there.

It doesn't pay to own anything you can't pay for.

It takes a woman's will to convince a man against his will.

THE SLOTHFUL TODAS

THEY ARE THE LAZIEST PEOPLE IN THE WORLD.

A Hill Tribe of India Whose Men Will Neither Hunt Nor Work and Who Are Proud of Their Reputation For Downright Indolence.

In these days of push and energy it sounds strange to talk of people as being lazy, and still the Todas, a hill tribe of India, are the laziest people in the world.

The Todas are not ashamed of their reputation and are free to confess that they know of nothing so foolish and stupid as work. Their one and only pursuit is the raising of buffaloes. They are far too indolent to follow the chase. An ax is their only weapon, although they know how to make others. They use this for waging war and for felling trees. They will not till the land, considering this unnecessary labor. To make housekeeping easier all their natural products are held in common. The idea of property is only restricted to the hut, its contents and live stock.

The buffaloes, which they own in large quantities, furnish them with skins for clothing and the hut, and the meat is used as food. But milk is their principal diet. They do not even relish the idea of milking their cattle. The head milkers are the only ones that are to be persuaded to do this labor. These men are chosen from the class of "pelki," or "sons of God." They are the priests and practice celibacy. Although the priests tend to the cattle, each householder owns his cattle.

Much as these men dislike the caring for their cattle, they find farming a less dignified calling. Some years ago they went to war with their neighbors, the Badaga and Kotas, as they might be able to levy a tax of one-eighth on their grain products. When their grain grows scarce they live on roots and berries. They will sell their land or give it away, but they will not cultivate it at any price.

The building of bamboo huts does not interest them any more than the cultivating of the soil, and they make this task easy by making the boys cut the bamboo and their wives build the huts. It is not unusual for three families to share one abode. The men are often so lazy that they cannot afford one wife alone, but even this does not worry them. Two or three brothers manage to support one wife. Indolent and slothful, they sit listless for hours, unconcerned about all things. What they know they know well. They are intelligent within certain narrow limits, but they are too lazy to increase their store of knowledge. Whatever has to be done must be cared for by the women and children.

Strangely, their appearance does not disclose this most marked characteristic. They are tall and well proportioned. They look like Roman senators as they walk wrapped in skins resembling the ancient toga. Their appearance is not only prepossessing, but bold and self-reliant.

Many an amusing story is told of this small hill tribe, numbering about 400 men. An American missionary was working among them when one day he saw some women and boys building a hut of bamboo. He inquired why the men were not performing this labor, and one woman explained, "Husband mine don't work; me and boys build house."

The missionary made no further comment, but when the hut was built he told the husband that he must build another hut, as he could not live in a home made by women and children. But the surprised Toda answered: "No, no. Me no work. Man has boys and wife to work."

The Toda meant what he said. Although the missionary argued and finally horsewhipped the native, he could not get him to build a hut.

An equally amusing story is told by an English officer. He was so taken by the handsome appearance of one of the natives he wanted to take him to England and place him in his own regiment. The officer gave the native skins and silks until the Toda promised to become an English soldier. He was delighted with the officer's bright, gay uniform. He did not feel bad about leaving his country, his wife and children, but when he was told that soldiers work he said:

"Me no be an English soldier; me be Toda. Me no work; me no like work."

When the English officer tried to persuade him he made answer: "Take wife and boys; they be English soldiers—like work. Me stay home and rest; me be Toda."

Canary Seed.

Perfectly clean seed is absolutely essential to the health of a bird. Do not trust to the appearance of the seed alone, but thrust your hand into the midst of a quantity, and if there is a dusty feeling after you have withdrawn it the seed is not sufficiently clean, says Home Chat. Canary seed, if of good quality, is very bright and plump in appearance and feels heavy in the hand.

Impertinent.

Uncle—Well, here's the money you've been bothering me for. Now, remember the old saying that "A fool and his money are easily parted." Nephew—I don't know about that. I've had to coax you for more than a week for this!—Answers.

Comforting.

Manager—Weren't you afraid to sleep in that haunted room? Disgusted Theoplan—No; it was a real comfort to be in some place where the ghost walked.

Not only to say the right thing in the right place, but far more difficult, to leave unsaid the wrong thing at the tempting moment.—Sala.

That Old Swimming Hole

How to Develop the Highest Degree of Vital, Nervous and Muscular Vigor.

Snakes throw off their outer skin once a year. Human beings change their skins perhaps nine times in a year; that is, they have a new skin about once in six weeks.

The value of a clean skin in maintaining health is not properly understood by the majority of people. Cleanliness is a part of health. You cannot be healthy unless you are clean not only externally, but also internally.

The blood should also be assisted occasionally, like the skin, in throwing off poisons so that the system may not get clogged and leave a weak spot for disease germs to enter the system. When the blood is clogged we suffer from what is commonly called a cold.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It thus cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.
