HEART OF HUMANITY A CANADIAN STORY

Dorothy Phillips in an Appealing Romance of the Great North West and the Great War

The manager of The Observer was wholly responsible for bringing the "Miracle Man" to Hartland. His object in doing so was to show what a truly wonderful power there is in the cinematograph, or what is more commonly known as the "movies." There is nothing evil in the invention itself and The Observer believes that the general run of films shown in Carleton Place averages high in class, but there can be no limit to the educative and moral value within the possibilities of the moving pictures.

In the "Miracle Man" is pictured four phases of vice in its utmost depravity and it is pictured as horrible rather than as heroic. The spectator felt at first a feeling of repugnance, but only for a brief time. Immediately there came the spirit of uplift which continued to the grand finale when the audience was curiously acted, and entirely for the reason that the good there is in the world triumphed.

The "Heart of Humanity" to be shown here the evening of Victoria Day, after the Base Ball Picnic, is said by many critics to be surpassed only by the "Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World". It is a motion picture history of woman's part in the great war, depicted in story form and built around the romance of a little Canadian girl who gave her husband to fight against Prussian auto-cruacy and then went to France herself to care for the wounded and orphaned and homeless victims of German brutality.

The closing scenes of the fighting in Flanders form the red background for action that expresses the bravery of the Red Cross in working under the very mouths of German guns, to restore to normal physical and mental health the children of France and Belgium made fatherless, motherless and homeless by war. It is amid such scenes that Nanette, the little wife of John Patricia, an aviator with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, labors night and day, and suffers the indignities of war-maddened, lustful Huns before she is reunited with her husband and decorated by the French government for her valorous services.

The supporting cast of "The Heart of Humanity" includes William Stowell, Robert Anderson, Pat O'Malley, Margaret Mann, Walt Whitman, Gloria Joy and others, with Dorothy Phillips in the leading role of Nanette.

CLEAN-UP DAY!

His Worship, Mayor Keith, has decreed that Monday and Tuesday, May 17 and 18, are to be "clean-up" days in town of Hartland. Every citizen is requested to clean up his premises and, if those who have no team, will place their garbage in boxes or barrels near the street the town team will haul the stuff away free of charge. This is a challenge to the self-respect of every citizen. Who wants to be called filthy and unclean? True, some have already made an effort towards cleaning up, but there are some places—many places—where disgusting filth is found and disease germs are bred. Back-yards and alleys should be cleaned under the supervision of the sanitary inspector. Nothing beautifies a town so much as well kept lawns, shrubbery and flowers. A fresh coat of paint often works wonders.

Building Notes.

H. H. Hatfield has commenced extensive improvements about his residence. He will remove the woodshed and barn and build a very considerable addition to his house. It is Mr. Hatfield's intention to make a garden of the vacant lot between his residence and The Observer office, building a stone wall along the sidewalk. His plans, when carried out, will add very materially to the beauty of the town.

Much improvement has been made on the Central Garage. The ground floor has been greatly enlarged and a workshop has been placed in the rear end of the building. The second floor has been made into two very up-to-date tenements which are occupied by the manager, S. S. Grant, and Harley Burpee. The exterior of the building has been much improved in appearance.

Highest Water Since '87

Following the rain of Saturday the river rose to a height not exceeded in 33 years. Many buildings in low-lying sections of the town were flooded but only one family was forced to move to a higher level. While very few remember seeing a height of water except during times of an ice-jam those who can recall the year of 1887 will recall that the water was so high that a barn on the highest point of Matheson's Island floated away down stream. A canoe from the west side sent over for Dr. Stevens was moored at the basement of the tenement building owned by H. N. Boyer just south of Clarke's Hotel. This event was on May 8 and no ice was running. It followed "the winter of the deep snow."

CALDWELL MADE OF CABINET TIMBER

Is Suggestion of Farmers' Magazine of Toronto.

Under the heading of "the United Farmers in Ottawa" the following interesting paragraph appears in Farmers' magazine:

"The little bunch of farmer members on the Cross benches at Ottawa are saying little, voting some and doing a lot of watchful waiting. Gould, who defeated Motherwell in Saskatchewan, talks more than most new members, yet he takes an old head to corner him badly. Halbert occasionally talks and says it well. Dr. Michael Clark leads in the absence of Cramer who has been in the hospital with boils. Caldwell, of New Brunswick, is shaping up as a big man—cabinet timber possibly for the time that Union Governments cease to exist. Yet in the meantime the House worries on in a sea of mediocrity, with mighty little inspiration in it for the galleries except when Lucien Cannon seeks to revive the art of the old forensic masters. Then everyone sets up and waits for the laugh!—F. M. C.

New Brunswick a Paradise Compared to West.

B. N. Shaw of Highland farm, who with Mrs. Shaw, has been spending the winter months in the far west writes as follows of conditions in and around Mirror, Alberta, where a food famine exists among the cattlemen:

Mirror, Alta.,
April 18, 1920.

"At last we are having a little fine weather. The first of last week we had a snow storm. The food situation is frightful. There are a few late occurrences: "Seventeen men have gone insane and have been taken to the asylum, forty extra mounted police have been put on to watch the cattle men, and take care of them, and to kill the cattle that are found too weak to get up. One man killed all his cattle, his chickens and his hogs and then went into his cellar and shot himself and was found dead there by the police. Two or three days ago a man killed ninety head of cattle. He could not ship them out as they were too weak to walk to the shipping place. Hay cannot be purchased for $100 per ton. There is not even wheat straw to be had."

Potatoes Take a Drop

On Monday the potato market went to pieces badly and the price dropped from $11 per barrel down to $9. No one was very severely hurt by the fall and most of the dealers were practically shipped out. The drop was a relief to the consumer.

Butter still brings fancy prices, 60c being the price paid today. Eggs are bringing 45c. Oats are scarce and are bringing $1.25 per bushel. Common ordinary hay is worth $29.

The Women's Institute will hold their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Armory. The roll call will be responded to by a spring-time quotation. The discussion will be on interior decorations.
