Some Centenaries.

Certain years produce great men and women in numbers that are impressive. Other years the tally can be reckoned on the fingers of one hand. In the year 1809, for instance, there was recorded the birth of Gladstone, Lincoln and Holmes—all famous in their particular sphere. Some noteworthy centenaries were celebrated in 1919. The year 1822 saw the birth of Pasteur and Grant. The year 1823 produced no genius of the first magnitude, unless it was that prodigious scholar, thinker and idealist, Ernest Renan, whose birthday was on February 27th. Another great Frenchman was the French poet, dramatist and essayist Theodore Banville, born on March 14, 1823. In United States, Francis Parkman, the great historian saw the light in Boston on September 16th of the same year. George Horatio Derby, better known by his nom de plume "John Phoenix," humorist and soldier, was born on April 3rd, 1823. In England on July 23rd, one hundred years ago Coventry Patmore, afterwards poet and critic, was born. He was a man of rare spiritual and possessed of a sentiment that went to the very roots of human interest. His poem "The Toys" is a household word and this "Unknown Eros" will live long in the annals of poetical literature. In the same year were born Alexander Cabanel (Sept. 28) who was a French artist of distinction; Thomas Francis Meagher (August 3) Irish-American soldier and editor. Next there is Robert Collyer (December 8) the offspring of humble parents in Yorkshire, England, who was first a working blacksmith, after that a Methodist local preacher and later, when in the fulness of his years, an American Unitarian divine of the foremost rank, whose pungent Saxon style both in preaching and writing, suggested a John Bunyan of the nineteenth century. The present year, 1923, is the bicentenary of two great Englishmen—Blackstone (July 10) the father of the legal commentators and teachers, whose law writings are accepted as authorities in all English speaking lands, and his illustrations and comments quoted daily in the courts by counsel, whether opposing or defending alike. The second is Joshua Reynolds (July 16) the leader of England's art in his day. It is very possible that note will be taken, in their worlds, of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of these two famous men, to whom both law and art owe so much.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late Capt. Edward English, took place yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended. A Guard of Honor from the Knights of Columbus was present, and at the Cathedral the prayers for the dead were recited by the Rev. Dr. Green. Interment took place at Belvedere.

THE TEMPERATURE.—The thermometer at Valley Nurseries registered 6 below zero last night. At nine o'clock this morning the mercury registered 6 degrees of frost. The high wind however made it appear much colder.

UNITED FISHERMEN'S MOVEMENT CHALLENGES. P.R.C.—MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN ABOUT TO BEGIN.

Special to Evening Telegram.
GREENSPOND, To-day.
Another big United Fishermen's meeting held last night. Glover Hall crowded. Resolutions passed unanimously without a question raised. People more determined than ever to support the movement for lopping off mouldering branches of the Civil Service and reduction of taxation. Bragg, White and myself with three from Westville, will start canvassing the country preaching the doctrine of Liberalism from the thrall of excessive taxation, and the ushering in of an era in which we may live as of yore.

WALTER CARTER.

C. M. B. C.

The Cathedral Men's Bible Class will hold its annual meeting in its rooms at the Synod Building tomorrow afternoon, when all the members are requested to attend. Through many changes in the personnel of chairman and members as well as many "ups and downs," the class has continued its splendid work for over thirty years. It not only serves its own members but, through a body of volunteers, spreads its energies to those in prison, to the sick, and to the many seamen who visit here throughout the year. At the meeting to-morrow the several reports of the year past will be presented and the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The Mission

AT ST. THOMAS' CHURCH.

The first weekly service of preparation for Bishop Meville's Mission was held at St. Thomas' last evening, and was largely attended. The service, which was taken by the Rector, commenced with the Veni Creator, sung kneeling, the special lesson being read by the Rev. E. O. Lightbourn. After the hymn "Blest are the pure in heart" the Rector addressed the congregation on "How can I help the Mission?" He announced that Bishop Meville expected to arrive in St. John's a fortnight to-day, and that the Mission would begin on Sunday, January 28th, and continue until the following Sunday, Feb. 4th. Services would be held daily at all of which the Bishop would preach. The Bishop is a big man physically, mentally and spiritually, one who might be described as possessing "a pleasing presence and a pleasing voice." He has been greatly blessed in his ministry, and the Rector feels that his Mission here will be one of the greatest events in the parochial history of St. Thomas'. The congregation were urged to help the Mission by (1) sympathy, (2) service and (3) prayer. At the conclusion of the Rector's address intercessions were offered for the mission and his work for the congregation and particularly for the children, on whose behalf a special mission service will be held, and the service closed with the benediction. Next Friday evening the Rector will speak on "What difference is it making to others that I am a Christian?"

Milk Standard.

QUALITY SHOWS BIG IMPROVEMENT.

Inspector Lawlor of the Health Department has effected a remarkable improvement in the quality of the milk supplied to the city since he started a vigorous campaign several years ago. In 1921, one hundred and forty-three samples were taken, out of which thirty-three per cent. or forty-one samples were found under the standard. In 1922 one hundred and sixty-five samples were taken out of which three per cent. or seven samples were under standard.

St. Bon's Rink Nearing Completion.

WILL BE READY FOR SKATING NEXT WEEK.

Work on the St. Bon's Skating Rink is rapidly nearing completion, and is being rushed so that the skating may take place early next week. It was hoped that the rink would open in December, but owing to unavoidable delays in shipments of steel from Montreal this was found impossible. After the material had arrived the steel framing was rushed ahead by a staff of men under the supervision of Bro. Brennan of Mount Cashel, and the work on this was rapidly pushed to completion. The new rink will be a splendid edifice. The plans were drawn by the Brothers of the College and the rink is indeed a big one; but not too big for the good man who dealt with it for the speaker came to it with a full heart, and with strong convictions.

The work began with the individual topic of Self, and then broadened out to the Home, and still wider to the Church, and then to the State; and lastly to the World. From any stand point this great subject would be of paramount interest just now with world conditions so disturbed. The Rev. Speaker decided to treat the topic from a missionary standpoint; and in doing so he delivered a message that seemed to bring home to every heart the whole force and spirit of the work. At the north end of the building, two towers have been built on either side, which shows up to advantage. The main entrance is on the west side of the building. An important feature of any rink is the lighting system. Special attention will be paid to the lighting arrangements in this structure, and all mistakes which experience has exposed will be avoided. When completed there will be ample room to comfortably accommodate about 1,500 people. Galleries with a seating capacity of 400 can be installed at either end, while there is ample room for a third at the western side of the building. The comfort of the players and skaters has not been overlooked. To supply their needs, the plans call for two dressing rooms. They will be made as comfortable as possible. Yesterday afternoon the work of the carpenters was practically completed on the interior, and the boys of the College busied themselves in cleaning up the space allotted for the ice, after which the rink was flooded for a first time. Should the frost continue the new rink will be open for the use of the boys on Monday next.

Hockey Notes.

The champion Fiddian Hockey team had a stiff work-out at 6.30 last evening under the careful watching of Mr. Jack Strang, the manager. The Fiddians at present are in excellent form and ready to jump into the fray to battle for championship honors. Jimmy Alderidge, Ewing, Winter and Tait are playing to advantage in practice, while Nix Hunt in goal is just as good as ever. The following players figured in the practice last night, viz:—M. Hunt, Robert Tondell, R. H. Tait, M. G. Winter, T. Payne, R. Ewing, J. Alderidge, G. Jorrett, Lloyd, Harold Randall, Fred Rendell, Tilley and Fraser.

The Terra Nova, judging by their practice last night are a team to be reckoned with this season. Brown in goal, formerly of the Halifax "Crecent," is a great addition to the team. The defence has been strengthened over last year by the addition of Parker, who formerly played with the Bankers League in Halifax. This Canadian boy has the goods and should give an excellent account of himself on good ice in the League fixtures. Jack Field another addition is playing to form in centre ice, while W. Peters and M. Power on the wings are showing up well. Capt. Canning, Clark and Jack Tobin are the only players left from the last year team, and with the addition of the above mentioned players they are bound to be heard from in the coming series.

The St. Bon's are practicing this evening at 6.30, and the Guards at 10 o'clock. The following players of the Guards are asked to be on hand: E. Munro, C. C. Robertson, W. Clouston, E. Conliss, Rooney, Hunter, J. Fikerson, Moore, Volmer, Quirk, Parsons, W. Conliss, Butler, Herder and Diamond.

SEAL FOR NORTH.—S.S. Seal sails for the northward this afternoon, taking a full freight for points as far as Westville. There are no passengers booked for the trip.

Week of Prayer.

CLOSING SERVICE—A LARGE CONGREGATION—HEARTY SINGING—Eloquent Address.

Judging from last night's congregational at Cochrane Evangelical Church, it would seem that another week such as we have had, would be in order. If for no other purpose than that of engaging in a whole-souled congregational song-service, such meetings would be worth while.

The Rev. Dr. Fenwick, assisted by the Rev. T. B. Darby, conducted last night's meeting, and when the speaker of the evening, the Rev. R. J. Power of the Presbyterian Church, began his address, every heart was warm, and an atmosphere of confidence prevailed. The topic was indeed a big one; but not too big for the good man who dealt with it for the speaker came to it with a full heart, and with strong convictions.

The week began with the individual topic of Self, and then broadened out to the Home, and still wider to the Church, and then to the State; and lastly to the World. From any stand point this great subject would be of paramount interest just now with world conditions so disturbed. The Rev. Speaker decided to treat the topic from a missionary standpoint; and in doing so he delivered a message that seemed to bring home to every heart the whole force and spirit of the work. At the north end of the building, two towers have been built on either side, which shows up to advantage. The main entrance is on the west side of the building. An important feature of any rink is the lighting system. Special attention will be paid to the lighting arrangements in this structure, and all mistakes which experience has exposed will be avoided. When completed there will be ample room to comfortably accommodate about 1,500 people. Galleries with a seating capacity of 400 can be installed at either end, while there is ample room for a third at the western side of the building. The comfort of the players and skaters has not been overlooked. To supply their needs, the plans call for two dressing rooms. They will be made as comfortable as possible. Yesterday afternoon the work of the carpenters was practically completed on the interior, and the boys of the College busied themselves in cleaning up the space allotted for the ice, after which the rink was flooded for a first time. Should the frost continue the new rink will be open for the use of the boys on Monday next.

Containing his address, the speaker laid down four cardinal points as follows, and upon these points he dwelt with strong emphasis; 1st, Do we believe that the world needs to be saved? 2nd, Do we believe that the Redeemer is able to save the world? 3rd, Are we willing to take responsibility in missions? and lastly, what are we going to do about it? The work has been entrusted to human agency. It might have been given to angels; or to just spirits; but not so. It has been given to us, ours is the privilege. Ours is the duty.

The world needs the message which the Gospel brings, and the message suits the whole world. "Into all the world" was the command of the Master. Neither education nor legislation of themselves would do. The need of the world is greater than these agencies apply. The need is spiritual. At the last day of the Feast the Redeemer stood in the Temple and cried out that He was the maker of life. This same great truth still holds good. Would that the Church could better hear this cry. Would that the water of life could be supplied to all the world. We cannot do full justice to Mr. Fenwick's address from a world-wide missionary standpoint—to put it in a word would be to say—masterly.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REPORTS OF THIS WEEK.

"Better more of the story of the Virgin Mother, and less of Henry VIII." Rev. J. G. Joyce, Wednesday night.

"The leaders of the State cannot be trusted, nor can the press." Rev. R. Fairbairn, Thursday night—(an alarming statement, L.C.M.)

NOTES ON THE WEEK.

The entire spirit of the services was impressive and helpful.

The addresses were such as appealed to men more than to sects, and were therefore greater than denominationalism.

Preparation was evidently a keynote of the speakers; hence the congregations had much to carry away; and the press much to pass on.

Thus closes our notes of the Week of Prayer for 1923. To all who helped by kind words we feel grateful; and for the co-operation of the Press there is equal gratitude due. With such short time at one's disposal, it was not easy to do the best; but we have endeavored to record what may be taken as the essentials of the topics, and the soul of the meetings.

AT WESLEY.

The Rev. J. G. Joyce, pastor of the church, conducted the service, and read a short lesson. A number of prayers suited to the evening's subject, were offered. Taking as the basis of his remarks "The World's Search for God," and his text from Acts 17—"The Nations feel after—" the Rev. C. H. Johnson, of Cochrane Street, the speaker of the evening, spoke eloquently and instructively.

By means of blackboard tracings he illustrated the changes made in the world through the search for God by the great leaders and teachers of religious doctrine. Through all the ages the nations have been seeking for God—the people have felt Him in the sun, heard Him in the thunder, and known Him by his relationship to man. The search for God by four great founders of religion—Confucius, Buddha, Mohammed and Jesus Christ was pictured in vivid language. Their success in finding Him was stressed, and many sayings of these leaders were quoted to prove that only Jesus Christ had given the world a true conception of God. The doctrine of Confucius was "Do not do to others as you would have them do to you," but the doctrine of Christ was the very opposite, "Do to others as you would have them do to you." The other leaders had all died without giving to the world the true meaning of love. The doctrine preached before Christ was "Man and Justice, God and Obedience," the two being brought together by the very slender relationship of law. In the change wrought by Jesus Christ instead of justice there is mercy and instead of obedience there is sonship, and both are brought together by love; and the love of Jesus Christ—the greatest expression of love that was ever given to the world—are the great forces whereby millions of people are lifted nearer to God. As the changes of the world, through the different periods of thought as represented by the different leaders were brought out, they were illustrated by drawings on the blackboard. The address and the illustrations were most interesting and instructive, and showed great care and thought in preparation. Of the services of the week of prayer, which closed last night, the one held at Wesley was by no means least, and a deep spirit of reverence and worship prevailed throughout the service.

Well Known Butcher Meets With Accident.

Michael Denovan, Butcher, East End, fell on the ice near his residence Thursday night and broke two bones in the ankle of his left leg. Mike bore the pain without a murmur. Epidemic of Diphtheria.

DR. BARLOW CALLED TO SEARSON.

Word has been received in the city that an outbreak of diphtheria has occurred at Searson, Grand River, during the past week. Whether the disease is very prevalent or the cases reported are of a bad type is not known until further particulars are received. Magistrate Carty of St. George's was first informed of the matter, and fearing the disease might spread to much larger proportions, ordered Dr. Barlow of Chancel to visit the patient.

Spanish-Canadian Trade Relations.

In addition to the French treaty, which is already signed, and the Italian agreement, which is on the way, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. Ernest Lapointe will probably be able to announce a new convention with Spain when they return to Canada. Negotiations have been in progress, and will be continued in London. It is understood that Spain proposed to offer Canada the same terms as she gave to and received from Great Britain in the new trade treaty concluded between the two countries a few months ago. These were unacceptable, but it is hoped that a new basis will be found. Meanwhile a modus vivendi has been arranged which will last for six months, and before it expires a more permanent arrangement may be arrived at.

Hon. Mr. Lapointe, who has recovered from his indisposition, is understood to have conveyed to the advocates of immediate Canadian participation in the Empire wireless scheme, Canada's unreadiness to undertake at once the considerable expenditure involved. He has received a report from Mr. C. F. Edwards, superintendent of the Canadian Government wireless service, who came over to London at the minister's request to study the matter, and who has returned to Canada. The report indicates that the cost of erecting the powerful stations which have been proposed for Montreal and Vancouver, would be considerable.—Family Herald.

Police Take Coffin Case.

The police will say nothing concerning the affair beyond stating that no arrest has been made, pending the result of the doctor's report. The body will be brought in by train due at 9.15 to-night. The name of the husband under suspicion is not made known.
