DEVELOPMENT IN THE NORTH RIDING.
The excitement about land has not been so great since the Crimean War as it is at present in this neighborhood. Gangs of men are entering the village nearly every day inquiring about farms. The consequence is land has advanced fully a third ahead of last year's prices, and will advance higher yet when it becomes generally known that the summer frosts which have been so prevalent in this section of the county can be overcome by working the farms properly, as there is not better land in the Dominion than there is about Arthur. The soil is inexhaustibly rich, nearly free from stones and well watered. According to an agricultural report just published, the North Riding is ahead of the Central and South Ridings in the average yield of white and spring wheat. Our village is also sharing the feeling, so that village lots are rising in proportion to farm lots, and there is every sign of a busy summer. Already buildings are in course of erection. Parties have been prospecting for a foundry. A better site could hardly be found, situated as the village is in a rich agricultural district only partially developed, and no other village nearer than 12 miles to compete with it. Another great mill is also badly needed; the Messrs. Hathaway are doing all they possibly can to accommodate the public by running their steam mill night and day, but one mill cannot do a third of the gristing that is depending on this village and legitimately belongs to it. Another saw mill, and a tannery are badly wanted here, and offer a good chance for capitalists to invest their money. A cheese factory (to be started this spring by Mr. Gault, who has rented Mr. O'Callaghan's two splendid farms adjoining the village.

Political feeling, which ran higher than usual this last two elections, has nearly subsided. Protesting reached its climax when Mr. Drew entered his against Col. Higginbotham for bribery and corruption. Protesting comes with a bad grace from
