

UNDER THE MAPLES.

FUTURE YEARS.

Build on resolve and not upon regret. The structure of thy future years...

FIRE.

It seems almost a wonder that the world is not burned up, when one realizes what strange circumstances may cause a disastrous fire.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A square deal is just as broad as it is long. The moths do the most mischief while it is taking a nap...

MISS MARIE CORELLI ON HAPPINESS.

Miss Marie Corelli addressed the P. S. A. in the Congregational Church at Stratford-on-Avon on a recent Sunday...

A HUMOROUS JUDGE.

There is a good story told of a medical witness called during the trial of a prisoner for stealing, who gave it as his opinion that the accused was suffering from kleptomania...

MARRIAGE CUSTOMS IN MEXICO.

An interested auditor at the band concert on Trafalgar Square Friday evening was Dan Spillane, of San Luis, Potosi, Mexico, who is spending a few days with old friends in Guelph...

THE APPEAL TO EXPERIENCE.

Some of the inmates of a Yorkshire asylum were engaged in sawing wood, and an attendant thought that one old fellow, who appeared to be working as hard as anybody, had not much to show for his labor...

WOMEN PREACHERS IN LONDON.

Though not using the title reverend yet, there are about 20 ladies belonging to the United Methodist Free Churches who conduct missions and take services, but who are called deaconesses and sisters rather than by the more ministerial title...

THE "MARSEILLAISE."

The "Marseillaise" has just been reorchestrated by order of the minister of war, Rouget de Lisle, if he be the author of the "Marseillaise," for there are doubts, would hardly recognize his own hymn.

his version became just as stereotyped as "God Save the King." Not many years ago, when Ambrose Thomas was asked by the French Government to write a "Marseillaise" according to the latest ideas of harmony...

ROTHSCHILD'S MAXIMS.

The elder Baron Rothschild had the walls of his bank decorated with the following maxims, and they are worth copying into our young folks' school exercise books:

QUEEN VICTORIA'S COURTESY.

One of the great sources of the Queen's power, says Harper's Bazar, was the extreme attention she gave to detail. This extended to everything which came under her personal notice...

AND YET HE WAS NOT PLEASED.

The conjurer stepped forward to the front of the stage, and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, if there is in this audience any young man who would like to give the name of his future wife I will undertake to tell him."

THE VOW OF SIR MATTHEW HALE.

Among those who have received much benefit to themselves, and who have conferred much benefit on others in consequence of their having made a solemn resolve, the name of Sir Matthew Hale, lord chief justice of England (in the Cromwellian period) stands very conspicuous...

In his life we are informed that, having been invited by other young students to be merry out of town, one of the company called for so much wine, that notwithstanding all Mr. Hale could do to prevent it, he went on in his excessive mood until he fell dead before them...

COLLEGE MEN IN FINANCE.

The names of J. Pierpont Morgan, Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, James J. Hill, James Stillman, Charles Schwab and William C. Whitney are all household words, and have been ever since the consolidation of these huge industrial enterprises that almost baffle the imagination in their intensity of insatiation...

through Harvard or Yale. And quite rightly he should be set down as such. The respect of their fire not college men at all, though Mr. Hill and Mr. Schwab each went to an academy. But Mr. Schwab, who is at the head of the largest engineering works in the world has ever dreamed of, has acquired his technical knowledge mainly by his own efforts and by study in practical training men in schools of theoretical instruction.

Most of the luxuries, and many of the so-called comforts of life, are not only not indispensable, but positive hindrances to the elevation of mankind. With respect to luxuries and comforts the wisest have ever lived a more simple and more frugal life than the poor. The ancient philosophers, Chinese, Hindoo, Persian, and Greek were a class than which none has been poorer in outward goods, but no one richer in inward. We know not much about them. It is remarkable that we know so much of them as we do. The same thing may be said of the reformers and benefactors of their race. None can be an impartial or wise observer of human life but from the vantage ground of that life should call voluntarily poverty. Of the life of luxury the fruit is luxury, whether in agriculture, or commerce, or literature, or art. There are nowadays professors of philosophy, but not philosophers.

ON THE FARM.

FEEDING SHEEP.

Sheep must have special feeding. They are essentially pasturing and browsing animals, living in summer on pasture and in winter on dried herbage, or on the soft sprouts of bushes. Do not change the natural habits of animals by forcing them to do any such extent as to alter their feeding modes of life. Sheep cannot feed on sour food. Indeed, they require fresh, soft, watery feed even in the winter to maintain best condition.

"Would you advise me to plow my wheat field under and sow something else?" is a common inquiry just now from southwest counties of the province. This question may be easily answered in the affirmative if many "flaxseeds" are to be found at the base of the wheat plants. There is no use in trying to bring through a wheat crop which looks yellow and winter-killed by the frost. It is better to plow under the wheat and sow something else. The flaxseed is a very good soil improver and should be sown in the fall. It is a good soil improver and should be sown in the fall. It is a good soil improver and should be sown in the fall.

TAMING A WILD GRAPEVINE.

A dozen rampant wild vines which formerly made a useless tangle of themselves among the trees, are now harnessed to the production of salable Worens and dainty Delawares. A vine may be grafted in ten minutes, will make a tremendous growth the first season, and bear a big crop of the fruit of the second season. First-growing kinds will do very much better as grafts than upon their own roots. The principle is the same as for grafting a stock on a root. The scion should be taken from a good vine of the kind desired and whittled down

What the Doctor Does.

The first thing the doctor does when he is called to see a fretting, worrying, crying baby is to give it a medicine to move the bowels and sweeten the stomach. The doctor knows that nine-tenths of the troubles affecting babies and young children are due to irritation of the stomach or bowels, and that when the cause is removed the child is well and happy.

Baby's Own Tablets.

(REGISTERED)

are a ready-at-hand doctor. They gently move the bowels, sweeten the stomach, promote digestion, cure colic, check diarrhoea, break up colds, prevent croup, reduce fevers, expel worms and promote healthy sleep. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' friend and an ever-ready help for little ones.

Guaranteed to contain no opiate or poisonous "sleepy" stuff.

Good for children of all ages.

Try them for your children.

The genuine package looks just like this

Sold by druggists or sent post paid on receipt of price (25 cents a box) by addressing

THE DR. WILLIAMS MEDICINE CO., BROCKVILLE, ONT.

Remarriage of Widowers.

[Hamilton Times.]

At the meeting of the Anglican Synod at Ottawa, Mr. Orde, the lay secretary, proposed an amendment to the rules governing the widows' and orphans' fund, the first clause of the amendment reading as follows: "The widow of any clergyman of the Diocese of Ottawa who shall have been married to such clergyman after she shall have attained the age of 50 years, and the children of any such marriage, shall not be entitled to any of the benefits of the existing canon XVI. on the widows' and orphans' fund or be deemed to come within the terms thereof. This would be in moving the adoption of the clause, Mr. Orde said that in case a clergyman, who, having reached the age of 50, married a young girl, in the event of his death, he would leave a young widow and probably orphans, who would have to be maintained for many years. This would be a great strain on the fund. Rev. Mr. McRitchie opposed the clause, but suggested that, in cases where a clergyman over 50 years of age married a woman much younger than himself her allowance as a widow should only be paid for a limited number of years. Mr. Waterman remarked that, as the clergyman were the largest contributors to the fund, the lady should leave the matter to the clergy. Rev. Mr. Gorman said it was a rare thing that a clergyman married after reaching the age of 50, and Rev. Mr. Kitson asked, Why does a man get married at 25? If the synod should pass legislation interfering with a man's right at 50, why not pass first similar restrictions on a man at 25? The legislation was not going to interfere with a man getting married at any age, nor was the fund going to prevent the girl from marrying if she was inclined. "Let nature take its course," said Mr. Kitson, "and let the canon stand as at present."

The Size of Rain Drops.

[From the London Express.]

The Paris Meteorological Society has undertaken the laborious task of measuring the dimensions of raindrops. It is found that the largest are about one-sixth of an inch, and the smallest one-fifth-hundredth of an inch in diameter. They are larger in summer than in winter and larger in hot than in cold climates. At the moment of condensation of the water vapor to the liquid state great numbers of extremely small drops are formed in close proximity. As they fall they come together, and coalesce in consequence of mutual attraction, and so what we call raindrops are formed. In the summer the lower strata of air are warmer than winter, and therefore clouds are formed at a greater height where conditions are favorable for rapid condensation. The drops falling from those high summer clouds have more time to grow, and therefore become larger than the winter drops. In winter, as is well known, clouds often exist very near the ground. The velocity with which raindrops fall depends both on their size and on the wind, which makes them fall obliquely. Other things being equal a drop of medium size, say, one-fifth of an inch in diameter, may strike the ground with a velocity of some 13 feet a second, while a very large drop, measuring one-sixth of an inch, may attain a speed of 38 feet a second.

SUMMER DRESSES

Shirt waists, lingerie, etc., should not go in the general wash with coarser articles. Keep all such delicate fabrics separate and wash them with

Lily White Floating Soap

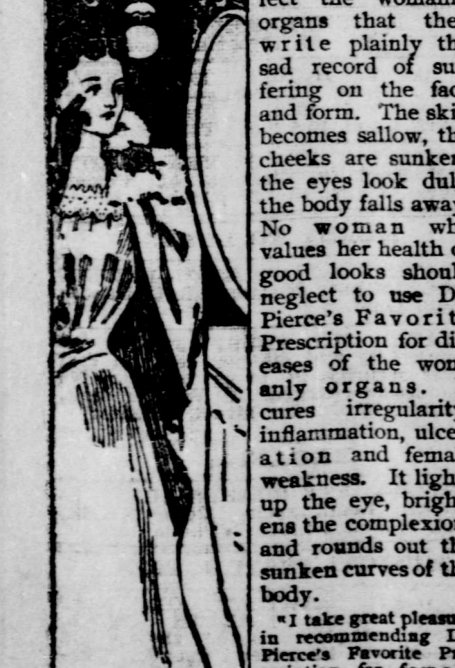

It is especially made for fine wear of this kind, is absolutely pure, loosens the dirt without rubbing—preserves and brightens the natural color. It costs more than the ordinary laundry soap, but saves its cost many times over in the increased wear of the goods.

LILY WHITE is an eight-ounce tin bar and sells for 10 cents at all good grocers. A smaller size at 5 cents. It is perfect soap for general use and for the bath.

JOHN TAYLOR & CO. MANUFACTURERS TORONTO, ONT.

Wrinkles Come

To many a face which should still be smooth and fair. Worry doesn't bring them. There are no cares and anxieties to furrow the face. They are the signs of physical suffering, wrought by the hand of pain. It is the saddest result of the diseases which affect the womanly organs that they write plainly the saddest story of suffering on the face and form. The skin becomes sallow, the cheeks are dull, the eyes look sunk, the body falls away. No woman who values her health or good looks should neglect to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the diseases of the womanly organs. It cures irregularity, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It lights up the eye, brightens the complexion, and rounds out the sunken curves of the body.

It takes great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the diseases of the womanly organs. I was troubled with bearing down in my back and hips six years, and I wrote Dr. Pierce for advice. He sent me a box of his Prescription, and six bottles cured me. I feel like a new person, and I thank Dr. Pierce for his health. Life is a burden to say one without health. I have told a great many of my friends about the great medicines I took.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of postage and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 50 stamps for cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.