VICTORY SNATCHED FROM LONDON THE TWO HOODOOS BATTED BALL HIT RUNNER

Linneborn Singled in Ninth With Bases Full, But Side is Retired When Ball and Osborne Collided - Dunn's Muff Paved Way for Petes' Victory.

Three sten on bases, the ninth inning, two men out, one run needed to tie the score, and two to win. Oh the tension of that moment, when the batter taken his place at the plate, and the pitcher makes ready to deliver the ball. Oh the suspense and the thrill of it. The crowd of fans on the sidelines gathered of a hoodoo to the St. Thomas team in a few feet closer, and the clamor of several hundred throats increased, until in a rew reet closer, and the clamor of several hundred throats increased, until since he entered the Canadian League, at the first turn in the tide of defeat, and the first exultation in the moment of will pitch the first game of the series victory. The pitcher deliver the ball. "Ball one." cries the umpire, against the Saints this afternoon at and the roar of voices increases in volume. "Ball two," shrieks the umpire again, Tecumseh Park. Beebe has never been himself. It is up to him and the man who faces him so relentlessly at the beaten by the St. Thomas Club yet, and and the crowd is delirious with delight. And then the pitcher takes a grip on plate. He decides he'll take a chance, and put the next one over. He winds he has trimmed them three times this up, and the ball whizzes toward the batter. Eddie Linneborn is that batter, season. To offset the Beebe jinx, Manand Eddie brings his bat around sharp and quick on that third pitch of Louis Schettler's. The ball is driven on a line to right field. "It is a sure hit," shrieked someone in the stand. "the game is won, hurrah, hurr-

The Petes were lucky to win. It was a presentation and the final score was 4 to 3. Dunn's Miserable Work.

Up to the seventh London apparently had the contest tucked away. Bobby Heck was pitching grand ball, and had a lead of two runs under him as a result of some timely clouting in the second inning. The Petes had only located Heck for four hits when the "lucky seventh" came along, and had had few opportunities to score. Then Joe Dunn butted in, and away went the old ball game. Dunn is the weak spot in the London team, and he has been going from bad to worse in recent but the seventh withing but the seventh within the seventh withing but the seventh within the s Dunn's Miserable Work. "lucky seventh" came along, and had had few opportunities to score. Then Joe Dunn butted in, and away went the old ball game. Dunn is the weak spot in the London team, and he has been going from bad to worse in recent games. At first he wasn't hitting, but was fielding sensationally. Now he isn't hitting or fielding. Yesterday he isn't hitting or fielding. Yesterday he cost London a ball game. With one down in the seventh, Dunn muffed Byrne's easy fly, after yelling to Whit-craft, who also went after it, that he would take it. That paved the way for the four runs that followed. King was hit on the knee by one of Heck's fast ones and was forced at second on Fox's grounder to Whitcraft, making two out, with Byrne on third and Fox on first. Fox stole second and Snyder. on first. Fox stole second and Snyder threw to Heck, who could have easily nailed Byrne at third, as the latter had started for the plate, when he saw Snyder make the throw. But Bobby did not see the play in time and Mully Miller, the handsome-looking catcher, came through with a two-cushion drive right which scored both runs. Ster-baseman, came along and meet out took both ends of today's double-header preventing any more scoring.

Sterling Tightens Up.

The outcome of Mr. Dunn's fumble put London two runs to the bad and put Clarification of the bad and second by 3 to 2. In the first game Bob Sterling was going along like a storm. After the second inning only two hits were pried off him. In the seventh, the first two men up were easy outs, but Joe Dunn managed to draw a pass. Heck was up and had three balls called on him, mostly pitchouts to prevent Dunn from stealing. Then Joe fell asleep and Sterling picked him off the bag by several feet on a quick throw to Dolan. In the eighth, Eddie Linneborn worked himself around to second as a result of the sun getting in Frank Fox's eyes and causing him to lose sight of Linny's pop fly. Linnepurloined second, but was left, Whiteraft striking out and Bierling followed with a single and Miller scored. Blount was hit and Welsh's

That Eventful Ninth. That Eventful Ninth.

Then came the ninth. It was the one big inning, and as the Tecumps had beaten the Petes out the day before in the final session, they looked good to repeat. Sterling must have felt this way about it also for he became very unsteady and Eddie Lamy, first man up, was passed on four wide ones. Cy Reidy waited for a good one then laced Reidy waited for a good one, then laced a tidy single to left field, Lamy stopping at second. Johnny Nelson bunted, but were full with nobody out, and Jack Snyder up. Snyder had driven in two runs in the second inning, but the best he could do now was hit to Dolan, whose throw to Miller forced Lamy at the plate. He had so the could be the could be recorded by the plate. the plate. Heinie Steiger was sent in to bat for Joe Dunn and his fly to left was obligingly muffed by Welsh, a la Joe Dunn style, Reidy scoring. Welsh threw to the plate to catch Cy, but Miller whipped the ball to third and Johnny Nelson was forced out. Pitcher Louis Schettler had been injected into the fray by this time, however, coming when Sterling had pitched three wide ones to Steiger without putting in a single strike. Schettler put a strike over on his first pitch, then Heinie banged the next one, as described above. Reisling sent Osborne in to hit for Heck and "Ossy" drew a pass, filling the bases again. That brings us to Eddie Linneborn and back to the opening part of our story. That ninth inning was of our story. That ninth inning cramed with enough excitement to most people a life-time. It was base-ball luck that saved the Petes. It wouldn't happen again in a thousand

Beebe and Howick Will Oppose Each Other in Opening Game With Saints This Afternoon at Tecumseh Park.

Ben Beebe, who has been more or less ager Craven will send in Handsome Harry Howick against the London team. It will be a battle of hoodoos, for London fans are quite well aware of Howick's effective pitching when stacked up against the Tecumps.

This will make the third meeting be tween Beebe and Howick this season. Both previous times, the London righthander won from the Saints' spit-baller. In his last two starts against the time, and it is to be hoped that the spell he was once able to weave on the London Club has been forever dispelled. Today's game will be the first in a series of seven with the Craven crew. With Ottawa so close on the heels of the Reisling outfit, the outlook is not one to suffocate London fans with pleasure. The Saints have a bad habit of winning against the local team, although that series in St. Thomas a couple of weeks ago, when London took three straight, was a cruel blow. May the Londoners repeat in the present spell
