NOTES.

"The boys," remarked Mr. James Carruthers to a group of grain men on 'Change to-day, "are all sending in orders to Chicago to sell out, as they have nothing left but their opinions. But I'll tell you what it is," added Mr. Carruthers, "the man who buys now and has the courage to hang on will make money."

Wheat in the neighborhood of Toronto has wintered well. Snow is off the ground for about 10 miles back from the lake. Beyond that the ground is still covered.

Gossip From Chicago.

Estimated hogs to-morrow 14,000.

Estimated cars to-morrow: Wheat 158, corn 410, oats 180.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: Some fair buying had prices rather stiffy for a time, but the long wheat kept dribbling out, and there being little resistance a further decline of ¾c was made. Near the bottom Linn, Rosan and other good traders were liberal buyers and turned the market. The subsequent rally was quite thinly to covering by shorts. Cartridge, who stated yesterday that he was practically out of the market, was a free seller from 84¾c up. Foreign advices are more encouraging than could be expected and considerable new export business was reported to-day. It is believed by the conservative element that prices have gone low enough for a substantial rally and that it is unwise to be short of the market that has declined so sharply, at least until it is definitely known what damage the crop has sustained.

Counselman & Day to John J. Dixon & Co.: Corn and oats each suffered ½c further decline on general unloading by outsiders. Receivers, shippers and local shorts absorbed the offerings and prices afterwards recovered easily, closing firm at ½c advance for the day. Provisions opened steady but declined with grain on further selling by commission houses. Packers were again constant buyers and local shorts covering late in the session caused a complete recovery in lard and ribs. Pork closed barely steady at 3c decline. Strong local parties are buying on every weak spot.

Gulf From Gotham.

Henry Allen to John J. Dixon & Co.: Wall-street bulls keep on hoping, and a comparatively inexpensive exercise. The stock market keeps on going down, which is a trifle more interesting to the average observer. It is explained yesterday that the reason R.T. dropped from 16 down to 14 was that the financiers of the scheme did not want any soda water fizz, were conservative and all that. The stock market is showing a rare appreciation of their prudent plans. The quotations are lower to-day than they were at yesterday's close. The syndicate backing the reorganization scheme is officially announced. The list includes many of the millionaries of the street. The trouble has never been that the people interested in Terminal were poor, the real drawback has been that they were able to get Richmond so fast that the corporation could not keep them company. Sugar has been up about a point to-day, but closed lower than it did yesterday. Not only the specialties have suffered to-day but the whole market left to itself has been sagging. There have been no raids. Their own weight seems to be able to carry average stocks down. To-morrow's bank statement is being guessed about a good deal. It is not likely to make a cheerful showing, though bankers estimate that it is not probable that there will be any repetition of last week's sensational loss of $3,000,000. It is noticeable that we are not hearing much now about the Vanderbilts bulling everything. There is no public anywhere in sight. There are some indications that a number of bull cliques are tired. It looks somewhat as if the professional advice to buy on breaks might soon have a chance to show whether or not there is a profit in it.

Important Notice to the Horse-breeders of Canada.

Great Combination Breeders' Sale

Realizing the fact that breeding heavy horses in this country is no longer profitable owing to the great number now raised in the western states, together with the recent large increase in duty imposed upon Canadian stock—since the McKinley bill has come into operation—every breeder in Canada is now fully aware it is only the right kind of well-bred saddle and good-actioned harness horses that are really in demand, and for which high prices can be obtained. Under the circumstances, having been in correspondence with a number of prominent American breeders of thoroughbred (running) and standard (trotting) mares, with reference to holding a great combination sale annually in Toronto, to take place at the Repository, Adelaide-street west, during the Ontario Jockey Club Race Meeting.

MAY 25, 26 AND 27

And having extensively advertised in the leading American journals, I have already received entries of several very valuable consignments from the well-known Blue Grass regions of Kentucky, Indiana, etc. I have taken particular pains to impress upon intending consignors the strict necessity of sending only mares of good size with plenty of bone and action, which will cross well with the many magnificent sires now in this district, and from present indications through the large correspondence daily received I have every confidence this sale will be an unqualified success and afford such an opportunity to secure really high-class breeding animals as was never before offered the public in Canada.

I trust our Canadian breeders will, by availing themselves (in a liberal spirit), show their appreciation to obtain representatives of these high-class consignments and thus encourage American breeders to make further advancements.

Sale will commence each day at 9.30 a.m. sharp, and continue until noon; also commencing again at 7.30 p.m. and continuing until 10 o'clock, by electric light.

Catalogs will be ready about May 1, and will be forwarded upon application.
