KEEP WELL AND LIVE LONG

Dr. DANELSON'S COUNSELOR
WITH RECIPES

A TRUSTY GUIDE FOR THE FAMILY

An illustrated book of nearly 800 pages, treating Physiology, Hygiene, Marriage, Medical Practice, etc. Describing all known diseases and ailments, and giving plain prescriptions for their cure with proper directions for home treatment.

The RECIPES are endorsed by eminent physicians and the medical press. Remedies are always given in a pleasant form, and the reasons for their use. It describes the best Washes, Liniments, Salves, Plasters, Infusions, Pills, Injections, Sprays, Syrups, Tonics, etc. These are valuable to the physician and nurse, making it a manual for reference.

The chapter upon POISONS is exhaustive and every poison appears in the index, so that the antidote can be readily and, if need be, hurriedly found.

18 pages upon MARRIAGE treat the subject historically, philosophically and physiologically. It should be read by everybody.

67 pages upon HYGIENE or the Preservation of Health; a chapter of inestimable value. "Everybody wishes to be healthy and everybody when they think of it at any rate, wishes to avoid such things as might bring disease and suffering."

300 pages which follow present MEDICAL TREATMENT with Sensible and Scientific Methods of Cure.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Natural abilities are like natural plants, they need pruning by study.—Bacon.

Truth is eclipsed often, and it sets for a night; but never is it turned aside from its eternal path.—Ware.

A sound discretion is not so much indicated by never making a mistake as by never repeating it.—Bovee.

Thrift of time will repay you in after life with a usury of profit beyond your most sanguine dreams.—Gladstone.

There are braying men in the world as well as braying asses; for, what's loud and senseless talking and swearing any other than braying.—Sir Roger L'Estrange.

A man might frame and let loose a star to roll in its orbit, and yet not have done so memorable a thing before God, as he who lets go a golden-orbed thought to roll through the generations of time.—Beecher.

COUGHS AND COLDS.—Those who are suffering from Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, etc., should try BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, a simple and effectual remedy. They contain nothing injurious, and may be used at all times with perfect safety.

When one eye is extinguished, the other becomes more keen; when one hand is cut off, the other becomes more powerful; so when our reason in human things is disturbed or destroyed, our view heavenward becomes more acute and perfect.—Scott.

The best men are not those who have waited for chances but those who have taken them.—besieged the chance, conquered the chance, and made the chance their servitor.—Anon.

BALMORAL BULLETIN.

Sirs,—I had a troublesome cold which nothing would relieve until I tried Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, and I am glad to say, that it completely cured me.

ROBT. MCQUARRIE, Balmoral, Man.

A man that only translates shall never be a poet; nor a painter that only copies; nor a swimmer that swims always with bladders; so people that trust wholly to others' charity, and without industry of their own, will always be poor.—Sir W. Temple.

Life is a succession of lessons which must be lived to be understood. All is riddle, and the key to a riddle is another riddle. There are as many pillows of illusion as flakes in a snow-storm. We wake from one dream into another dream.—Emerson.

ENDORSED BY THE LEADERS.—When a remedy is endorsed by ministers, editors, merchants and leading men of all classes, it is strong evidence that that remedy has great merit and does what is claimed for it. Such a remedy is Burdock Blood Bitters, its wonderful success as a cure for dyspepsia, bad blood, etc., is well known to old and young.

Neither can we admit that definition of genius that some would propose,—"a power to accomplish all that we undertake;" for we might multiply examples to prove that this definition of genius contains more than the thing defined. Cicero failed in poetry, Pope in painting, Addison in oratory; yet it would be harsh to deny genius to these men.—Colton.

REDUCED TO SCIENCE.—The treatment of disease is now almost reduced to a science. A scientific product of medical skill for the cure of all blood diseases, from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, which has held popular esteem for years and increases steadily in favor is Burdock Blood Bitters. Its cures prove its worth.

A great poem is a fountain forever overflowing with the waters of wisdom and delight, and after one person, or one age, has exhausted all its divine effluence, which their peculiar relations enable them to share, another and yet another succeeds, and new relations are ever developed, the source of an unforeseen and are unconceived delight.—Shelley.

The following dialogue is sent to me as having been overheard at the Truth Toy Show:—Small Boy (in tears): "I want to go home, I want to go home." Fond Mother: "Why, what's the matter with you?" S.B.: "I'm afraid of them roaring beasts!" F.M.: "La, Johnny! You needn't be afraid of the animals. They're all dead. It's the organ that's a-making the noise."—Truth.

WHEN IN DESPAIR.—When in despair of being cured of lung troubles, there is still a hope, and a strong hope or perfect cure in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This medicine cures even after all others have failed, and no one suffering from coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, etc., need despair of cure while Norway Pine Syrup is obtainable.

Vicar (interviewing his little protégé, who has been sent down from London for the benefit of his health): "Well, my little man, and how'd you like Devonshire?" The Protégé: "Very well, sir. There's only one thing I don't like, and that's the milk." Vicar: "How's that my boy?" Boy: "In London we used to get our milk out of a nice clean shop, but here they squeegee it out of a dirty old cow."—Judy.
