The Human Hair.

How many persons abuse this delicate and beautiful ornament, by burning it with alcoholic washes, and plastering it with grease, which has no affinity for the skin, and is not absorbed! BURNETT'S COCOAINE, a compound of Coconut Oil, etc., is unrivalled as a dressing for the hair, is readily absorbed, and is peculiarly adapted to its various conditions, preventing its falling off, and promoting its healthy growth.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.

To the inhabitants of the intertropical regions the tree which Linnaeus calls the cocca-nucifera is the most useful species of the palm, as every part of it is adapted to some peculiar purpose.

The fibrous covering of the nut is used for cordage and matting; the kernel is for food; its milk is nutritious when fresh; its expressed oil when recent, is equal to that of sweet almonds, and is employed in the arts; its wood is used in various ways; its leaves form thatching and baskets; and from its sap is distilled Indian arrack; and it also yields sugar. But it was reserved for American ingenuity to bring it to another use, and Messrs. JOSEPH BURNETT & Co., of Boston, distinguished Pharmacutists, have for many years prepared "COCOAINE" to impart luxuriance and a beautiful gloss to the hair, so that it has become the most favorite of all toilet articles, and the cocoa-oil is its basis and principal ingredient.

It has had an extensive sale in this country, and, indeed, ALL THE PERFUMERY AND TOILET PREPARATIONS OF BURNETT & Co. enjoy the very highest reputation among the ladies, who do not agree with Thompson that

Loveliness

Needs not the foreign aid of ornament,
But is, when unadorned, adorned the most;

Nor do we, and the poet of the seasons was an unreasonable fellow to attempt to impose such nonsense upon us.—Geo. D. Prentice.

JOHN PALMER, Hair-dresser and Wig-Maker, 357 Notre Dame street, says:—"There is no hair-dressing that I can recommend with such ENTIRE CONFIDENCE as I do BURNETT'S "COCOAINE. Sales are large, and my patrons "express much gratification with its use."
