In 1945, Morton-Parker began manufacture of silverplated holloware using base metals of brass and copper. Today, still owned and operated by the same family, the company has developed a line of over 600 items with tools and dies capability to develop many more.

Gold plating and hand chased items are available on request.

Sold throughout Canada under the MARLBORO trade name, the company has directed its sales to the middle and better quality giftware retailer.

Also known for its extensive line of commercial hotel plate, Morton-Parker has developed, with these sales, expertise in shipping to most areas of the world.

Fine silver plated holloware from a family business that knows the value of superb design and skilled manufacturing.

Namaar Enterprises manufactures a range of exciting giftwares that are sure to please. Primarily a woodworking plant, we fabricate both kitchen gift items and folk pieces. Included amongst our eye-appealing products are functional cutting boards, coasters, wine racks, memo boxes and mug trees.

Namaar found that what this world needed was a handy, heavy duty carry-all for those "hard-to-keep-all-you-need-together" jobs. Our answer was MULTI.TOTE, a plastic and aluminum product designed for both indoor and outdoor use.

Our lines are found in both stores and catalogues that specialize in quality products. They are also featured by several mass merchandisers. Namaar has the flexibility to customize or develop products to the special needs of our clients.

Woodworking becomes a decorator art form with attractive products noted for their functional applications.
