

as well as Madam Speaker and her assistants. I would also like to take advantage of those few seconds to congratulate the mover and the seconder. You pointed out that it was difficult to make a good speech, but you would expect me to do it, I am convinced, because there are problems which particularly concern me. First, however vague it may be, the throne speech deserves a few comments and I am also interested in order and in national unity. Under the circumstances, I would rather remain the first member to speak when the debate is resumed and I can assure you, Mr. Speaker, as well as my colleagues, that I will have some relevant comments to make on those two subjects.

I would ask that the vote be taken rather than begin a speech which would not have all the impact that it deserves. This is all, Mr. Speaker.

[English]

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Blaker): Order, please. It being 9.30 p.m., it is my duty, pursuant to Standing Order 38(4), to interrupt these proceedings and put forthwith the question necessary to dispose of the amendment now before the House.

The question is, therefore, on the amendment to the amendment (Mr. Kristiansen). All those in favour of the amendment will please say yea.

Some hon. Members: Yea,

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Blaker): All those opposed will please say nay.

Some hon. Members: Nay.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Blaker): In my opinion the nays have it.

And more than five members having risen:

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Blaker): Call in the members.

The House divided on the amendment (Mr. Kristiansen) which was negated on the following division:
