JUST AS THE APRIL SHOWERS BRING FORTH MAY FLOWERS

So does the sunshine bring forth Spring Suits. There is no other time in the whole year when everything seems so bright and fresh as the spring. Just the minute you feel that you can go without your top coat you realize that the old suit won't stand inspection in the bright sunshine, and so you are forced to purchase something more suited to the season. Perhaps it never occurred to you that during the long, cold season of winter we prepared your new spring attire for you? But we did, and now we have the new spring models ready for you to slip into, with a choice of patterns and fabrics that will please every good taste.

To enumerate our lines individually we would have to buy all the space in this paper and then leave some good things unsaid, so we just boil it down to a short space, and the most cordial invitation we can extend to you to come and make your selection from the best range of suits that we have ever shown you from Ten Dollars up to Thirty-eight. We are satisfied that our methods and treatment of you will hold your future business for us. Might sound a little like hoasting, but it isn't.

Mr. Foy then stated that this proposal would be made to the university authorities, and if they wanted to take the bill with that stipulation they could do so. If not, no proclamation would be made. Hon. Thomas Crawford claimed that in dealing with the property owners on the street the university was discriminating. "I think that in passing this bill it should be specifically stated that all property owners should be put on an equal footing." Mr. Crawford also stated that if the two parties could not come to an agreement as to the price of release sured the members of the legislature the matter should be submitted to ar-

INQUIRY CLOSED DESPITE PROTEST

Opposition Members Wanted Public Accounts Committee to Continue Work.

HE WOULD NOT ANSWER

F. H. McGuigan Again Refused to Tell of Settlement of Claim.

By voting down motions made by J. C. Elliott, West Middlesex, the public accounts committee of the legislature yesterday wound up its enquiries into the 1912 expenditure of the government. The opposition members fought tooth and nail for further sittings, claiming that certain men who were summoned to appear as witnesses had stayed away, feigning sickness. Mr. Elliott's amendment asked that a commission should be appointed by the committee to continue the enquiry, and that it should be given power to cross the line into the United States to take the evidence of P. W. Sothman, formerly chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and J. Engh of New York and of C. L. DeMuralt of Ann Arbor, Mich.

In the argument that followed the proposal, T. W. McGarry (South Renfrew) bested the opposition members and exposed the plot which they had invented. He stated that he had learned that Mr. Sothman was not sick as he had stated when asked to attend the enquiry, that he was afraid to attend the enquiry and make the statement which he was reported to have made to certain individuals; that in New York he could make statements libelling Canadians without any fear of being tried for perjury, and that it was for the purpose of securing these libelous statements that the Liberals were anxious to cross the line to examine him. Mr. McGarry further claimed that to appoint a commission to carry on the enquiry of the public accounts comto appoint a commission to carry on the enquiry of the public accounts com-mittee would be to delegate the powers of the committee to the commission, a siep which the committee could not take.

wanted Commission.

Charles M. Bowman (North Bruce) thought that the facts warranted the appointment of a commission, and he asked that the motion should be passed.

Mr. McGarry moved in amendment that the committee should present its report to the legislature, and when the matter went to a vote the opposition's proposal was snowed under, and the meetings of the committee for the present session came to an end.

F. H. McGuigan of the McGuigan Construction Company was the last witness heard by the committee. For the third or fourth time since the beginning of the session he was examined by N. W. Rowell with reference to the settlement of the claim which he had against the government.

Would Not Answer.

"You have stated that if you did not get a settlement you would expose something?" asked Mr. Rowell.

"He had answered that question before," declared Chairman Ferguson.

"Well. I want him to answer it again,"

"I decline to answer the question," SIR JAMES GIVEN

"I decline to answer the question, said Mr. McGuigan.

There was one question which Mr. McGuigan did answer, however, and it would have been just as good for the health if the opposition had it not been asked, for the answer shows that the discumptances under which the Mccircumstances under which the Mc-Guigan Construction Company obtained the contract were not so peculiar as at first reported.

The facts are that the DeMuralt ten der, which was withdrawn after Mr McGuigan had "fixed" Mr. DeMural McGuigan had "fixed" Mr. DeMuralt was not $200,000 lower than the tender taken as the basis for the computation of the lump sum tender, but only $100,000 lower. Had the unit tenders been accepted, all that could have been saved would have been $100,000 at the outside, and in the opinion of the commission a lump sum tender was more in the interest of the province than many unit tenders.

At the conclusion of Mr. McGuigan's testimony, Mr. Elliott complained of Col. The Russell-Knight Car

MEN who know cars—men who have run them since "the early days" and who have made a careful comparison of the Russell-Knight with other high-grade cars are unanimous in their approval of its all-round superiority.

The design is later and will be standard, not only for 1913, but for 1914 as well. The Russell-Knight Engine is an advance upon even the Knight Engines in the European and United States licensees' cars. It is absolutely the "latest" Knight model, passed and approved by a corps of engineers second to none in the world. Model "28" today is a proved success.

The body is of an entirely new design—not a part or accessory is visible upon A. It is a handsome body, designed to be comfortable and spacious.

The Russell Left Drive leaves all four doors available. The driver has a clear view in both directions before turning into passing traffic.

The Rear Windshield—a unique and exclusive Russell feature, is a great boon when winds are high or roads are dusty.

Demountable Rims and the Square Rim save many a roadside repair. The ample clearance and low centre of gravity make it the ideal car for Canadian road conditions. The Power Tire Pump eliminates all labor in re-inflating tires.

A HANDSOME CAR

Prime Minister Honored by His Followers in the Legislature.

Leader Was Taken by Surprise, But Spoke Quite Feelingly.

It was to tumultuous cheers and th strains of "For He is a Jolly Good Fellow" that the premier entered the room, and when the applause had died away, Dr. R. F. Preston, the party whip, read a few well-chosen words, whip, read a few well-chosen words, expressing the heartfelt confidence and fidelity which each individual in the government heid towards the chief man in all the house. At no period in the span of years in which the had been elected to lead the way, had their appreciation of his ability been more clearly vindicated than in the session which was now nearing its close. His skill as a parliamentarian had never appeared so conspicuous.

close. His skill as a parliamentarian had never appeared so conspicuous, and the uprightness and dignity which had always been associated with his character, were even more apparent. That his devotion to public duty was unlimited, was evidenced in the imperial dignities which had been granted to him in recognition, a recognition which all his associates in the house were happy to rejoice in.

The surprise of the premier at the occurrence and the natural play upon his emotions, following such an enthusiastic tribute, left him at a loss for a moment as to a reply.

"It would be difficult to summon up at a moment's notice, enough apt and fitting words to express even faintly my appreciation of this act," he said, feeling that anything he might say would fail to display the earnestness he desired to show, or the driving power of his actual sentiment.

"As men go and as parties go, and as British institutions pass, and history makes up the records, I think that we may say that the record we have made is not one that those who come after will have reason to be ashamed of. It is one that those who come in the future will learn to appreciate."

Times had changed since he had come everything to be proud of. Beyond a few missteps, which naturally were attendant upon all mortals who were not perfect, there was every reason for self congratulation. As long as they remain faithful to the ideals which he confessed had somewhat distinguished them from others they might rest assured of the continued support of the people.
