BADLY HURT BY ENRAGED DRIVER

James Curran, 13 Years Old, Stole Ride — Expressman Struck Him With Piece of Cordwood.

Thirteen-year-old James Curran, son of Joseph Curran of 72 Hastings-avenue, is in a critical condition at St. Michael's Hospital, and Charles Gallagher, a teamster employed by his brother, an expressman at 40 Sackville-street, is under arrest charged with feloniously wounding the boy.

It is alleged that the boy hooked a ride behind Gallagher's cart in Church-street, near Shuter, yesterday afternoon. The man was annoyed, and, picking up a large piece of cordwood, struck the boy upon the head with it, leaving him unconscious and driving off. He was followed by a man in a motor car, who determined to follow him until he should be identified.

Detectives Miller and Sockett set out and rounded up the man about 3 o'clock. He declared that the boy had insulted him and that he had thrown the stick at him. The assault was witnessed by several pedestrians, among whom was Frank E. Elliott, jeweler, 44 East Queen-street, who helped to carry the injured lad to St. Michael's Hospital.

The lad's skull is fractured and his condition is very grave.

DISCREDITABLE IS TREATMENT OF INSANE

Grand Jury Advocates Special Prison for Those Awaiting Trial—New Ontario Should Have Jail.

"We know of nothing which reflects more discredit upon the community than our treatment of the insane."

The above is an extract from a long report made by the grand jury in the assizes yesterday, and is a pointed expression of the feeling of that body of men in regard to the practice in this city of confining demented people in the Toronto jail, simply because they are insane and for no other reason.

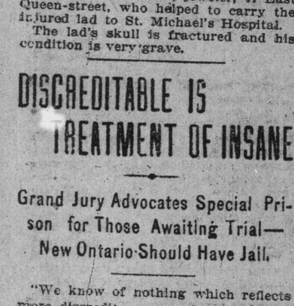
The complaint against this mediaeval process is an old one and has been voiced often, with seemingly but little effect. In the report the grand jurymen also pointed out that at present there are nineteen men and five women in jail here for insanity.

The practice of herding prisoners not yet up for trial, or remanded, with hardened and habituated criminals, was also generally condemned in the report. The jury characterized this process as inhuman and recommended strongly that a proper place adjacent to the city hall be provided for such prisoners.

As only two guards are often in charge at night of sometimes over 300 prisoners, the grand jury pointed out that the number should be increased to properly safeguard the lives of the inmates and the premises in case of fire or other emergencies.

The report touched on the social evil, in that it advocated an extension of the present six months' term for disorderly women to one of two years with the parole privilege. "We believe," said the report, "that the six months' term usually imposed on disorderly women is inadequate in so far as moral reformation is concerned, and would suggest a term of two years, with the parole privilege for those who prove their worthiness."

The overcrowding in all the institutions was found to be due partly to the system of incarcerating prisoners from North Ontario in this city, and a special jail for that part of the province was advocated.



Dead Men

The man lacking in the vital power nature gave him, debarred by weakness form functional enjoyment of his most important functions, merely a burlesque upon strong, robust, virile manhood, is, in a sense:

A Dead Man

Life has lost its zest, the gold of enjoyment is absent, it is not worth the price of the pain it cost to live. Every weak man knows this is true. Thousands of men in all walks of life restored to full manhood. Do not delay, but consult me to-day.

DYNAMITE JOBS MAPPED BY MYSTERIOUS "PING"

Structures Slated for Destruction by Use of Code—More Witnesses Called.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 15.—(Can. Press.)—Telegrams and letters signed "Ping" and purporting to contain a code system for giving instructions about viaducts, bridges and buildings that were to be blown up, were read before the federal grand jury to-day in connection with Ortie E. McManigal's confession as to who was implicated with him in the dynamite conspiracy.

This signature, according to McManigal, was not that of the McNamaras, but was used by another person whom he named. In June, 1910, at Cincinnati, McManigal said, in response to a telegram from "Ping," he went to Cleveland and there blew up a viaduct, for which he received $125, paid him by "Ping" in Toledo. The dynamiter's movements to Pittsburg and his arrangement to have a supply of nitroglycerine stored in an old shop at Rochester, Pa., also were arranged by this person.

The feature of the investigation having to do with the movements of men who, McManigal says, accompanied him to various cities where "open shop" work was to be destroyed, received an impetus by the issuance of subpoenas for new witnesses to-day.

New Witnesses.

The witnesses were ordered called after Oscar Lawler, special assistant to the attorney-general, arrived from Washington and conferred with United States Attorney Miller, who is conducting the enquiry.

P. W. Murphy, a merchant of Springfield, Ill., is expected to testify to-morrow concerning the dynamiting of his plant on March 8, 1911, six weeks before J. J. McNamara was arrested. C. M. Ruddell, a railroad engineer, and Geo. Wright, also are expected to testify about the destruction on the same night of a viaduct south of Springfield.

All the indictments against W. J. Burns, the detective, and James Hosick, a special officer from Los Angeles, charging them with kidnapping John J. McNamara last April, were dismissed by the county criminal court to-day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(Can. Press.)—That the past year has been the most unprofitable to the packing house industry in a decade was the assertion made in the report of the executive committee to the American Meat Packers' Association, which assembled here to-day for its annual meeting.

"The uncertainty which prevails in many lines of business as to just what the government considers legitimate operations," is given by the committee as the reason.
