The police think that some young men have been taking a drug before they leave their ciothing to be examined by the detectives, and that they have, in consequence, been graded lower than Class A—that is, fit for overseas service.

Working on information, the detective department assigned the two distoctives to watch the aume of Cornish. Last night Detectives Archibald and Maurer waited outside, and saw a young man go in, When he came out he was appresioned by the detectives. other mintary works with men as thick as bees, and this accounts for the great number of captives per mile of frontage. The French stormed the quarries of Fruty, Boerhy and Mont Parnasse, the Villages of Allemant, Vudesson and Chavignon, a small Maimaison fort and the line of heights dominating Pargny-Filain. The positions, the of great strength, had suf-fresh German reserves came up, but the elan of the allies carried them right thru these formations, driving them helter-skelter to safety. The weather was bad, but the French aviators, nevertheless, gave excellent service to the infantry. The French captured an enormous amount of Chemin des Dames. The French are striving to take from the Germans the high ground in the region northeast of Soissons, so as further to dominate the enemy lines of communication. When they finish this operation they will overlook additional sections of the Aisne and the Ailette Valleys and the level country beyond to the Belgian frontier. It is not improbable that General Petain will also select this region for the driving of a wedge into the German lines similar to the British wedge that is being driven in Belgium. The creation of a large wedge would compel a German retirement. This would necessarily follow the river valleys and railways and it would therefore have to proceed parallel to the French front from Laon to Rheims and the Champagne. The retirement would therefore bring almost certain disaster on the enemy. This is not neces-

Secretary Lindo read letters from the prime minister regarding the increase of soldiers' pay, which will receive consideration; also a communication regarding a suggestion put forward by the B.I.A., that the imperial reservists pay be increased to the scale of Canadian soldiers, which is now under consideration by the premier, and a letter from Works Commissioner R. C. Harris. stating that owing to shortage of funds, work on St. Clarens avenue retaining wall cannot be proceeded with.

Alex. Craig suggested that the communications from the premier be laid oper until progress is reported. "The subststance allowance should be increased and we should take up this matter with the Great War Veterans' Association together," said Mr. Craig.

The case of G. Taylor, a member of the association, who was hurt while working on the Imperial Bank building in 1915, and did not receive sufficient remuneration from the compensation board, was discussed. Mr. Taylor, it was pointed out, was employed by a Quebec firm of contractors and received a weekly wage of $15.10. Patriotic Fund Discussed.

The Patriotic Fund was next discussed at considerable length. The chairman stated that several women called upon him and requested him to investigate the cutting-off of their patriotic money.

"Their allowances were canceled, althor their husbands were overseas, and to increase their small incomes they went to work on munitions, leaving their children well taken care of by neighbors.

"Now, the people of Toronto who subcribed their millions, never intended that the fund should be treated in this manner, It is not the heads of the organization who are working the fund in this manner, but the people under them," said Mr. MacNicol.

Dr. MacIntosh's Plan.

Dr. G. W. MacIntosh outlined in detail a scheme for the proper administration of the city hall. In the matter of civic vacancies, no discrimination should be made as to race, creed or politics, he said Lodges', political pull and other influences should be eliminated, and only those who surpass in comnetitive tests and examinations be eligible for office. Public servants should have but one aim, namely, the ratepayers', and not the interests of questionable influences. The city today had a rotten system, added Dr. MacIntosh.

The matter was left over for a special meeting.
