M. White silk gloves for little girls of 3 to 10 years—made with two dome fasteners and silk cord backs. 65 cents a pair.

N. Boys' tan capeskin gloves, with one dome fastener, gusset fingers, Bolton thumb and pique or pique seams. Sizes 6 to 16 years. $1.50 a pair.

C. A washable glove in fine French suede, in tan and mastic shades—one pearl dome fastener, pique seams, self-attached Imperial backs. $2.50 a pair.

F. "The Limousine"—a washable capeskin glove with elastic at the wrist, called often the "Biarritz" gownlet. It has pique seam seams, Imperial points, and may be had in tan, pearl, mastic, white and grey. $2.50 a pair.

K. French chevrette glove in various shades of tan, with pique seams, gusset fingers, Bolton thumb, one pearl button and Paris points. $2.00 a pair.

O. Children's white thread gloves, with 2 dome fasteners. Sizes 3 to 14 years. 65c and 75c a pair.

P. For boys and girls—white or natural chamoisette gloves, with 2 dome fasteners and cord points. Sizes 3 to 14 years. 75c a pair.

G. A fine French lambskin glove with oversewn seams, stitched backs and two dome fasteners—to be had in tan, green, black and white. $1.35 a pair.

L. For boys and girls—tan capeskin gloves, with one dome fastener, gusset fingers, Bolton thumb and Paris points. $2.00 a pair.

R. For boys and girls—tan capeskin gloves, with one dome fastener, gusset fingers, Bolton thumb and Paris points. $2.00 a pair.

Q. Children's white thread gloves, with 2 dome fasteners. Sizes 3 to 14 years. 65c and 75c a pair.

U. Milness silk glove with 1 1/2 inch stripes of melon pink and white, or Paddy green and white, with plaid, white wash and sailor collar. This is $7.50. A coat in plain melon pink has a rash and small collar of "self," and is priced $9.00. At $9.00, too, is still another coat in emerald green, with collar, cuffs and wash of white. And at $15.00 in emerald green or rose pink, is a beauty with sailor collar and cuffs of white, and a graceful wash.

"Paddy"—Sure you may have a gold color hat, Paddy. How does your nose tilt? Would it look best under a mushroom, a sailor or a turban? All three and sundry other fashionable designs, large and small, can be had in this new yellow shade, in both fine and heavy styles, at prices ranging from $5.00 up. The so-called "trimmings" show that nice evidence of restraint which marks the modish bonnet of this season, consisting of a bead ornament, stichings of heavy silk or wool, a cockade of ribbon or a Chinese ring or tassel. One dare not describe any particular model for you, for in all likelihood it would be gone before your letter came back. But if you will state the style that suits you best, the Shopping Service will send you a hat you will surely like.

"M.A.P."—Mainly about "Purchases"—is that the idea? Well, it seems to me that the smartest costume available for $15.00 would be a navy blue serge dress. At that price they are chiefly of the one-piece, straight-line order, however. Would you not venture if the pleats were belted trimly? Otherwise one might suggest a nice new model in navy blue crepe de chine—likewise at $15.00—which has a plain gathered skirt, and bodice with sleeves of navy blue nixon and becoming little collar and vestee of white Georgette crepe. Later on, of course, there will be "beach" cloth suits, such as you describe.

"Oliver Twist"—Back for more? But you won't go hungry this time, Oliver. Advice is always about the easiest thing to get in the world, isn't it? However, let the facts speak for themselves: there is a most attractive fibre silk sweater coat, showing 1/2 inch stripes of melon pink and white, or Paddy green and white, with plaid, white wash and sailor collar. This is $7.50. A coat in plain melon pink has a rash and small collar of "self," and is priced $9.00. At $9.00, too, is still another coat in emerald green, with collar, cuffs and wash of white. And at $15.00 in emerald green or rose pink, is a beauty with sailor collar and cuffs of white, and a graceful wash.

"Ann"—If you have never heard Dr. Jowett there is a treat in store for you some time when you go down to New York. In the meantime two of his books of daily readings are to be had—"Yes Another Day" at 35c, and "Daily Altar," at 25c. "The Three Things" and "The Perfect Tribute," by Mary Shipman Andrews, are 50c each. And "The House Boat on the Six" (You aren't expecting theology in this, are you?) is by Kendrick Bangs, and priced $1.10.

"Raymond": or, Life and Death

The Much Discussed Book by Sir Oliver Lodge, Reviewed for us by Mr. A. E. Smythe

FOR thirty years Sir Oliver Lodge has been investigating the problem of life after death, as his book, "The Survival of Man," published in 1899, demonstrates. His conclusions, he now says, can be associated with a private experience of his own, instead of with the private experiences of others. Several of his disincarnate friends, like Sidgwick, Myers, Gurney and Hodgson, has united to establish communication across the "chasm," as he announced in his address to the British Association when President in 1913. Myers had sent a warning through an American channel on August 8, 1915. Raymond, Sir Oliver's son, was killed on September 1 following. The first message was received from him on September 25—"Tell father I have met some friends of yours."

Sir Oliver writes with the weight and authority of an eminent man of science, president of a university, and with the understanding of a devout Christian. His work is done to help the world. Soldiers, hurled out of their bodies in war, need help. "Poor chaps," Raymond says. "You see, no one has told them before they come over, and it is so hard for them when they see us and they feel alive, and their people keep on sobbing."

Three months after Raymond's death his father asked him: "Have you been let to see Christ?" His reply: "Father, I shall see Him presently. It is not time yet. I am not ready. But I know He lives, and I know He comes here. All the sad ones see Him if no one else can help them." How he saw and what he told later.

Sir Oliver himself in a short but conspicuous chapter, "Outlook on the Universe," suggests that a better era is at hand. "Those who think that the day of that Messiah is over are strangely mistaken; it has hardly begun."

This is a book as scientific as the author's "Ether of Space," as religious as any volume published for centuries. It remains to be seen what the world of thought will gain from its engrossing pages. Price, $2.00.

RUSSIA'S SHAME HAS BEEN ENDED

The emperor, a prisoner waiting for his fate to be declared by a revolted people. We closed this dark book of Nicholas Romanoff's work and life. Let the book, the shame of Russia, pass into the hands of historians. We must forget the poor, unworthy emperor. Breathe freely only when he has disappeared forever from the horizon of Russian life. The coffin of Rasputin was disinterred at Tsarskoe Selo yesterday, and is lying on a truck there pending his removal elsewhere for burial. Gen. Baron Fredericks, former minister of the imperial house, has been brought before the duma. He received a hostile reception on his arrival at the railway station in Petrograd. Germany's Menace. "In your hands," says a cabinet manifesto, "lies the fate of national liberty. The enemy is straining to profit by any disorganization of the accumulated great Russian forces on the Russian front. With the advent of spring he will release his numerous fleets and menace the capital. His victory would be a victory over free Russia. A Russian victory would deprive the Russian of all their liberties and restore to power the emperor of the enslaved people." The new liberty loan will be for $500,000,000 rubles. The new government has adhered to the new government.

GERMAN PRESS ACCEPTS STORY

Berlin, March 23, via Staville.—All the official news is still lacking in regard to press reports that China has broken off relations with Germany. It is now accepted by the German press that a rupture has come. Regret is expressed generally that China has yielded to pressure believed to have been exerted by the entente. "These six hundred million Chinese do not hate us," says The Frankfurter Zeitung, "just as they do not love us, because they do not know us."

FOE COULD NOT FACE BRITISH ATTACK AGAIN

Great Apprehension Existed in German Lines During Somme Battle.
London, March 23.—(From British headquarters in France.)—Altho the Germans have told the people of the evacuated towns countless stories to demonstrate their invincibility, they had a pretty good general knowledge of the true state of affairs in the world beyond the German lines. The correspondent continues: "The people say the German soldiers had been talking a good deal, especially of late, and that notwithstanding all efforts to conceal the truth from them it was surprising how much they appeared to know. It was almost possible to judge the progress of the Somme battle by changes in the demeanor of the Germans. They did not attempt to conceal their apprehensions at the prospect of facing another great British offensive this year, and one of the possible reasons for their retreat may well be the doubt of the German high command whether they could get their men to face the possible continuation of such an attack."

Foe Extends Ruthlessness Zone Near Norwegian Waters

London, March 23.—A Reuter despatch from Christiania says the German minister has communicated to the Norwegian Government an order from his government that in future the part of the Arctic Sea lying east of 24 degrees east longitude and south of 75 degrees north latitude, excepting Norwegian territory, is to be regarded dangerous for all navigation. Ships will be met with all weapons. Neutral vessels entering those waters must do so at their own risk. Neutral ships already on the way for or returning from ports in this zone will not be attacked without warning until April 6.

RUSSIANS KEEP UP PERSIAN ADVANCE

Defeat Turks in Three Encounters Near Border and Lake Van. FIGHT SIXTEEN HOURS
Turks Lose Strong Positions in Vicinity of Kerind.
Petrograd, March 23.—Russian troops pushing west from Kermanshah, in Persia, have reached a point less than 50 miles from the Mesopotamian border. The war office announced today that after a Turkish army had been beaten in a sixteen-hour battle outside of Kerind, the Turks had retreated to the vicinity of Kerind and had made another stand there. Another Russian column has attacked the Turks along the Shirwan River, a tributary of the Diale, about midway between Kermanshah and Sakiz, from which last point another Russian army has been pushing southwestward into Mesopotamia. The Russians also have won a new success near Lake Van, in Southern Turkish Armenia, capturing men and material on the southwestern shore of the lake. The official statement reads: "Caucasus front: During the night of Wednesday, a body of our scouts penetrated unnoticed into the enemy's trenches near Hatvan, on the southwest shore of Lake Van, and by a daring attack captured, without firing a shot, a machine gun section consisting of three officers, 18 Askaris and two machine guns, together with an armorer, an instrument for measuring altitudes, and a telephone. "In the direction of Pendjivn our troops joined in combat with the Turks occupying the southern shore

WINTRY WEATHER RETARDS ADVANCE

British Reach Point Within Three Miles of St. Quentin. REBUILD ROADS FAST
Construction Units Speedily Repair Damage—Troops Move Forward.
London, March 23.—For the last 24 hours the weather on the front in France has been of the worst possible kind. Operations have been brought almost to a standstill. Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters wires that more definite resistance is being offered by the German rear-guards as they are pressed back by the British advanced troops. This is particularly noticeable along the irregular line running in a northern and northwestern direction from De Savy wood, which lies about three miles west of St. Quentin. In the most "bartherly" sector affected by the retreat the Germans continue to maintain strong covering patrols and cavalry guards, and also have posted many machine guns at chosen vantage points, indicating that they intend to prevent the British from continuing to progress as rapidly as they have done heretofore. Altho some cavalry skirmishes were reported, as well as small clashes of reconnoitering parties, there was no appreciable change in the situation today, except the tendency of the Germans to offer greater resistance. Behind all the newly-acquired British front the greatest activity continues, both in the way of troop movement and in the construction and repair of roads and railways. Thus far

Seven Americans Among Twenty Healdton Victims

The Hague, March 23.—A second boat from the Healdton has been brought to Terschelling by a Dutch torpedo boat with eight men, including one badly injured. One Dutchman had jumped overboard, losing his life. The third boat, containing 19 men, was overturned when the sinking situation was discovered, including seven Americans.

GERMAN BREAD RATION REDUCED

The towns manage with the bread rations." GRAVE DIFFICULTIES.
Copenhagen, via London, March 23.—The announcement of reductions in the bread ration in Germany and an increase in the meat ration, as received here, is indicative of Germany's Prussian food commissioner, Dr. Georg Michaelis, referred in a recent speech in the Prussian Diet. The grain stocks, which even with the supplies received from Rumania were barely sufficient to carry thru the population until the harvest at the old ration, had been drawn upon to compensate for the potato crisis in the winter, when for weeks the supplies to the cities were interrupted owing to the intensely cold weather. "The restoration" of the potato ration to five pounds is really a reduction, when it is considered that the original ration in the autumn was seven pounds. Then for weeks the actual ration of three pounds was unobtainable by a large part of the population, Hamburg, for instance, serving it out only at occasional intervals. The meat ration, on the other hand, can be increased owing to the comparatively large stocks of cattle which have accumulated, and which must be slaughtered owing to the shortage in fodder.

Full Recognition By Allies Of Russia's New Government

London, March 23.—Full recognition was accorded the new Russian Government by action of all the allies today. It was announced here on behalf of all the allies that all entente diplomatic envoys in Petrograd had been instructed previously to accord full recognition when, in their discretion, the time had arrived for such action.

DEPOSED CZAR AND CONSORT ARE INTERNED IN PALACE

Tsarskoe Selo, Russia, March 22, via London, March 23.—On his arrival here today in the custody of four members of the duma, Nicholas Romanoff, the deposed emperor, was turned over immediately to the Tsarskoe Selo commander and taken to the Alexandrovsky Palace, where the former Empress Alexandra already was interned. The special train carrying the former emperor arrived at 1.30 o'clock on the branch line outside Alexandrovsky Palace. On leaving the train Nicholas entered an automobile accompanied by his adjutant, Prince Dolgoroukoff, the only courier of first rank who accompanied him, and by the four duma commissioners. They were driven to the palace.

FOOD SITUATION IN BRITAIN SHOULD NOT CREATE A PANIC

London, March 23.—Speaking in the house of commons in behalf of the food controller this afternoon, Charles Bathurst, member of parliament for the Wilton division, Wiltshire, said: "While the food situation and the outlook for the future are not wholly satisfactory, the poorer classes in this country are suffering less than those of any other belligerent. In the greatest danger at the present is in arousing unnecessary panic." Admitting a shortage of potatoes, the speaker urged all patriots to use a substitute for this food article during the next two or three months.
