

O
A. F. J.
John D.
Jas Rite
J H M.
Thos M.
~~~~~
Off

John W.
Henry
CH Fi
James
J E W.
J Righ
W H T.
Major
J F M.
W Litt
E Pryo.
CN Fit
J Plum
W Da
J And

In No

Lt
milit col Ct
Harri
ford,
gette,
Esq d
Jame
Low,
depu
Esq
spect theat ran, l
field
Co
A
Graz

Li
JT
Aus
W mas
A
ordr
hosp
N
Sir
ver
aide
ext
ing
Joh

the high chancellor that he further occasion for his serviand ordered them all to with-w, and the three counsellors, Friel, Graun, and Raustleben, to be taken into custody. He also sent an immediate order to Custia, for the president, judges, and counsellors, who had decreed the unjust sentence in the first instance, to be arrested; and afterwards nominated a commission, under the direction of Baron de Zedlitz, minister of state, to proceed against them all according to law.

His majesty, in consideration of the said injustice, has prevented the millers Arnold with the sum of fifteen hundred rix dollars. He also ordered, that a sum equal to that produced by the sale of the millers effects, be stopped and paid to him from the salaries due to the respective judges, &c. who had any share in that unjust sentence; and has, moreover, condemned the proprietor of the mill to reimburse to the miller all the rent he had received, from the time when he first opened the canal.

Honey a cure for the Gravel.—A number of years, ago, says a correspondent, I was much afflicted with the gravel, and twice in serious danger, from small stones lodged in my passage. I met with a gentleman who had been in my situation, and got rid of this disorder by sweetening his tea with half honey and half sugar. I adopted this remedy and found it effectual. After being fully clear of my disease about ten years, I declined taking honey, and in about three months I had a violent fit of my old complaint. I then renewed my practice of taking honey in my tea, and am now more than three score, and have not for the last twenty seven years, had the smallest symptoms of the gravel. I have recommended my prescription to many of my acquaintance and have never known it to fail.

Chamomile.—A medical correspondent at Madrid has acquainted a friend in Ireland with some astonishing effects of the herb chamomile, in certain inflammatory disorders of the eyes, when every other remedy usually prescribed had proved abortive. The following among many cases, wherein the doctor has been concerned, is mentioned as a proof of the virtues of this salutary though common herb.

Maria de Macos, daughter of a master carpenter, had for many years been afflicted with weeping eyes, which discharged an acrimonious fluid, that brought on an almost total loss of sight. Alteratives were prescribed to no purpose, nor could a course of mercury procure the smallest allevia-tion. At length he made a strong decoction of chamomile boiled in sweet cow's milk; with this, the patient bathed her eyes several times a day, as warm as it could be suffered without uneasiness, and in about five weeks her eye were perfectly cured.

A good Bread.—A mixture of two parts flour and one potatoe, makes an agreeable bread, which cannot be distinguished from wheaten bread. It is said that 300 tons of potatoes are consumed in London for this purpose every week.