Rev. Dr. MacKinnon Speaks of Mount Allison and Pine Hill

Important Statement Made on College Arrangements Under Church Union

Saint John today by Rev. Dr. Clarence MacKinnon, principal of Pine Hill theological college, Halifax, and school of Mount Allison University, Sackville, will be removed to Halifax and in return the former Methodist Hon. G. H. Boivin Tells of Apeducational centre will become offi-cial headquarters for the merged denominations in this eastern division Dr. MacKinnon desired to make it very explicit that the transfer of the ological students to Pine Hill was not considered an amalgamation or

Pine Hill was a property worth approximately $200,000, and was quite explained, was practically a summary generously endowed, the terms of the evidence was not tabled today,

The reverend principal of Pine Hill, speaking as Moderator of the United Church Synod, stressed the point that, since denominational lines had been eliminated the Pine Hill-Mount A. project was purely a family matter, being most amicably arranged. It was a simplifying and progressive move a simp

In one department alone the former Farren's solicitor had notified Mr. Tait Methodist body had effected a saving of $16,000. Work was proceeding with more facility now, the risk of money cramp was vastly lessened and that closed the case.

Give Addresses at Meeting of Ministerial Association in City Today

At a meeting of the Saint John Ministerial Association today Rev. Dr.. Clarence MacKinnon, of Pine Hill, a simplifying and progressive move, one that would improve educational familing of the goods they had offered conditions and strengthen things financially. He felt there was little chance of the project failing; in fact full and hearty agreement marked all the negotiations to date.

Broadening his remarks, in answer to a reporter's queries, he said, already the united church body was feeling the united church body was feeling the material benefit of amalgamation. In one department alone the former of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered benefit of the goods they had offered handling of the goods they had offered
