Weak Men, Brace Up!

DR. McLAUGHLIN'S ELECTRIC BELT

"I will make you strong. It will send the life blood dancing through your veins. You will feel the exhilarating spark warm your frame, the bright flash will come to your eye and a firm grip to your hand, and you will be able to grasp your fellowmen and feel that what others are capable of doing is not impossible to you. This grand appliance has brought strength, ambition and happiness to thousands of men in the past year."

It is a sure remedy for the cure of Rheumatism, Weak Back, and similar ailments, as well as Dyspepsia, Constipation, etc. How can anyone remain in doubt as to the value of this grand remedy when you see so many cures by it.

Dear Sir, I wish to say that your Belt has given me good satisfaction. I might say further that I think mine was a hard case to help, being troubled with sick headache and very bad pains in my head and not able to sleep more than half the night. I am pleased to say that after wearing your Belt for a while, I slept better and my sick spells grew longer between. The current generated by the battery was fine and soothing and gave me good satisfaction in a great many ways. I remain, as ever,

J. J. CORBETT IS OPERATED ON; PERITONITIS

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion pugilist, was operated on for peritonitis in the Jefferson hospital here last night. It was found that Corbett was suffering from peritonitis and his condition was regarded as critical. Late tonight, however, it was reported that he was resting comfortably and was in no immediate danger.

Corbett was unable to appear during this week at a local theatre. He complained of pain at his first appearance on Monday, and yesterday his former sparring partner, Jim Daly, accompanied him to the hospital, where the physicians decided that an immediate operation was necessary.

This morning the physicians reported that Corbett was not yet out of danger and that his condition is "satisfactory as can be expected."

Style at the Bat.

"It is never too late to learn," is an old adage and a good one.

Baseball managers and coaches find it hard work to teach old players new tricks. It is almost impossible to make a player shift his style of play and about as difficult to correct a player's manner of batting.

Players who make a voluntary effort to improve their work by changing their methods of play are few and far between.

Thus, other baseball players are able to do the same trick, but their success is not as great as Cobb's because he has all the natural qualifications necessary to make him a great player.

Take Sam Crawford, for instance. Sam is a good hitter, but he always assumes the same firm stand at the plate, swinging his black stick upward. Mortality also plants his feet and stoops to the same posture every time he goes to the plate. They have never varied his batting position since entering the major league.

Frank Baker, the Philadelphia slugger, is an example of the baseball player who is always trying to do something to improve his work.

Baker is one of the leading batters in the league, hitting around a .350 clip. Recently Baker has been trying to master the knack of hitting upward, instead of swinging at the ball with a downward chop. This accounts, in a way, for his falling off as a slugger, but once the batter masters the upward stroke he will be much more effective against certain pitchers.

His ability to change his style of batting will increase his efficiency with the bat.

If more players would try to improve their work by attempting a shift in style once in a while, figuring out play would be less mechanical.

Football

The U. N. B. Team

Frederickton Mail—Melrose joined the U. N. B. Rugby squad yesterday and worked in well with the forwards, although needing improved condition. The backs who were expected failed to appear but McGibbon and Balkan probably will be on hand today.

Joe Dugan was acting captain of the forwards in yesterday's practice and probably will remain in that position.

Johnny Katman is a regular attendant at U. N. B. practices.

According to present information, weight is to be of secondary consideration in the selection of the team.

Cricket

New York, Oct. 1.—The visiting Australian cricket team today began a two days match against a picked fifteen representing New York.

The Australians won the toss and went first to bat against the bowling of Hodgkins and Kelly.

Hockey

Will Stand By N. H. A. D.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 2.—The National Hockey Association at a special meeting last evening agreed to support the proposed new league by passing the following resolution:

"We hereby agree to stand together as a body to perpetuate hockey as the national winter game and to surround it with safeguards that will warrant public confidence in its integrity, and that each club bind itself to stand by the National Hockey Association of Canada."

The resolution was signed by Sam Lichtenhan, Vancouver; Montreal; George Kennedy, Canadiens, Montreal; Martin Ross, Montreal; Ottawa; P. C. Robinson, Toronto; Toronto; W. J. Bellingham, Tecumseh, Toronto; and M. J. Quinn, Quebec, Quebec.

The Quebec club announced that it would stick by the old league, and though the new organization is fighting hard for existence, the N. H. A. men believe that it will never materialize. All the clubs say they have signed their players and the N. H. A. will be a six club with a double schedule. There were two applications for membership, North Bay and Saint Ste. Marie, but neither was accepted.

MORNING LOCALS

Franny McGowan of Bridge street, fell in Prince William street last night and dislocated his shoulder, besides receiving other minor injuries. He was removed to the hospital.

At a meeting of the Longshoremen's Union last night Frederick Hyatt presided. Plans for the winter were discussed. The agreement of the city to build a shelter and of the C. P. R. to heat it, was considered satisfactory.

The firm of Barton, Mayhew & Co., chartered accountants of London, Eng., will open their first Canadian office in St. John, and will also open offices in Montreal, Vancouver and some of the other larger cities.

The name of Professor Cutter, of the MacDonald College, Que., has been mentioned as possible successor to W. W. Hubbard, who vacated the office of secretary of agriculture in New Brunswick, yesterday.

A LOST RACE

"Oh, yes," said Mrs. Smith, "my husband is an enthusiastic archeologist. And I never knew it till yesterday. I found in his desk some curious tickets with the inscription, 'Mudhorse, 8 to 1.' And when I asked him what they were, he explained to me that they were relics of a lost race. Isn't it interesting?"

JOHN T. BRUSH IS PRINCIPAL OWNER OF THE NEW YORK GIANTS

New York, Oct. 2.—John T. Brush, the principal owner of the National League pennant winners, will see his team battle for the third time for the world's championship, an honor attained in 1903 by defeating the Athletics.

Mr. Brush's health is not robust. He usually watches the games from his auto, which is run on the diamond.

Surgical Case In Spain With a Remarkable Sequel

Madrid, Oct. 2.—The ancient proverb, "Necessity is the mother of invention," was never better exemplified than in the remarkable case of Tadeo Pereda, once a soldier in Alhambra, near Cartagena.

Pereda awoke one day slightly hoarse, and his affliction became steadily worse, until his breathing became seriously affected, and his wife accompanied him to Madrid to consult a specialist.

Doctor Tapia made a lengthy examination of the patient, and communicated his impressions to the wife much after this fashion: "Your husband has a cancer in the larynx. Without an operation he will surely die; if he is operated upon we can save his life, but he will remain dumb, because it will be necessary to remove the vocal chords."

Surgical intervention was decided upon.

This morning at 6 o'clock at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Edward McLean, son of John McLean, was married to Miss Mary Riley, daughter of John Riley, the Rev. Father O'Keefe officiating. The bride was unattended. She was dressed in a charming tailor-made suit of brown broadcloth with white beaver hat with pale blue French plumes. She carried a handsome bouquet of cream bridal roses. The groom's present to the bride was a substantial cheque. On their return after the honeymoon, which will be spent at Boston, Mr. and Mrs. McLean will reside at 88 Spring street.
