MRS. KING ENTERTAINS.
Ottawa Journal: Mrs. J. H. King received Monday afternoon at her residence, 190 Somerset street. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. G. T. Baird of Andover, and by Mrs. Thomas A. Low, of Renfrew. Mrs. William Duff presided at the tea table, which was attractive with spring flowers, and assisting were Miss Helen Low and Miss Beatrice McKinnon. In the evening Mrs. King held a delightfully informal reception. Mrs. J. A. McKenzie sang several charming solos and Mrs. John Millar contributed some pleasing selections. Gustave Heldman and Charles Watt also gave several vocal numbers. Mrs. Heidman and Mrs. W. T. Atkinson were accompanists. Mrs. Baird presided at the supper table.

Similar of the House of Commons would adjourn for Landa, was the forwhat is regarded as its lack of active policy for securing settlers.

General debate on immigration followed, being participated in by all quarters of the House. Several members urged that the problem in Canada to day was rather to make conditions better for the farmers who are already here, than to secure fresh agricultural settlers.

Private Member's Day.

Protest came from all parts of the chamber when Premier King yesterday moved his resolution to end private members day on and after Monday next.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition Leader, did not think the Government should take Monday and Wednesday. He thought that for the time being Monday should be preserved as private members day.

After further discussion the Premier agreed to amend the resolution to read "on and after March 26" and it was carried thus amended.

Hon. Dr. J. E. Hetherington, of Cody's, provincial secretary-treasurer, arrived in the city last night on his way home from Fredericton for the week-end. Hon. Fred Magee, president of the executive council, accompanied Hon. Mr. Hetherington. Hon. Mr. Magee said that the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne was concluded yesterday and that today's session would be short, being devoted to answering inquiries. He remarked the opposition members were finding the role of critics of the provincial government rather difficult owing to the excellent record of the present executive in handling the affairs of the province.

Rev. H. B. Clarke, pastor of Portland Methodist church, repeated his lecture on "With the Snowball Brigade to Vadivostok," in Centenary Hall last evening. The lecture was well attended and Mr. Clarke held the close attention of his audience throughout. A. piano solo by Mrs. Blair McLean was much enjoyed.

Initial Outlay to Newark Bandits Less Than Court's Action For His Having Gun.

New York, March 15—Andrew Ryk, of Newark, says that when it comes to being held up it isn't the initial outlay so much as upkeep that costs the money. Armed bandits stopped Ryk under the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge in Newark and assessed him for $160.
Rky told the story to Peter Casman, night foreman at the Lehigh Valley freight station nearby. Casman called the police and they asked Ryk a num-

Ryk's appearance before Judge Boetthner on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Ryk admitted he had a gun, but no permit to carry it. He added that he didn't use it anyway.

"They had two guns," he said. "Mine didn't stack up one, two, three against that display of artillery."

"Il have to fine you $200," Judge Boetthner said.

"That makes $360 net," said Ryk.

"This is the most expensive stick-up I was ever made the victim of."
