In the state of New Hampsnire, the question of good roads is under discussion, and there is some talk of adopting the convict labor system in highway construction. It is held that by pursuing this course a great deal could be accomplished at comparatively small cost. A leading official, discussing the question, expresses the given that the juil prisoners should be the view that the jail prisoners should be employed building new roads; and points is rejain $150,000 to except the for the Blind is evident that the institution is doing excellent work, and similar institutions are needed in other provinces. The Toronto World has this to say of the Guelph farm, of which Hon. Mr. Hanna told the story to the Canadian Club of St. John some months ago:

"Humanitarian work never got a greater boost than that which has been and is being accomplished by the Ontario government in the matter of prison reform. Less than two years ago the experiment of a prison farm at Guelph was put into operation. It has been an unqualified success, and yesterday Sir James Whitney laid the corner-stone of a splendid new administra-

In the Caiskill foothills a New York travelling man who was making a trip overland passed an old man who was fishing with hook and line in a small stream. As the drummer drove by in a buggy the old man never took his eyes off the bolber in the water. When the travelling man returned late in the afternoon he was greatly surprised to see the old man still in the same position, with his eyes istence in large part to the efforts of Hon. W. J. Hanna, the provincial secretary, has been proven."

As the drummer drove by in a buggy the old man never took his eyes off the bolber in the water. When the travelling man returned late in the afternoon he was greatly surprised to see the old man still in the same position, with his eyes glued on the bolber. "Hello, uncle!" he shouted. "Any luck today?" Without taking his gaze off the cork which rested on the surface of the placid stream, the old man replied—"Had a nibble 'long about noon."
