ANOTHER CHANCE TO GET A CYCLOPEDIA

Copies Will Be Ready Thursday and Friday at the Office of The Telegraph and Times.

For several weeks The Telegraph and Times have been distributing Everybody's Cyclopedias on the popular coupon plan. Thousands of readers have taken advantage of the great offer and many enthusiastic letters are now being received in praise of the beautiful and useful set. It is a work that should be in every library or on a convenient shelf in every home and office, for it contains useful information that you want on the instant.

Everybody's Cyclopedias is complete in five beautiful volumes, bound in English cloth. The regular selling price is $12 a set, but next Thursday and Friday readers of The Telegraph and Times can have the complete set for $1.99 and one coupon.

The price of the large cyclopedias sets is usually so high, $50 to $100, that they are invariably sold on the installment plan. The publishers of Everybody's Cyclopedias took advantage of these facts, and from a revision of all these large, various cyclopedias they have compiled all that is good and necessary, merely eliminating or condensing that which is only of interest to the specialist or technical student.

The sets are too bulky to be sent by mail, but out of town readers can have them for $1.99, by sending to be sent by express, shipping charges to be paid by the receiver.

A coupon printed on page 9 in this paper every day. Clip it and present it next Thursday or Friday.

TWELVE MONTHS HARD LABOR FOR POLICEMAN

Yielded to Temptation on Finding Store Door Open at Night and Took Watch

Ernest Granger, aged 25, a police constable of St. Helens, Eng., was charged with burglariously entering the confectionery shop of Thomas Middlehurst and stealing gold watches and a diamond ring. For the prosecution, Landon Riley, for the prosecution, said that on the night of November 9 Mr. Middlehurst himself locked his shop door before going to bed. A little after one o'clock on the following morning he heard a knocking below and on going downstairs found Granger, in his uniform, with his lantern shining. Granger told him he had found that the premises were not secured and then went away. Next morning Mr. Middlehurst missed a gold watch. Subsequently Granger was charged by a superior officer and after denying that he had any knowledge of the watch took an inspector to his house and produced the watch from a waistcoat pocket, saying: "I found the premises insecure and had to rouse the occupants of it. I saw the watch lying on the sideboard and yielded to a sudden temptation."

In cross-examination, Mr. Middlehurst admitted that the door of the shop was locked by merely closing it, and that he might have told the prisoner before the magistrate that he "thought" he had fastened the door but the lock was "a faulty one and liable to slip." It was true he had been aroused once or twice before in the night by the police because the door was open.

The accused, giving evidence, on oath, said that he had been on the police force three and a half years. Before that he was a Coldstream Guards, and earlier still a clerk in the Army and Navy Stores. It was not true that he forced

HERE IS THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE

While looking forward to health and long life it is possible that you are unaware of the conditions necessary to attain beautiful old age. Careful eating, and consequently preservation of the health and vitality of the digestive and excretory organs, is of the greatest importance.

Overeating is the usual cause of torpid, sluggish liver action, and when the liver fails additional work is thrown on the kidneys and they break down. Kidney disorders are the great source of suffering in old age. Rheumatism, bodily pains, aching arms and legs, backache and lumbago are the result.

By the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels, as occasion requires, you not only overcome the suffering, inconvenience and unpleasantness of attacks of biliousness, indigestion and constipation, but you actually prolong life by keeping these organs in good, healthful condition. This medicine is a wonderful source of comfort for people in old age.

DOUGLAS AVENUE CHURCH EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

The congregations at the evangelistic meetings conducted by Evangelist Lowell C. McPherson in the Douglas Avenue Christian Church are trying the capacity and being open to the knowledge of the Holy Spirit. The meetings will continue over next Sunday, Last evening Mr. McPherson preached on "Christian Self-Respect." Reading from Acts 21 he recounted of the Apostle Paul's arrest. Mr. McPherson said in part:

"If ever a true, brave, wise, broad-minded, great-hearted man lived on this earth he was Paul, the Apostle of Our Lord. Paul never forgot his great commission nor lowered his dignity, yet he always was seeking and coming in contact with men. Some men may seem great until they have to do with their fellow men. Then they prove their little ness. Not so Paul.

"Friends we must respect ourselves in that high sense of being conscientious and being open to the knowledge of the truth. "Again we should respect our families, "Marriage is honorable in all," says the Holy Spirit. So often there is a contest in the heart of a man between his loved ones and the damnable attractions of saloons and clubhouses and other such things. It does not take long for a self-respecting man to decide which side shall win in his heart. If he has lost his manhood, then his family loses out.

"Again we should respect our friends. "Friendship is a sacred trust. Friends should be sincere and just. Honesty befits them." The man who deserves not friends is bathosomic. Does he not respect himself by respecting his friends?

THE EVERYDAY HERO

There's a Dago wife in Italy
Who's dreary an' lone an' sad,
There's a couple of kids in Italy,
Keep aakin' about their dad:
An' the money that Joe Pinassa sent
It never will come again,
While Joe's insurance is fighting in court
By Yankee insurance men.

It was down in the West Coast mine
Which may be known to you,
That John Lubik had gone to his room
As the pit-boss told him to.
But the damp got thick an' his light
Went out.
An' he fell in the darkness there,
An' Joe Pinassa brought him down
To the drift an' the good, clean air.

"I got him," he said as he laid him
down,
An' that was all he said,
For without a gasp he swayed a bit
An' fell in a huddle, dead;
So we took him up on the rattlin' cage,
An' we buried him down on the flat,
An' I reckon his soul is up above
Where the souls of the brave are at.

Now Joe he didn't know Lubik's name
An' he never had seen his face,
But he saved his life as a matter of course.
An' gave his own in its place.
So Lubik lives and Joe is dead
—They said that his heart was weak—
But he went the route fer his feller man
An' he hadn't no yellor streak.

Well, Joe was insured, but it come to light,
That the company wouldn't pay,
An' Joe's friends sued fer the sake of the kids.
An' the wife that was far away,
But the company said, in a legal form,
When the doin's in court began,
That Joe he took a "needless risk,"
In savin' his feller man.

Now I don't know much about law an'
such,
An' I don't want to know no more,
But I reckon when them insurance men
Gets up on the judgment floor,
That plea of theirs won't stand,
When met by the sobs of some Dago kids.
An' a widow in Dago land.

Boiled Cod, Cream Sauce

After carefully cleaning a fresh cod-fish place in a kettle of salted cold water. When it begins to boil let it boil fast for 15 minutes, then boil slowly until done. Take out and remove skin. Make a cream sauce by putting 1/2 cup butter into a stew pan. When melted blend in 1 tablespoon of flour, brown and stir in a cup of cream, add a pinch of salt and pepper and serve with the fish.

of St. John be socially, morally, commercially were it not that some others persist in their loyalty to the Church of God in their prayers, attendance, giving of their means and time and talent? This evening Mr. McPherson expects to preach on the subject: "Your home, your boy, your girl."

Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. Give a teaspoonful and in just a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food, clogged in the bowels, passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless fruit laxative and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on each bottle.
