Our Annual Holiday.

EXCURSION AND PIC-NIC. In accordance with a proclamation issued by the Mayor, Tuesday was observed by all sses of our citizens as a general holiday. The stores and other places of business were closed, and all seemed to have made up their minds to enjoy themselves. Through the exertions of Mr A. Being asked by the Conductor for his ticket, the lad, fearing the passengers, proceeded to the scene of the supposed accident, in search of the body .-During the absence of the searchers the greatest consternation prevailed among the passengers-everybody supposing, of course. that the lad was killed. Strange to say, however, the boy was found uninjured, and walking leisurly on the track. This fool-hardy act of the youth caused a delay of about twenty minutes; but it was a relief to all on board the train to learn that the boy escaped not only with his life but uninjured.
