ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 19, 1902.

CHURCH WORK.

"The clergy must live among the people, going in and out of their houses," says the Bishop of Liverpool, England, in a recently delivered address.

"Get down out of your pulpits and preach in the streets as Jesus did," said Rev. Chas. M. Sheldon in his talk to the St. John clergymen on Monday.

That the church is the greatest instrument for good known to civilization is an axiom. Is the church waking to the fact that it may do still more for the betterment of humanity—that its present methods are inadequate to enable it to fill the place its founder intended it to fill? His were no massive temples. No lofty liturgy; no deep-toned music added their solemn emphasis to the words He spoke. No robe of black nor snowy surplice marked Him as one apart from the multitude. The streets of the city, the quiet country wayside, the uplifting cedar covered hill slopes and the sandy lake shores where the fisher people drew up their boats were His pulpits, and it is written of Him that He went about doing good.

Going to church uplifts, clarifies, inspires and in every way makes for the better of all who do go. But there are myriads who never see the inside of a place of worship, and statistics show that the number is growing. The world was never more cultured, more refined, more progressive, better educated than it is today, but is it more godly than in the days when Christianity was not a matter of course? These people who do not go to church, who hear of nothing above their own sordid living ways from New Years till Christmas time—what shall the church do for these?

This is the problem that is confronting Christianity today, and Christianity is going far toward the answering of it. Men in every branch of Christian work are rousing and reaching out for wider opportunities to propagate the gospel in which they believe and which it is their duty to preach to every people. In his defense of the Salvation Army, General Booth offers simply the fact that it has made religion where none was before. And the justification is more than sufficient. Shall the work of reaching the mass of the people whose number and whose carelessness are on the swift increase be left to the army?

THE TELEGRAPH.

The Telegraph has for a time abandoned its eager search for the "main body," and its playful allusions to Dare Devil Dug. The public should not infer from this fact that the editors have wholly given up the quest or the habit. The explanation of their silence is that they have struck a new trail and are hot on the heels of the forger of the Rotherham lists. His capture is believed to be imminent, and the event will be hailed with head lines across the whole of the first page of the Telegraph, and an editorial three columns wide in poster type. But even when this great feat has been accomplished the editors will not immediately return to the trail of the "main body" of Dare Devil Dug's followers. They have another little matter in hand, and must give it their earliest possible attention. A libel suit entered against the Frederick Gleason is reported to have got away from its keepers and is causing grave trouble. Unless it is captured soon it may encounter the "frost" that is going about with Dare Devil Dug and lose itself in a snow-bank. By the time this matter has been dealt with some new editors will be due, and there is no telling what will happen afterwards.

An order in council has been passed appointing Frank Pedley, superintendent of immigration, to be deputy superintendent general of Indian affairs. He will take charge in a few days.

Mr. Pedley is the able official who denied that there was any frenzy among the Doukhobors, and who asserted that all was peace and happiness among them, even when some fifteen or sixteen hundred were on a mad pilgrimage to Yorkton. If Mr. Pedley displays the same incapacity for finding out what is going on among the Indians as he has done in the affair of the Douks, he will make a record for himself and a lot of trouble for the country.

Of the British lumber market the Timber Trades Journal of Nov. 8th says:—"In contrast with the firm market for whitewood from all the European sources of supply, spruce has developed a slight weakness in the narrow sizes in the Liverpool market, due to the large stocks on hand in Liverpool and Manchester. Shippers, however, maintain a firm attitude as to prices, and surrounding circumstances in Canada point even to an advance next season."

The following paragraph from the Portland Press is perhaps applicable to St. John as well as the Maine city: A visitation of small pox is certainly among the probabilities this winter. The disease is all around us and it will be little less than miraculous if we escape altogether. Of course the first thing to do is to see that all the people are vaccinated. Vaccination will more successfully ward off the disease than anything else. Considering the general vaccination of last winter there ought to be little difficulty in getting practically the whole population protected as far as vaccination will protect them.

AT GLAD TIDINGS HALL.

First Winter Meeting Held Last Evening—A Large Attendance of Boys.

There were a lot of happy faces at Glad Tidings hall, Brunses street, last evening, when the first gathering of the winter was held. There was between 140 and 150 boys present, also a number of ladies and gentlemen, who have taken a great interest in the boys of that district and last winter did much to make their lives happier and teach them to grow up good, honest men.

Rev. Mr. Delinast, pastor of the Exmouth Street Church, presided, and was assisted by Rev. Mr. Campbell of Centenary and a score of ladies, who provided refreshments. After a hymn and the Lord's Prayer, a short musical and literary programme was carried out as follows: Song, Miss Clarence Kilpatrick; recitation, Blanch Hillard; solo, Gordon Stevens; recitation, Miss Edith Maxwell; recitation, Miss Nellie Sandall; song, Miss Jennie Trepanier; address by George Jenkins, Rev. G. M. Campbell and Alderman Maxwell.

Rev. Mr. Delinast read to the boys a temperance pledge which, he said, it was his intention at some future meeting, when an organization had been effected, to ask them to sign. He asked all who would sign the pledge to hold up their hands, and a very large number did so. A short happy address and pointed out to the boys the benefits of leading a strictly temperate life. In concluding, he stated that the time had passed when a man, young or old, could occupy a public position, or one of trust, who was not strictly temperate.

The several numbers on the programme and the addresses were received with enthusiastic applause.

At the conclusion of the programme, coffee, cake and biscuit were served in abundance. The boys were well pleased with the programme and supper, and the ladies and gentlemen delighted at the number in attendance and the manner in which they conducted themselves. Rev. Mr. Delinast remarked that they behaved quite as well as a gathering of that many preachers would have done. It is the intention of the gentlemen to organize a temperance society, a club, and perhaps several classes, the work to be carried on under the auspices of the Methodist churches of the city.

COAL INQUIRY.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 18.—President Mitchell, for the fourth successive day, occupied the witness stand during the two sessions of the strike commission and was cross-examined by three attorneys for as many coal companies. While a considerable amount of information for the enlightenment of the public was brought out, the day was a rather quiet one, compared with those which have preceded it. The arbitrators are growing restless in consequence of the long cross-examination, which apparently does not bring out the facts as quickly as the commission would like to have them presented. Several times during the course of today's session Chairman Gray reminded the attorneys of the value of time and suggested that cross-examination be limited to new features of those questions that have already been gone over.

Mr. Mitchell is showing signs of weakness from the strain of the cross-examination, which has lasted since Friday. The commissioners today for the first time entered into the discussion with the lawyers and the witness over disputed points which arose from time to time.

Mr. McVeagh, who began his cross-examination of Mr. Mitchell on Saturday, concluded at 11 o'clock today. The distinguished attorney centred most of his energies in trying to break down the miners' reasons for asking for a yearly agreement with the companies on hours of labor, wages and other conditions, which it made, would be recognition of the union. Mr. McVeagh's principal aim throughout his questioning of Mr. Mitchell was to show that the Mine Workers' Union because of alleged acts of intimidation, violence and the use of the boycott by its members, proved itself unfit to be a party to a contract. Mr. Mitchell would not admit, nor even assume for the sake of illustrating points that a reign of terror existed in the anthracite fields during the last six months.

The recognition of the union is looked upon as the most important question before the commission, and it is quite evident from the trend of the proceedings thus far that the companies will oppose it to their utmost ability.

Pottinger and Price left for Kingston, Ont., tonight to inspect new locomotives for the Intercolonial. Great regret is expressed in political circles at the news of the death of Mr. Maxwell, M. P. for Burrard. Although a strong liberal, he had many friends on the conservative side, who admired him for his scholarly attainments. Mr. Maxwell was educated for a Presbyterian minister and resigned a pastoral charge in Vancouver when he first became a candidate for the house of commons.

Lt. Col. Pinault, deputy minister of militia, has gone to British Columbia to inspect the defence as Esquimaux. The dominion government proposes to take these works over as part of its contribution to dominion defence. Prefontaine says he will devote special attention to improving the navigation of the St. Lawrence, so that the route will be as safe at night as in the day.

The composition of the commission charged with the revision of the federal status is as follows: Sir Henry Strong, chairman; E. L. Newcombe, deputy minister of justice; A. Power, E. D. Cameron, Ottawa; W. E. Roscoe, Kentville, N. S.; Thomas Metcalf, Winnipeg; L. P. Sirois, Quebec; Henry Robertson, Collingwood. There will be two secretaries, Chas. Murphy of Ottawa and H. St. Louis of Montreal. A complete baking outfit will be taken to the Japan exhibition to demonstrate the superiority of Canadian flour.

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—The telegraphers' grievance committee was in conference with Mr. Price of the I. C. R. until a late hour tonight and good progress was made toward a mutual understanding. Owing to Messrs. Pottinger and Price having to go to Kingston, the final meeting will be held in Montreal on Thursday.

Mr. Campbell, vice-president of the O. T. and the Sun correspondent that he was negotiating an agreement would be reached. The concessions to the I. C. R. telegraphers are believed to be of a substantial character, owing to the able manner in which the committee presented the claims of the operators.

According to advices which have reached the department of Reer, France the exports of cheese and butter from Canada this year promise to make a record. When the season closes, the value of these products shipped to England and abroad will total thirty million dollars. The cold curing rooms have been a success, although a remedy to overcome the dampness settling on cheese is still to be devised.

REV. MR. STEEN'S LECTURE.

The enterprise of the Church of England Institute in bringing Rev. Frederick J. Steen from Montreal to lecture in the York Theatre on Thursday evening should be rewarded by a generous sale of tickets. Mr. Steen is a comparatively unknown man in St. John, though the Cathedral is crowded Sunday by Sunday to hear him preach. He is indeed freshly spoken of as the first preacher in Montreal. But Mr. Steen is more than eloquent. He is a man of great scholarship, and one who is certain to take a prominent part in moulding the religious life of coming years. His lecture, "The Ancient Egyptians, has been most favorably received in Montreal, the Marine Academy of Arts being filled month after month to listen to his eloquence. The limelight shows alone will amply repay any one who secures a seat for Thursday. See advt.

S. OF T. CONCERT IN NORTH END.

A well attended concert took place in Union Hall, north end, last evening, under the auspices of Loyalist Division, S. of T. No. 431. The chair was occupied by Col. A. J. Armstrong, who, at the beginning of the entertainment, made a short address suitable to the occasion.

After the chairman's address, the following programme was rendered: Mr. Ritchie, solo; Mr. Goudie, violin solo; Miss Lillian McGormann, recitation; Mr. Ross, piccolo selection; Mr. McGormann, monologue; Miss Ingram, recitation; Mr. Nixon, whistling solo; Misses McMaster and Fitch, duet; Mr. Kelly, solo; Messrs McGormann, Donald, Stevens and Sullivan, dialogue.

HALIFAX EXHIBITION.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 18.—The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Exhibition Association was held tonight. The receipts were $35,571 and the expenditure $29,317. The admissions to grand stand were $6,650. The auditors in their report say that the increase in the receipts of $7,263 over the previous year is mainly attributable to the favorable weather, to keeping the exhibition open for one day longer and to the increase in the speed entries of $783.

SEAMEN'S MISSION ENTERTAINMENT.

A large number of tickets have already been sold for the night with Dickens. Such a deserving charity as the Seamen's Mission must stand to all the community, and Mr. Harris' kindness in giving the readings ought to be appreciated by a full house. Everything points that way. Tickets on sale at Nelson's book store.

TRURO, N. S., Nov. 18.—Morton McNutt was convicted today of shooting with intent to kill. He fired at and wounded his wife and mother-in-law and then himself. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Any doubts as to the Douks being mentally disordered may now be dismissed. They want to go to Turkey. Lying may be wicked, but it is still fashionable.

Nods of the congregation don't always express approval of the sermon. A man is not in a calm condition when he finds it impossible to raise the wind.

Enough whiskey is made in Kentucky every day to float a steamship—but, of course, it never gets a chance to do it.

The average man has a brother-in-law in the insurance business.

Who tells malicious lies to us? Is bad enough forsooth, But far more maddening is the cuss Who tells malicious truth.

It takes a lot of liquids to make one solid with the boys in an Ontario election, calls an Upper Canadian contemporary. Ontario need not puff itself up on that account. Thirst is not watered there.

Why not let Captain Bernier take the Douks to the North Pole? suggests the Montreal Star. That is a little corner of the world where they would not be bothered with man's laws or comforts, and would find God's laws of nature quite noticeable.

"My love for you," he wrote, "is so deep, so vast, so powerful, I cannot express it." "Why don't you send it by freight?" she wrote back. And then it was all off.—Philadelphia Record.

A soldier who has just returned from the war and is the temporary hero of his village, in Wiltshire, England, went to Sunday morning service at the local Baptist church. The minister, observing him among the congregation, promptly proceeded to pray for him.
