BAPTIST UNION TO DATE HAS BEEN SATISFACTORY

Not as Much Friction as W-Anticipated, While the Benefits Have Been Greater
---Some Few Kickers Still Remain.

During the time the Baptist Association has been in progress here the Star has interviewed a considerable number of the ministers, comprising former Baptists and Free Baptists, on the results, thus far, of its recently effected church union. The consensus of ly expected that the union of the two bodies would for a time produce some friction. While there has been some slight discord brought about by the forcing into the union of a few whose being introduced into the union of a few whose bodies were not yet ready to be separated from brotherhood to see the general gain that may be derived from the plan, there has been no serious opposition. The churches that have been looked for under the circumstances. In certain villages and small towns, where the churches are few, the churches are kept apart by the antibothness of one or two members of the churches, who have been recently built at a considerable cost, the people of the churches are not yet ready to uniting in worship with other bodies, though they may be favorably disposed to do so. In some of the of course there is to be found in many of the churches a few of the other members, who have a strong tending the one church, scarcely ever coming to the other. In some of the have come to regard it as their church home. It is not an unnatural thing to find a church that is not usually to that church where they had heard the gospel preached for so many years, and where they have been they had so oft assembled for prayer and thanksgiving. They have no strong feeling against the other churches, but merely feel that this and no other is their church. It is only a matter of time, when the churches are separated, have passed to their well earned rest, and this class of opposition will be reduced to a minimum.

The district meetings that have been held since the union took place have been successful. The churches have attended. Strangers could not tell by sitting down at the meetings that there were two separate bodies. Judging from what has been accomplished in the past year, it is not probable that any opposition can be made by imperfect men. Only a few respectable members will be reand since the union took place have been the cause of much suffering to God. Strangers could not tell by attending their devotional and business meetings that they had ever formed a union. The only thing that has been accomplished in the past year the union will be as perfect as it can be. The members of the church and a few respectable funerals will be required and no Unionist is praying for them to take place until it pleases the Lord. The Union Church and the Union will be complete.

The ministers claim that God has been blessing the Union Church by giving prosperity to the churches during the past year, such as they had never known before. In the association of the churches, the people were prevailed throughout all the meetings. No discordant voices were heard in any of the churches. The presence of the spiritual power marked all the work of the association. The presence of Hughes, John Noble and John Perry, was much appreciated by the association and they appeared to take a lively interest in every detail of the work.

WILL ERECT A MONUMENT IN HONOR OF ZOLA

PARIS, July 13.—The municipal council of Paris today adopted a resolution to name a principal street Emile Zola, in recognition of the late novelist's defence of protes. The council rejected a resolution directing the court of assizes to prosecute General Mercier.

The city council of Le Mais has directed the erection of a monument to Zola.

The council of the department of Bouches Du Rhone has adopted a reso-

A public demonstration at the tomb of Zola is announced for July 19.

SAILORS ARE SCARGE AND VESSELS ARE BEING DELAYED

The scarcity in this province of men for sea-going vessels is great and a large number of vessels have been detained from going to sea at their scheduled time on account of not being

This scarcity seems to extend to other ports as well as St. John. Shipping men here are daily receiving requests from other ports to send seamen to them. A prominent agent in this city received communication three days ago from Calais, Me., asking him to procure a book for a schooner sailing from that port. This shipping man has been searching the city ever since he received this communication, but as yet has not been able to locate a suitable

The wages which are being paid for seamen are twenty-five dollars, and for cooks and mates for the coasting schooners thirty to forty dollars per month.
