GERMANY HAS JUMPED TO
SECOND PLACE

Outdistances France and United States in Race for Naval Supremacy, and makes great gains on England.

JAPAN MAKING
LITTLE PROGRESS

Washington, Nov. 10.—Navy officials were surprised when it was officially announced by the office of naval intelligence that the fighting sea strength of the eight powers of the world shows that Germany has jumped from fourth place—passing France and the United States—and taken second place behind Great Britain. The table gives the naval situation on Nov.
Not only has Germany eclipsed France within the last year and made great gains on Great Britain, but she has outdistanced the United States in shipbuilding.

Japan's Gains.
Another feature of the statement is that Japan, which has been reported as making great strides, has increased her completed tonnage less than 30, 000 tons and her tonnage under construction by less than 50,000 during the last year. The United States has lost some tonnage. She has dropped from 685,426 tons to 682,785 in a year.
Russia, Italy and Austria remain below Japan in the order named. The following tables show the relative strength of the nations:

	In Service	Tons	Tons
Great Britain	1,669,005	1,758,350
United States	685,426	682,785
Germany	524,573	609,700
France	428,882	602,920
Japan	371,891	396,368
Russia	240,043	259,263
Italy	114,250	114,897
Austria	148,350	167,297

Great Britain Conservative.
Great Britain is building 247,323 tons and Germany 210,952 tons. This is the biggest building programme in the history of the German navy, even outranking the amount under construction by England last year. England has been conservative for a few years, but last year, when she learned that Germany had suddenly advanced eight battleships of the Dreadnought type, she advanced eleven. The United States which already had two, the Michigan and South Carolina, advanced two during the year. The last two, making eight in all, are not yet laid down. The United States is building 102,902 tons, which is the heaviest programme ever yet carried by this Government, although more battleships of the Dreadnought type, ships were under construction at one time immediately following the Spanish-American War.

France is building 162,986 tons, Japan, 93,326, Russia 152,987, Italy 89,481, 780 and Austria 52,400 tons. While France dropped back last year in actual tonnage at sea, and Russia did little, both are now carrying heavy construction.

In the official and enlisted personnel England leads, as always, with 128,552. United States is second with 55,548. France comes next with 17,171, Germany has 54,067 and Japan 48,455.

NEW YORK BUILDING
WILL NOT COLLAPSE

Engineers Declare That $12,- 000 Will Make Habitable in Two Weeks Criminal Courts Building.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 10.—The engineers who have been examining the Criminal Courts Building since last Thursday handed in their report yesterday afternoon. It says:
"The building is unsafe and dangerous in the following respects: There has been a long continued movement of the foundation, particularly on the east side, which movement has been more rapid during the last three months than previously. This has resulted in disturbing the structure of the building, particularly in the interior stone courts, so that there is danger that some of this material may fall out, and it has resulted in a further development of old cracks on the north and south exterior walls and a loosening of material in some of the openings. The movement has resulted in the breaking of the water pipes." Engineer Nelson P. Lewis was asked if he would explain just what this report meant.
"It means as we state," he said, "that there is danger to be apprehended from the interior of the building as it now is, but the exterior is in no immediate danger of falling. There will have to be a lot of work done on the building and this work ought to be completed in ten days or two weeks."

ENGLAND IS TO KEEP THE FAMOUS HOLBEIN

London, Nov. 10.—The officers of the National Art Collections Fund announced today that they have raised the £70,000 ($350,000) necessary to complete the purchase of Holbein's famous portrait of Christina of Denmark, Duchess of Milan, which he painted for Henry VIII.
The picture will be presented to the National Gallery.

MR. MONK IS
ARRAIGNED BY
OTTAWA PAPER

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 10.—The Journal this evening treats Mr. Monk's speech with great vigor. It says in part:
"Mr. Monk has been so futile as a political leader that his temperance has been so obviously one which never responds to, nor stirs waves of popular feeling, his lack of political force and political insight, his lack of his opposition to any national current is likely to be a good sign of the strength of that current."

Outbreak Laid to Isvolksky-Achrenthal Quarrel—Revolt in Azerbaijan, Close to Czar's Italian Visit.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—Russia is preparing to witness the second round of the duel between M. Isvolksky, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Baron von Achrenthal, the Austrian Foreign Minister. The former had scarcely announced that his interviews with Rasconigli with Italian statesmen had succeeded in establishing friendly relations between Russia and Italy in the Balkans and elsewhere around Turkish territory than the crisis in the affairs of Turkey's neighbors, Persia and Greece, were suddenly brought to a head.

It is northern Persia's relapse into chaos that chiefly concerns Russia.
Her frontier officials have been obliged to pretend to cooperate with Sat-tar Khan as Governor of Persia's northwest province. Azerbaijan, adjoining the Turkish boundary and populated largely by Turkish Kurds.

A Brigand.
The Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs described Sattar Khan as a brigand until it had to recognize him as the executive officer of the new regime at Teheran. His overthrow by rival chieftains, who are nominally champions of the ex-Shah, leaves Azer-bajan, where numerous Russian transcaspian have their permanent abodes, in such a position that Russian military occupation of its northern districts during the winter seems certain.

The Teheran authorities say they cannot send an adequate force to protect the outlying towns because they have no money. Moreover, the new regime is content to let the principle of not raising loans without the consent of the parliament, which will not meet until the end of next week. Already more than half the members are retained in regions remote from the capital by the tribesmen, who are not so much against the new regime as against any control from Teheran.
The deadlock is completed by Russia's refusal to grant not to lend money to Persia except under the latter's constitutional guarantee.

Want Protection.
In any case Russian opinion will insist upon the protection of the Russians in Northern Persia, even at the risk of Turkey protesting against the menace of a Russian occupation at Teheran. It is realized that Austro-German influence at Constantinople will be used to make Russia's position more difficult.

St. Petersburg society is witnessing a manifestation of the personal bitterness between M. Isvolksky and Baron von Achrenthal. The former, unlike a majority of the leading men in Russia, has a decided leaning toward highly titled people. In order to gratify this weakness Baron von Achrenthal made it a practice to fill the Austrian Embassy with Princes, Serene Highnesses, and other persons of high rank.
The first degree, who dutifully attended Isvolksky's social receptions. Since the latter's quarrel with Baron von Ach-renthal over the latter's coup in the Balkans, the Austrian Embassy has been steadily denuded of aristocrats, who have been replaced by untitled functionaries in routine branches of the Austrian consular service.

Excites Contempt.
London, Nov. 10.—If the truth is to be said, the attitude of the British course of events in Greece excites a great deal of contempt and exasperation throughout Europe. The complicated comedy that is being played in the little kingdom might be regarded with indifference if it were purely domestic. There is serious danger, however, that the crisis may at any moment cause grave international complications.

There are ample indications that King George's patience is well nigh exhausted. He would have resigned the throne in disgust several days ago, but for an urgent telegraphic appeal from King Edward. The foreign tutelage of Greece is nominally in the hands of England, Russia and France only, and these Powers are in complete accord, but it is a foregone conclusion that Germany, Austria and Turkey would intervene in behalf of their special interests should the throne become vacant in the present circumstances.

The problems which would then arise would be of a most dangerous and the outcome would be exceedingly uncertain.

BRIAND MAKES GOOD

Proves Himself a Worthy Successor to M. Clemenceau by Scoring Big Victory in Important Debate.

Paris, Nov. 10.—M. Briand proved himself a worthy successor to M. Clemenceau this evening by scoring a distinct victory in the fight over the proposed changes in the method of voting. Briand had spoken against the suggested reforms in the ballot a fortnight ago, and when the question came up in the Chamber of Deputies this evening, there was a sharp debate.
The first part of the article replaced the scrutin d'arrondissement, or voting by districts, by the scrutin de liste, or mass system of voting. This was adopted by a majority of 237.

After the adverse vote was announced, Briand intervened. He was opposed he said, to changes of such a radical nature on the eve of the elections.
